Lancaster Holstein Breeders Fellowship At Field Day

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

PARADISE (Lancaster Co.)—The combination of beautifully pedigreed registered Holsteins on a meticulously manicured farm and a ride on the Strasburg Railroad that runs 900 feet from the barn, provided a well-received day of fellowship at the Lancaster County Holstein Field Day. After a train ride in the morning, the county breeders and their families came back to Jack and Donna Coleman's Cherry-Crest Farm to judge three classes of dairy animals in competion for prizes, had a noon meal under the trees on the lawn, and listened to several speakers including Steve Kerr, CEO and executive secretary of the National Holstein Association.

"I have always looked at the National Holstein Association as an organization of people who like to market animals," Kerr said. "Yes, they like to breed animals, but all dairy farmers in a sense breed animals. But what really pulls our people together is the fact that they like to market genetics in one fashion or another.

"I try to keep our eyes on what activities will help our members market," Kerr said. "This has a special meaning as margins on the farm become tighter. Most Holstein breeders make plenty of milk, but they also look at their farm enterprise and ask where they can squeeze more out of their operations. Obviously that means selling genetics."

Kerr listed various changes in programs and circumstances at the National Holstein Association. They include the new qualified herd book; new methods of animal identification; a system in addition to index numbers to help rate animal pedigrees; additional information on pedigrees; and new packaging for sire summaries and herd mating programs.

The new qualified herd book now has 7,000 animals registerd and is working along side the registered herd book. Kerr said qualified animals are now being shown. Since the "lion's share" of dairy animals is the grade population, hopefully, the qualified registry will generate a little interest in the grade cow herds. Canada has a distinction between purebreds and QE animals but they don't make a big deal about it because they want to sell animals.

"With the dairy animal population now down to 10 million and

On Thursday night, Peter Hoffines paraded his grand champion market steer, a 1,285-pound Maine Anjou/Angus/Simmental cross named Tyrone, to a supreme animal championship at the Elizabethtown Fair.

Judges Select Steer E-Town Supreme Animal

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — "I wasn't expecting any of this," said Peter Hoffines, as he marched his 1,285-pound champion market steer out of the ring.

Moments before, the 18-year-old son of Bob and Linda Hoffines, Marietta, was awarded supreme champion animal of the Elizabethtown Fair on Thursday evening with his 1,285-pound Maine Anjou/Angus/Simmental cross named Tyrone.

Peter, who will be traveling in November to help represent the state in FFA judging competition at the National FFA Convention, has won four years in a row at the fair. But this is his first supreme animal crown.

Judge Kelley Shearer of the Pennsylvania Beef Council said the well-muscled steer "puts everything together in a real neat package" and will provide many "high-priced cuts."

Peter competed against an array of grand champion animals at the contest, including the swine champion shown by Linda Baum,

Sellers Brothers Share 4-H Swine Roundup

THOMASVILLE (York Co.) — Let the pigs do the exercising, rather than the pig project owners.

That's the philosophy of York 4-H swine exhibitors Adam and Matt Sellers. And it's an approach that apparently works.

The Thomasville brothers brought their allowable limit of three pigs each to the county's first summer roundup and sale, and carted off five first places. Adam, 13, then won the roundup championship with his 230-pound purebred Duroc market hog entry, purchased from White Oaks Farm.

Matt, 17, earned the reserve champion honors with his 245-pound Duroc-crossbred entry, bred by Dave Myers, Wellsville.

Hatfield Packing Company held out as final bidder on the two top pigs. Buyer Ezra Good made the final $2.60 per pound price offer on Adam's champion, and won the reserve champion bid with a $1.40 per pound nod.

"We keep our pigs on a hilled pasture," said Matt of the brothers' technique for growing lean, muscled, judge-pleasing swine. "The feed is at the top of the hill and the shade is at the bottom. We let them do their own exercising."

Adam and Matt are the sons of Phil and Shirley Sellers, Thomasville. Selection of their project pigs at the beginning of the season is a joint father-sons effort, according to Matt.

Jason Rankin, on the other hand, works with a "mud puddle" technique.

The 18-year-old Abbottstown 4-H'er exhibited the champion pair, a matched set of purebred Durocs scaling in at 240-and 250-pound weights. His project hogs are walked regularly, and run through a sizeable puddle where they cool down while getting an additional workout on their muscles.

Delmarva Broiler/Fryer Market

Wednesday, August 25, 1993

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was slow to fair and typical of mid-week activity. Seller offerings were adequate to fully adequate and in close balance at some points on under 3 pound sizes. Live supplies were generally moderate. Weights varied but were mostly desirable. Processing schedules remained heavy. Less than trucklot asking prices were unchanged at 50 to 64 cents. Trade sentiment was about steady. In the parts complex, dark meat, particularly leg quarters were held with confidance. Machine cut wings were slow to clear, handcuts were in fairly good balance. Breast items were at least adequate.

New York & Phila. Frozen Egg Report

Tuesday, August 24, 1993

Prices were unchanged under generally steady but cautious trade sentiment. Buying activity was spotty as buyers were limiting purchases while awaiting further market developments. Raw materials were fully adequate but breakers were selective and usually held receipts to regular commitments. Floor stocks were in good balance to handle present trade needs.

Northeast Broiler/Fryer Market

Wednesday, August 25, 1993

Trucklot buying interest ranged quiet to fair for immediate and but improved for late week. Supplies of boneless skinless breasts were irregularly distributed with some product available but some interdealer interest not filled. Trading was reported at unchanged prices. Line run breasts were balanced with current needs. Some product was booked for late week delivery at lower prices but the market appears steady. Yellow skin leg quarters were short of trade needs and prices trended higher. Some buyer interest in bagged product went unfilled. Demand for machine cut wings slowed from early week but product cleared satisfactorily.

National Egg Market

Wednesday, August 25, 1993

NATIONAL EGG MARKET - AT A GLANCE: Prices for the large sizes were unchanged to lower in the East and Midwest; otherwise, prices were unchanged. The trade sentiment ranged steady to weak, mostly barely steady to weak. Movement of cartoned eggs into retail channels was no better than fair. Supplies of larger sizes ranged adequate to ample, mediums were in fairly good balance. In the Central States prices for nest run breaking stock decreased sharply, checks and undergrades also trended lower. Light trading was reported for the ample offerings. Buyers continued very cautious due to next weekend holiday schedules. The undertone was weak. The trade sentiment was generally steady for light type hens in the Southeast. Demand was fair to good. Offerings were irregular but usually fully adequate for trade needs.

Eastern PA & NJ Poultry Report

Atlanta, Ga.
Tuesday, August 24, 1993

Prices are about unchanged on light type but sales are too few to report on heavy hens. Offerings for next week's slaughter are at least adequate to fully adequate and most plant time has already been booked. Demand fair. Undertone generally steady.

New York Egg Market

Wednesday, August 25, 1993

Prices for extra large and large trended lower, mediums were unchanged. The trade sentiment continued barely steady to weak. Movement of cartoned eggs into retail channels was light; loose pack eggs into food service accounts was fair to fairly good. Supplies of larger sizes were fully adequate and offered, mediums were balanced.

PRICES TO RETAILERS, SALES TO VOLUME BUYERS, USDA GRADE A AND GRADE A, WHITE EGGS IN CARTONS, DELIVERED STORE DOOR, CENTS PER DOZEN RANGE LARGE .69-.72, MEDIUM .55-.58.

HESS MILLS
PURINA
SUPERCOW™
You'll Soon See How We Named This Feed.
What would you call a milking ration that turns cows into more productive, more efficient "super" cows? We call it SUPERCOW.™
SUPERCOW is a highly palatable, high-energy blend of nuggets and pellets formulated to meet the demands of high production. In field tests, cows fed SUPERCOW produced about 6.7 pounds more milk per day per cow.
SUPERCOW also helps maintain a cow's body weight and condition after calving, which can improve her reproductive efficiency.
See for yourself with SUPERCOW. The name says it all.
FIELD TRIAL RESULTS
(Adjusted Days In Milk)
Beginning Production 53.3 lb/day
Ending Production 60.0 lb/day
Avg. Increase Per Cow 6.7 lb/day
Body Condition Score Improvement +0.12 pts

MARK YOUR CALENDARS

Pope Gregory XIII completed his reform of the Julian calendar in 1582, but many were wary of the changes and did not adopt them until much later. The British Calendar Act was not passed until 1751 to bring Britain and the American colonies under the "Gregorian Correction." By that time, the Julian calendar was "off" by 11 days, so the Act decreed that the day following September 2, 1752, would become September 14. Many people, not understanding the change, felt cheated, and rioting broke out with the battle cry "Give us back our 11 days." The Act also provided that the year would begin on January 1 instead of March 25. Gregory's calendar, with a slight change for greater accuracy, is the one we still use today and is correct to within one day in 20,000 years.

TIP OF THE WEEK

☞ Freshen soggy crackers and chips by microwaving on high for 30 to 60 seconds, then let stand 2 minutes.

EARTHWISE

If you haven't already done it, now is the time to get your chimney inspected, before the first crisp hint of autumn leaves you in the cold. Our local chimney sweep tell us that the first cool weather always results in a flurry of calls for appointments and many people have to wait several weeks when they wait too late in the season. All chimneys should be inspected annually, whether they vent a fireplace, wood stove, or furnace.

PEPPER DRESSING

- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1/8 cup water
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon bottled steak sauce
- 1 tablespoon freshly grated pepper
- 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
- dash red pepper sauce

Combine all ingredients in a bowl or jar with lid and refrigerate. Allow flavors to blend at least 1 hour before serving.

Makes about 1 cup.

The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECAST

NORTHEAST: Cloudy, warm, some showers then heavier rain; warm south, cool north.

SOUTHEAST: Showers, clear and warm north coast; possible tropical storm may bring heavy rain.

MIDWEST: Heavy rain; cool, hot northeast; turning sunny and warm, some rain southeast.

NORTHWEST: Clearing and warm then turning hot.

SOUTHWEST: Clear and warm, becoming hot desert and mountains, some showers and cooler east.

W-L measures success one grower at a time.

We could show you stacks of research data that demonstrate the benefits of planting W-L alfalfa seed, but the most important barometer of our success is the success of growers like you.

Growers have depended on W-L Research as a provider of superior alfalfa seed for over thirty years, and in that time W-L has developed seed well-known for its value. At W-L, "value" is defined as long-term yield, persistence, and quality. These characteristics of W-L varieties are the cornerstone of our success, and we continue to measure our success as we always have — one grower at a time.

Quality Begins Today

Records show that in 1992, milk inspectors issued orders resulting in the discard of $12 million worth of fluid milk after tests revealed drug residue violations. That's a lot of milk down the drain.

It should be reassuring to consumers that milk with drug residues is not getting through to the store shelf. But from the dairy farmer's point of view, the out-of-pocket cost to produce this wasted milk and the lost profit it represents is staggering. It should be obvious that all milk that can possibly contain drug residues should be discarded at the farm. Often large quanities of milk must be discarded because milk with drug residues was put into the bulk tank and then on to the tanker truck. When the load is tested as all loads are, whole loads of milk must be discarded because one farmer with one treated cow wasn't careful enough to discard the bucketful of treated milk before it got into the bulk tank.

Farmers responsible for the contanimation of the truck load of milk become responsible to pay for all the lost milk. That should be incentive enough to start on a quality assurance program on your farm.

The Milk and Dairy Beef Quality Assurance Program (DQA) has been established about a year ago and officials of DQA are working with veterinarians, dairy cooperatives, trade associations, individuals to increase the number of dairy farmers who ascribe to the program. Many farmers have already initiated a DQA on their farms. The potential of being responsible for a lost truck load of milk because of personal negligence should be enough incentive for every farmer to begin a quality assurance program today.

NOW IS THE TIME

To Learn About Trusts

Recently there has been a company selling the concept of "pure trusts" as a way to avoid taxes to farmers.

Trusts are an excellent estate planning tool to minimize taxes. But they should be set up by your local attorney. You should be cautious when approached by someone you do not know promoting a dream too good to be true. It probably is.

The proposed "pure trust" is an irrevocable trust. This means that once you transfer assets into the trust, there is a very slim chance you will be able to retrieve them from the trust at a latter date. If not properly done, the farmer could be giving the farm away to the trust and never be paid for it.

Thus, it is very important you know who the trustees are and how the assets are distributed at a latter date. Also, there are a variety of income, estate, and gift taxes to be concerned about. Everyone should have as their objective to pay as little in taxes as legally possible.

In practice, minimizing taxes is easier to accomplish than eliminating taxes. Always be cautious when things are being done in secrecy, with little details or with people you do not know. And finally, never sign any legal documents including contracts and trusts without your attorney reviewing them first.

To Select Contractors Carefully

Sooner or later every farmer will be undertaking a major construction project.

Whether it is installing a new conservation practice, manure storage, remodeling, or building a new building, the selection of a good contractor is very important.

Some key items to consider are:

- The contractor's reputation for quality and satisfactory work. Take time to visit and look at similar projects just completed.
- General experience as a contractor.
- Net worth and financial ability of the contractor, including the ability to post performance bonds and payment bonds for the project.
- Mechanic's liens and collection problems of subcontractors and material men from previous projects constructed by the contractor.

A mechanic's lien is a lien against the improvement itself and the real estate on which it is erected. The lien arises from debts due by the owner to a contractor or by the contractor to a subcontractor for labor and materials. If a mechanic's lien is filed by a subcontractor, the owner may be required to pay the lienholder for work or materials previously paid to the contractor.

To avoid this, the owner should request the general contractor to sign a legal document known as a "Wavier of Mechanic's Lien" or "Stipulation Against Liens." It is important this waiver be executed and recorded in the courthouse before any construction is started.

To Be Profitable

Based on a Nebraska study, farmers identified the following factors that affect farm profitability. They include level of debt, size of business, cost containment, marketing and product quality, and making timely decisions.

Debt was identified as a cause of low profits. Determining whether debt is good or bad for a farm depends how the farmer uses it.

Top managers manage their debt. They incur debt for productive purposes and pay it off. Managers of unprofitable operations often accumulate debt, using it as a substitute for poor cash flows.

A profitable farm does not have to be large, but it must generate an adequate gross income to provide a family's income. Families may need at least $35,000 of pre-tax income, if spending $28,000 per year on living expenses.

Based on a 10-year study, net farm income averaged 17 percent of gross farm income. This means an annual gross farm income of more than $200,000 would be needed to generate $35,000 of net farm income.

As our economy matures and population growth slows, businesses, including farms, must become the low-cost producer. To achieve this, costs must be monitored very closely and productivity increased.

Only the farmers that continue to grow and mature in their management styles will remain in farming. Now is the time to start improving your management skills.

The excellent manager today who does not change will be an average manager five years from now!

ARE YOU ADEQUATELY ARMED?
August 29, 1993

Background Scripture:
Ephesians 6:10-20
Devotional Reading:
2 Timothy 2:1-13

It was just over a year ago that I visited the little town of Eisenach, in what used to be East Germany. Eisenach has two very special claims to fame. It was here that Johann Sebastian Bach was born and made his first explorations into the mysteries of music.

Eisenach is also the home of the magnificent medieval fortress, the Wartburg, where the Elector Frederick the Wise hid Martin Luther for 11 months, while he translated the Bible into the German language. Touring the castle, we were shown Luther's Room, where between May 4, 1521 and March 6, 1552 he labored to put the Bible into a language his people could read. We saw the black mark on the wall that is said to be the one that Luther caused when he reportedly threw his inkwell at the devil!

THE REAL ISSUE

Sometimes I am asked whether I believe in the devil and I usually respond that I neither deny him or affirm him. Unlike Luther and many others. I have never experienced the devil as a person, but I do not deny that others have. It is interesting to note that "devil" is simply "evil" with a "d" added. I am quite certain about the last five letters of that word, but I just don't know about the "d." For me it is quite enough to believe in God and Christ without having also to believe in the devil — as a person. That doesn't mean I do not believe in the power of evil in the world; I just don't know whether that power is a person or something else, a "he" or an "it."

The real issue is the existence and pervasiveness of evil in the world and in our lives. We are told that one night Thomas Carlyle took Ralph Waldo Emerson through the dark streets of one of London's worst sections and commented: "Do you believe in the devil now?" One can hardly read the newspaper, watch TV or walk through the city without finding many evidences of the destructive power of evil all around us. Moral rot is everywhere.

Furthermore, we don't even have to look beyond our own lives. Carl Sandburg had one of his characters say: "When I doubt there is an evil one, I have only to look into myself. There he is, the chief of all evil." I, too, have found evil in my own life — in what I have thought, in what I have said, in what I have done, and in what I have failed to think, say or do.

THE DEVIL'S WILES

So, I can appreciate the concern of the writer of Ephesians, whether we are able to "stand against the wiles of the devil" (6:11). And I can understand what he means when he says, "we are not contending against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against the powers, against the world rulers of this present darkness, against the spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places" (6:12). The (d)evil of our world is extremely powerful and destructive.

In the face of all of this, what can we do, with what can we arm ourselves with to withstand this demonic reality? Tanks, guns, planes, and atom bombs come quickly to mind when we think of weapons to guard against a (d)evil of such great proportions. But two great world wars and a half a century of the cold war have demonstrated to us that these weapons can kill and destroy other people, but they cannot eradicate evil.

That's why Ephesians' answer seems so utterly ridiculous. What is this "whole armor of God" that we are to put on to protect us? Truth! Righteousness! The gospel of peace! Faith! Salvation! The word of God! And, "Pray at all times in the Spirit, with all prayer and supplications"! (6:14-18).

It seems so little in the face of such a monstrous power or person — but it is enough. Try it.

★ The only outdoor furance made with a Catalytic Combuster. ★
Mahoning Catalytic Combuster Will Help In The Following Ways:
1. Burn one cord of wood which equals 166 gallons of oil.
2. Your fuel source becomes enormous inexhaustable and poses few risks to public safety.
3. Over all efficency of 85%, which means the heat no longer goes up the chimney!
4. You get more heat from a log compared to the non-cat. furnace.
5. More burn time - less reloading time!
6. Zap 90% of pollutants, made from fire source.
7. Saves you a lot of money!
8. User friendly, emits no smoke!

Save on Agway Polyfilm

If you've been protecting your valuable forage with 6-mil film, consider the advantages of our 5-mil linear low-density (LLD) black film:

- stronger
- extra puncture and tear resistance
- lighter weight for easier handling
- specially formulated for agricultural use

It all adds up to performance that equals or exceeds 6-mil film.

Grain Field Day Set

DOVER, Del. — Mark Davis will be hosting a Field Day demonstrating grain production techniques and equipment that enable him to reduce the use of chemical inputs.

The field day will be held at the Mark Davis Farm, Dover, on Sept. 9 from 9 a.m.-2:30 p.m.

Davis has been experimenting with planting no-till corn into stands of hairy vetch and crimson clover. He uses a high residue cultivator for controlling weeds in corn and soybeans.

Davis has also tried different methods of establishing fall cover crops. He harvests his own hairy vetch seed to minimize the seed cost for this legume.

In addition to the practices implemented by Davis, the field day will also include discussions by Dr. Bill Mitchell on the use of hairy vetch, Ralph Timmons from the Soil Conservation Service on cover crops, and Dr. Ed Jones from Delaware State University on making sustainable agriculture work.

The economic costs of alternative practices are important to evaluate along with their soil improvement benefits. Davis will be discussing the economics of the practices he is evaluating.

The field day will also feature a legume screening trial that was planted last fall to evaluate which legumes produce the greatest amount of biomass and nitrogen.

No-till corn was planted into the six legumes this spring. Dr. Randy Peiffer and Jean Staats from Delaware State University will discuss their observations and the data collected from this trial.

The field day is sponsored by Delaware State University Cooperative Extension, Rodale Institute, USDA Soil Conservation Service, and the Sustainable Agriculture Association of Maryland and Delaware. For details on the field day and directions to the farm, call Mark Davis at (302) 739-5160 or Leon Weber at (215) 683-1400.

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — There were 218 entries at the 4-H South Central District Dairy Show held Monday in the Small Arena of the state Farm Show Complex and 125 of those qualified for state-level competition.

Youth from the seven counties of Adams, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Lancaster, Lebanon and York showed their dairy cattle in an effort to qualify for the state 4-H show, set to be held Sept. 20, also at the state Farm Show Complex.

Among the five breed shows held Monday, eight qualifying blue ribbons were awarded to Ayrshire exhibitors, 24 blue ribbons were awarded in the Brown Swiss breed, nine in the Guernsey breed, 54 to Holstein exhibitors, 27 to those who showed Jerseys, and three to Milking Shorthorn exhibitors.

Judges for the shows were John Burket, of East Freedom, who reviewed the Guernseys, Ayrshire and Holstein cattle, and Mary Shank Creek, of Hagerstown, Md., who judged Brown Swiss and Jersey cattle.

The youth are also judged on their showmanship. Judges were Robbie Shaw, of Fairplay, Md., and David Hill, of Shippensburg.

Evident of the depth of the Holstein show was the fact that there were nine blue ribbons awarded just in the intermediate yearling class from 23 animals entered; eight blue ribbons in the senior calf class; six in the junior yearling class; and six in the junior calf class.

In the Holstein breed, cattle shown by James Justin Burdette, of Mercersburg, Franklin County, took both the grand and senior championships and the junior championship of the show. The Burdette's grand champion was a senior 2-year-old, Windy-Knoll-View Pizazz-ET. (His brother Kyle showed the second place senior 2-year-old.) Burdette's junior yearling, W-K-V CC Pear-ET, was the junior champion.

Wagner also displayed her showmanship skills, winning the championship in the senior division, for exhibitors aged 14 to 19 years old.

Also from Lebanon County, Bryan Hostetter, of Annville, showed Dale-Pride Arthurs Precise, an intermediate yearling to win the reserve junior champion title of the Holstein show.

The county group competition in the Holstein show led by Franklin County, Cumberland County, and Lebanon County was third.

In the Jersey show, the Dietrich sisters, Emily and Melanie, of Newburg, Cumberland County, showed the grand and reserve grand champions, respectively — Emily's Carrock Sooner B Frosty, a 4-year-old was grand champion; Melanie's aged cow, Dorina's Legend Delaura, was reserve.

The junior champion of the Jersey show was a senior calf, SV Toptin Lupy, owned by Melanie Balmer, of Manheim, Lancaster County.

The reserve junior champion was Pleasant Valley Starbuck Patty, an intermediate calf, owned by Heath Ann Carbaugh, of Chambersburg, Franklin County.

Also, in the county club competition, although it wasn't confirmed, a 4-H leader has said that it was the first time that Cumberland County won the district competition. They were followed by Franklin County.

In the Brown Swiss breed, Elizabeth Ann Smith, of Denver, Lancaster County, showed the grand champion animal, a junior 3-year-old, K&Q JK Willette.

The reserve grand champion was an aged cow shown by Alica Mase, of Lebanon, Meadow Hill Titan Agatha. Agatha was also the featured Brown Swiss of the Lebanon Area Fair.

Larissa Mellott, of St. Thomas, Franklin County, showed the reserve junior champion Brown Swiss, a senior calf, IE La-Mel-Lo Rocket Tomeka.

In the Brown Swiss county club competition, Lancaster County was first, York second and Cumberland third.

In the Ayrshire breed, Jesse Stambaugh, of Spring Grove, York County, showed the senior and grand champion, a senior 2-year-old, Triple-J Gemini Andy, and the reserve grand champion, a 5-year-old that won't see further competition this year in 4-H, Ray-Knoll Liberator's Angie.

The junior champion was shown by Dayrl Maulfair, of Jonestown, Lebanon County, an intermediate calf, Masonic-Homes Mandate Candy.

The reserve junior champion Ayrshire was shown by Jason Stambaugh, also of Spring Grove. It was a senior yearling, Goodies Welcome Kasey.

York County was the only county to compete in the Ayrshire and Guernsey county group class.

In the Guernsey breed, Brian Thomas Smith, of Denver, Lancaster County, showed the senior and grand champion Guernsey, Blue Mountain View King Sparky, a 4-year-old.

Candi Garber, of Waynesboro, Franklin County showed the reserve senior and grand champion, also a 4-year-old, Romert King Leora.

The junior champion was a junior yearling shown by Todd Morris, of Fawn Grove, York County, Moracre Herald Jezebelle. The reserve junior champion was a senior calf shown by Emily Dawn Stuff, of Mercersburg, Franklin County, Walnut Lane Jasper Isabell.

Heather Crowl, of Airville, York County showed the junior champion and reserve grand champion, an intermediate yearling, Spruce Hill LT Lisa; and the STRIKE IT RICH!

SELL IT WITH A LANCASTER FARMING CLASSIFIED

likely to decrease to 7 million by the year 2,000, the registered cow population will also diminish," Kerr said. "Questions about the relationship of the two herdbooks will likely answer themselves by that time."

The national association continues to look for ways to identify animals that are easier than the present way of sketching or photographing each animal. Several new ways of identification are being tested. These include electronic transponders planted in the ears; transponders in the ear tags; or ear tags alone.

"Sketches or photographs are the best way to identify the animal," Kerr said. "But it doesn't fit some farm operations."

The national association has a committee working to formulate a pedigree rating system that would be in addition to index numbers. Some breeders like the index number system and others do not like it. Kerr said all breeders were important to the association.

"The association was a little careless in appearing to tilt to the genetic side as much as it did," Kerr said. "When you have so many good breeders who say they want to do it another way, it is incumbent on the association to come up with a scientifically sound rating system tool that will be helpful to these breeders too."

In other news, Kerr said sire summaries are being packaged to make them more attractive to a wider group of people and mating programs are being developed to take the evaluation that's now done and make it useful for breeding selection.

He said the new type evaluation system with the feet, legs, and udder in separate categories from general appearance is working "slick as a whistle". The system will produce more consistancy between classifiers and provides the means to accrurately describe the cow. "You can look at the five major breakdowns and have an accurate picture of the cow that you can work from person to person," Kerr said.

And international marketing continues to be a major effort for the national association. Right now, they are processing 25 bulls for Poland and 1,000 bred heifers for Saudia Arabia. "Poland has been closed to us for decades," Kerr said. "We have spent a lot of time and money trying to change the health regulations. But it is good business for us and we try to spread this business around to our members so as many people as possible get a share of the action."

Six years ago, Jack and Donna Coleman moved their family to Lancaster County from a farm in New Jersey. Since that time they have developed a nice herd of 60 cows that currently average 23,097; 847f 736p with a BAA of 102.2 The group of 300 farmers and their families gave special attention to Prelude calf from a cow that is the third generation of excellent mammary and herself scored 92 (2E).

At Cherry-Crest they also run a tourist business that gets publicity from a sign on one of the farm buildings that can be read by passengers on the Strasburg Railroad.

In the judging contest, Carolyn Lowe had a perfect score of 150 points. Sheila Balmer was second in the ladies' division with 147 points and Carolin Landis had 143 points.

In the men's division Paul Zimmerman had 149 points; Mel Eby had 147 points; and Dick Mellinger had 146 points.

In the youth division, Darren Good and Jeremy Welk were tied with 147 points. Good was named the winner because of his close guess of the weight of one of the cows in the judging class. Darren Martin had 141 points.

Other officials involved in the program included: Bill Nichol, executive director, Pennsylvania Holstein Association; Glenn Shirk, Lancaster County Agent; and John Howard, national director. Don Buffington was the type judge for the contest.

Association Awards Scholarships

GETTYSBURG (Adams Co.) — The Adams County Poultry Association recently awarded five scholarships to Adams County students enrolled in the College of Agricultural Sciences at Penn State University. Total awards amounted to $3,000.

Successful applicants were Troy Eckert. New Oxford; Travis Green, Gettysburg; Jayne Hess, Gettysburg; and Jason Howe and Ryan Howe, Gettysburg.

Awards for the 1993-1994 academic year represent the 27th year that the association has participated in the scholarship program at Penn State University for Adams County students.

E-Town Sheep Exhibitors Travel Far To Garner Championships

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — Sometimes you have to go to great lengths to win a sheep championship.

If you want to find out how far, just ask the Elizabethtown Fair supreme champion sheep winner Ann Leid. To obtain the champion, a Dorset fall ewe lamb, she traveled with parents Robert and Nancy Leid to the Eastern Stud Ram and Ewe Sale in Staunton,Va.

Ann, 11, Meyerstown, Lebanon County, is in the sixth grade at Elco and helps maintain 30 head of Dorsets and Hampshires on her family's Deep Run Farm. This is the first time she showed at Elizabethtown, and her first supreme champion at the fair.

As for the market and sale champion sheep winner Lisa Reiff, she also traveled far to obtain a champion. On a Saturday in April, she traveled with her family to North Manchester, Ind. Why so far? The event was the Formula For Champions Sale, hosted by Tom Slack.

Lisa, 15, daughter of Lloyd and Laura Reiff, Strasburg, won grand champion market and sale lamb at the Elizabethtown Sheep Show on a hot and humid Wednesday afternoon with "Bill," Lisa's 116-pound Suffolk wether. Bill was purchased at the Formula For Champions Sale, and this championship marked four in a row for the Lampeter-Strasburg High School sophomore.

Lisa, who was first in her division in the showmanship portion of the event and also won the champion pens of three, is a member of the 4-H Woolies Club.

Reserve champion supreme was awarded to Jerry Bollinger for his Suffolk ram. Reserve market lamb was awarded to Ryan Donough.

The judge, Peter LeVan, a Dorset breeder from State College, picked the supreme champion sheep because of the consistently high quality of the breed, he told the exhibitors. For the market sheep, Reiff's Suffolk was picked from the heavyweight division because the lamb showed the "balance and style which combines all we're looking for in the industry today," he said. "It will cut out a really good, acceptible loin eye."

In all, there were a total of 210 sheep and 63 exhibitors.

Lebanon Holstein Holds Field Day

UPPER LAWN (Lebanon Co.) — The Lebanon County Holstein Club held its annual field day at the farm of George and Carol Ungemach, located in southwestern Lebanon County.

For years the Ungemach family has been active in the county Holstein club and the children have been active in 4-H and FFA projects and programs. They milk from 80 to 85 registered and grade Holsteins in a free-stall with pumped manure storage.

About 275 people attended the evening event held late last week. Many participated in the judging contest.

Guest speaker was David Rama, cattle merchandiser with the Cattle Exchange, who is well known for his work with some major sales and dispersals.

There were also photo and information displays of the breeding and genetics represented in five different county herds.

The judging contest consisted of three classes of Holsteins, and, as a tie-breaker, a class of milking goats.

The Holstein classes consisted of a junior heifer calf class, 2-year-old cows, and a dam and daughter class.

Contest winners among the youths, aged 13 and younger were Holly Meyer, first; Aaron Hoover, second; and a tie for third between Jake Mase and Brad Hoover.

Among the youths aged 14 to 18 years old, the winner was Jeremy Troutman, followed by Melonica Kauffman for second and three-way tie for third between Dannette Nolt, Scott Nolt, and Sandy Gross.

In the men's division, the first place judge was Pat Arnold, followed by Harry Bachman, and a tie for third between Mike Fair and Dale Hostetter.

Sharon Arnold led the women's division, followed by Stephanie Wagner, second, and Lois Meyer at third.

The Lebanon Holstein also has several activities on its calendar. The club also had scheduled to hold its annual county sale at the Lebanon Area Fairgrounds Friday night, after presstime.

And according to club secretary Bruce Bollinger, the club's annual banquet is scheduled for 7 p.m., Oct. 28, at the Schaefferstown Fire Hall.

For more information about the club, or to become a member, call Bollinger at (717) 274-8861.

Jason Wivell Shows E-town Supreme Dairy Cow

VERNON ACHENBACH, JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — A senior 2-year-old red and white Holstein shown by Jason Wivell, of Elizabethtown, was named Thursday as the supreme cow of the Elizabethtown Fair youth dairy show.

The Elizabethtown dairy show had a total of 59 cattle entered representing three breeds — Ayrshire, Jersey and Holstein. The judge for the show was Bill Curley, from Montrose, Susquehanna County.

With his honor, Wivell maintained a family run on the title — his older sister Janell showed last year's supreme champion, a 4-year-old dry Holstein cow.

But while Janell's Holstein was last year's open division reserve champion, Jason's red and white Myerose Katherine-Red was named this year's grand champion.

Jason said the cow was a Christmas present from Kenneth Meyer, the animal's breeder and for whom Jason works. According to Meyer, the 2-year-old is projected at 20,000 pounds of milk and was sired by Howard-Home Caveman.

Wivell, son of Joseph Wivell and Becky Wivell, keeps his cows at his father's farm, Donegal Creek Farm, in Columbia.

Wivell's other animals placed fairly well: a 4-year-old was first in its class; the daughter of Katherine, an intermediate calf, placed third; and his entries earned him a first place dam-and-daughter class win.

The reserve grand champion Holstein in the youth division was a 2-year-old shown by Jason Brandt. The reserve grand champion of the open division was a 3-year-old shown by Ty Long.

Edward showed the reserve grand champion in the open division, 4-year-old Dominos Opportunity Teendream, which was also the youth division grand champion. Edward also showed the reserve grand champion Jersey in the youth division, and the junior champions in both divisions.

In the Ayrshire show, Elizabeth Spickler showed the youth and open show junior champions and the grand champions. There were no senior-aged Ayrshires shown.

Tobacco Harvest Underway In Lancaster County

The annual tobacco harvest in Lancaster County started last week with late rains in most parts of the County pushing weight and length-on-the-lath to greater-than-expected measures. Don Welk, Jr., Strasburg, said they had not expected the late growth and therefore had topped the crop a little high. On Tuesday when this photograph was taken the speared tobacco was hanging down full length from the tiers. And the heavy stalks and hot humid weather gave the workmen plenty of cause to sweat.

The Welks started to cut last Saturday and they have 11 acres, half Maryland type and half Pennsylvania seed-leaf. According the the Pennsylvania Agricultural Statistics Service, farmers expect to produce less pounds of both types of tobacco this year. In the mid-August report, Southern Maryland-type tobacco acres for harvest is 3,500, 8 percent less than last year. The yield forcast at 1,900 pounds, is 50 pounds more than last year. The end total of 6.65 million pounds would make the crop a net total of five percent less 1992.

For the Pennsylvania Seed-leaf tobacco, farmers reported 6,500 acres, seven percent than last year. The forecast yield of 2,100 pounds is 100 pounds more than 1992. This would bring production in at 13.65 million pounds or two percent less than last year.

Gloss Joins N.E. DHIA

ITHACA, N.Y. — Dairy Management Technologies is excited to welcome John Gloss as a Dairy Comp 305 specialist, to their specialized dairy management staff.

John is originally from Troupsburg, a small agricultural town in Steuben County New York. He received an associates degree from Alfred Agricultural and Technical College, and finished his bachelors degree at Buffalo State. After school John worked for a dairy that used DHIA records. That was his first exposure to organized dairy management records.

John has been working for Northeast DHIA for three years; first as a supervisor in Wayne, and Steuben counties, then as region manager in New Jersey, and Orange County New York.

John brings with him to his new position a strong belief in the power of organized dairy management to improve the profitability of the Northeast Dairy Herd.

John's primary responsibilities are on farm installations of Dairy Comp 305. Other major responsibilities are the sales and support of Afikim on farm systems.

Dairy Management Technologies, a subsidiary of Northeast DHIA sells, installs and supports Dairy Comp 305 on farm software and Afikim electronic milk meters, cow pedometers and automatic identification systems.

Brother, Sister Capture Steer Honors At Elizabethtown

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — For Jill Hoffines, it was her first Elizabethtown Fair beef championship. For brother Peter, it capped four years in a row of championships.

The brother-sister team from Marietta, with parents Bob and Linda standing by, capped a market steer championship drive Wednesday evening during an improved and larger beef show.

Peter was awarded grand champion with his 1,285-pound Maine Anjou/Angus/Simmental cross named Tyrone. The steer, along with two others, including the reserve champion, were obtained from Scott Hummel, Selinsgrove, according to Bob Hoffines. Peter will be competing later on this year with the championship FFA team in Kansas City, Mo.

The reserve shown by Jill is a 1,255-pound Maine Anjou/Angus named Carrot. Jill, 13, is in the eighth grade at Donegal, and this is her first year of showing at the fair.

The event featured 14 steers and 18 exhibitors. Judge was Bill Holloway, who manages a commercial purebred herd out of Mount Wolf, York County.

Following is a list of show placings.

GAIL STROCK
Mifflin Co. Correspondent

REEDSVILLE (Mifflin Co.) — The recent Mifflin County Holstein Association's Summer Classic Sale held at the Youth Park in Reedsville brought an average price of $1,762 on 39 lots.

The sale was held Thursday, August 19, the last day of Penn State University's Ag Progress Days three-day event, which brings traffic along Rt. 322 within easy view of the Reedsville Youth Park. Some of those visitors stopped by the sale, but there were also buyers from New York State, in addition to the local supporters.

The total raised for the sale was $68,700 with a consignment from William and Michael Ammon, of Lewistown bringing the highest price of $3,750.

John Foster Jr, of Globe-Run Farm, bought the consignment, Ammon Bell Mark Ribbons.

It was the fifth county sale, though the sales have not been held every year, according to Glen Peachey, sale chairman. The sale attempts to provide a variety of consignments, instead of all high-indexing.

"Some people want show type animals, some want high indexing cows and some want good milking cows," Peachey said.

A handler parades Ammon Bell Mark Ribbons around the sale ring of the Mifflin County Holstein Association Summer Classic Sale. Ribbons brought the highest single price of the sale, $3,750.

Dietrich's Jersey Supreme At West End Fair

LAURELTON (Union Co.) — A 3-year-old Jersey owned by Rebecca Dietrich, of Mifflinburg, was recently named supreme champion dairy cow of the four-breed Union County West End Fair dairy show, held in Laurelton.

Dietrich's Four Springs Chief Juliet was named open and FFA senior and grand champion Jersey, by show judge David Hill of Shippensburg. Juliet then went into the ring with the other grand champions from the Ayrshire, Holstein, and Brown Swiss breeds to win the supreme title of the 114-animal show.

The open and FFA reserve senior and reserve grand champion Jersey was a junior 2-year-old, J&K Vue Juno Fancy, shown by Douglas Boop, of Millmont. Boop's Fancy was also named best owner-bred animal shown by a youth.

The open and 4-H division junior champion Jersey was an intermediate yearling, DAD Juicyfruit, bred and owned by Jonathan Dietrich.

In the Ayrshire breed, the open and 4-H division senior and grand champion animal was a 3-year-old cow, Brad's Rambling Rose, owned by Daniel Rishel, of New Columbia.

Rishel also showed the open and 4-H reserve grand champion Ayrshire, Palace Omega.

In the Holstein breed, the grand and reserve grand champions are paternal sister, both daughters of Fisher-Place Mandingo-twin.

The grand champion was 3-year-old J&K Vue Mandingo Carrie, bred and owned by Jonathan Boop, also of Millmont.

The reserve grand champion was a senior 2-year-old, Den-ann Mandongo Casey, was shown by Jason Wolfe, of Lewisburg. Wolfe's Casey was also named grand champion of the 4-H Holstein division.

Douglas Boop's 4-year-old Holstein was named FFA division grand champion. Richard Klingler, of Winfield, showed the junior champion, an intermediate calf sired by Glenafton Enhancer.

In the Brown Swiss show, 3-year-old My T Fine Snowwhite, shown by Amy Sanders, of Millmont, was named grand and senior champion. Snowwhite is a Convincer daughter.

Mark Mapes, of New Berlin, showed the reserve grand champion of the show, also a 3-year-old.

Sarah Beck, of new Columbia, showed the open and 4-H junior champion Brown Swiss, a junior calf, Dawn Rise Blend Alexis-twin.

Burdette Has Franklin County Holstein Champ

BONNIE BRECHBILL
Franklin Co. Correspondent

CHAMBERSBURG (Franklin Co.) — "A fine two-year-old that's going to get better," is how judge Creedin Cornman described the grand champion of the 23rd annual Franklin County Holstein Show. Windy-Knoll-View Pisazz-ET, a senior-two-year-old with a tremendous frame and prominent dairy qualities was shown by Justin Burdette, 14, of Mercersburg. The show was held in conjunction with the Franklin County Fair at the Chambersburg Rod and Gun Club.

Senior and Grand Champion of both the open and youth shows, Pisazz was also named best bred and owned. Pisazz was reserve grand champion of the 4-H show two days before her Franklin County Fair victory, and was the Southcentral Championship Show's Grand Champion August 14.

Her full sister, Windy-Knoll-View DM Pet-ET, was reserve senior and grand champion of the youth show. Pete was shown by Justin's brother, Kyle.

Half-sisters of Pet and Pisazz won the junior and reserve junior champion awards at the show. All are daughters of Windy-Knoll-View Ultimate Pala. Kyle showed the junior champion, Windy-Knoll-View Petrina-ET, while Justin had the reserve champ, Windy-Knoll-View CC Pear-ET.

Reserve senior and reserve grand champion was C Grafton Astro Brenda, owned by Quentin & Elenor Beisel of Dry Run. She was also best-uddered cow of the show. Bev Sease of Aldina Holsteins showed the very dairy-looking Bridon Astro Jet-ET daughter for the Beisels.

El-Dor Farm, owned by Eldon and Dorothy Crider of Chambersburg, took home both the Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor banners.

Judge Creedin Cornman of Just-A-Beauty Holsteins, Carlisle, said that this was a tremendous show for good dairy cows. "Lots of classes had depth of quality, especially the younger heifer classes," he said. "It was an honor to judge here."

Franklin County Holstein Club president Bob Eckstine stopped the parade of first-place cows vying for the grand championship. He paid tribute to the late Merle Woodring, who died December 21 at the age of 54. Woodring had exhibited his Ment-Wood Holsteins at all 23 previous shows. A past president of the Holstein Club, Woodring had also served as leader of the 4-H Dairy Club, assistant fair manager and fair board president.

Eckstine presented a plaque to Woodring's widow, Nancy, and son Craig and family.

Junior Heifer Calf: 1. Hannah Koontz, 2 Aldina Holsteins, 3. Amy Jo Hartman.

Intermediate Heifer Calf: 1. Dustin Witmer, 2. Jessica A. Eshelman, 3 Matthew E. Martin.

Senior Heifer Calf: 1. Joseph R Hess, 2. Jamie Hartman, 3. Rochelle Young.

Summer Yearling Heifer: 1. Eric Horsh, 2. Justin Burdette, 3. Amy Jo Hartman.

Junior Yearling Heifer: 1. Justin Burdette, 2 Jennifer L. Eshelman, 3. Troy Young.

From the left, those who qualified as finalists for showing the best owned and bred animal of the West End Fair youth dairy shows are Daniel Rishel with his Ayrshire, Nathan Sanders with his Brown Swiss, Douglas Boop with his Jersey, and Jason Wolfe with his Holstein. Boop's Jersey, the supreme dairy animal of the fair, was also the best bred and owned.

Swine judge Mike Miller, vice president of sales and marketing for White Oak Mills, said Baum's champion swine, a Hampshire cross barrow, "will cut a real large pork chop," and congratulated the exhibitor, who faced strong competition, "like most fairs in Lancaster County," he said.

Bill Curley, Tri-State Breeders, said the dairy champion, a 2-year-old Red and White Holstein, is a "real fine individual," an animal that "carries her udder high above her hock." The individual is outstanding, "especially in the foot and leg," said Curley.

Natalie Glunz, dairy nutrition specialist from Agway, sheep judge, said Ann Leed's Dorset ewe will make a "fine brood ewe for the young lady," and commented on the animal's "natural thickness and muscling." She said it was a real nice example of the Dorset breed.

Dr. Robert Herr, goat judge, commented on Amy Smith's champion animal, and about how the meat goat will provide a very desirable carcass in a growing industry.

Sister Teams Tie For Top Honors At Tioga Shows

C. J. HOUGHTALING
Tioga Co. Correspondent

WHITNEYVILLE (Tioga Co.) — Two pairs of sisters tied for the top awards of premier breeder and premier exhibitor amongst heavy competition at the Black and White Open Dairy Show during the Tioga County Fair held Saturday, Aug. 14.

Teresa and Trisha McIlwain, daughters of William and Diane McIlwain of Canton, and Olivia and Charity Courtney, daughters of Harold and Sherry Courtney of Mansfield, paraded their animals with professional pride numerous times around the arena, collecting ribbons and garnering the points which tied them for the premier awards.

Teresa showed five cows and two heifers, while Trisha showed one heifer. The McIlwain girls have been members of Country Warriors 4-H club 11 and 4 years respectively, and have showed animals every year. Teresa, 19, served as the 1992 Tioga County Fair Queen and attends Penn Tech at Williamsport, where she is majoring in occupational therapy. Trisha, 12 years old, attends school in Canton.

Olivia showed two milking cows, one dry cow, and a summer yearling. Charity showed two cows and a calf. Also participating in the Courtney family showing were the girls' brother Hal with a calf and father Harold with a cow. Olivia, 14, and Charity, 12, both attend Mansfield High School while Hal, 9, is a student at the Warren L. Miller Elementary School. The three siblings are members of Classical Cows 4-H group and have been showing animals six, four, and one year, respectively.

Other top awards went to Herman Bishop of Roaring Branch, junior champion; Brenda Robson Hodder of Mansfield, reserve junior champion; Ty-Ly View Farms of Trout Run, senior champion; and Olivia Courtney, reserve senior champion.

Gordon Wood of Mansfield, whose own cows were well represented throughout the competition, spotted the senior and reserve senior champions well before the judge made his selections known. A respected cattle judge, Wood sat on the sidelines and mentally compared his animals to the others in the arena. Of the two cows which were later named senior champion and reserve senior champion, Wood said, "(Paul) Moyer's (of Ty-Ly View Farms) cow and Courtney's cow are both fine animals. There's no question in my mind that they are winners. Moyer's cow lacks the power up front that Courtney's cow has, and Courtney's cow has longer teats, which is good, but both animals deserve to win."

Brenda Robson Hodder of Mansfield led her Jersey Bren-Delite Daffodil, a junior 2-year-old, to grand champion in the open division.

The Henry Cooper Memorial Award was presented to Brett Gigee of Knoxville for his supreme champion ewe.

Joseph Sweely's 3-year-old Jersey Stoney Knob Brigadier Valarie took grand champion in the 4-H and Vocational Dairy Show.

WHITNEYVILLE (Tioga Co.) — $560 for one gallon of milk? That's the price Gabe Greco of Greco's Super Duper paid, and he was happy to do it.

The occasion marked the third annual Tioga County Milk Auction held Saturday, August 14 at the Tioga County Fair and featured one gallon of milk from each of the five grand champion dairy cows (junior division) at the fair.

Because of Greco's generosity, and that of the other buyers, kids throughout the state, as well as the county, will benefit from the proceeds.

While 25 percent of the money goes to the exhibitor, another 25 percent is donated to the exhibitor's club or chapter, and the remaining 50 percent is used to sponsor Tioga County 4-H and FFA educational events.

"The money (from the milk auction) helps fund hands-on sessions with teachers and veterinarians during events like the Dairy Youth Management Workshop at Penn State and Youth Dairy Day in Tioga County," said Craig Williams, Tioga County Cooperative extension agent. "And those programs have been highly successful educational tools benefiting dairy oriented youth."

Greco's milk came from Stoney Knob Grigadier Valarie, a 3-year-old Jersey owned by Joseph Sweely of Mansfield. Other buyers were Middlebury Co-op (represented by Don Gilman) who paid $230 for milk from Blue-Devils Clover, a 2-year-old Ayrshire owned by Kevin Wales (who also presented his rosette to the buyer); Check-R-Board (represented by Tony Rishel), paid $200 for milk from Shady Creek Ida Isabell K, a 9-year-old Brown Swiss (and the oldest champion at the fair) owned by Rebecca Bechtel of Covington; Judson Agway (represented by Larry Harvey) paid $260 for milk from EsBern Enhancer Bute Buddy, a 4-year-old Holstein owned by Olivia Courtney of Mansfield; and Pelton Trucking (in a phone in bid) paid $190 for milk from Castles King Flash Gloria, a 2-year-old Guernsey owned by David Kriner of Mansfield.

A basket, made by Jackie Gummo of Wellsboro, containing two T-shirts and a hat donated by the American Dairy Association and cheese donated by Eastern Dairy Store in Wellsboro was also auctioned off. Half of the proceeds from the basket went to the Junior Livestock Auction Committee while the other half will be used by the Milk Auction Committee as seed money for next year's auction.

Preceding the milk auction was the Tioga County Junior Livestock Sale featuring 67 market animals raised by 31 4-H or FFA exhibitors.

According to Earle D. Robbins, Tioga County Extension agent and sale chairman, the sale has come a long way since its inception 12 years ago when nine junior exhibitors sold 19 animals to six buyers, grossing a total of $2,992.74. This year, the sale had 28 new buyers on hand, keeping the prices well above market value, grossing $23,000.

In a remarkable display of support for the young exhibitors, Pelton Trucking of Monroeton purchased a 120-pound market lamb from Laura Fitch of Roaring Branch and donated it back to the Tioga County 4-H program. The animal was then repurchased by Brook's Lumber Company.

Photographs taken of exhibitors and buyers with their animals will be presented to the buyers at a recognition banquet at the Tioga County Fairgrounds Oct. 20.

Buyer of the winning pair was Bankert's Durocs and Chester Whites, the Hanover breeder of the two pigs. Roger Bankert purchased both with a 75-cent per pound bid.

Jason is the son of Bill and Lois Rankin and exhibiting in his last year as a 4-H member. He plans to attend college, with the goal of a career in agriculture.

Reserve champion pair was exhibited by rookie 4-H'er Kathleen Jenkins. The nine-year-old Fawn Grove member took the reserve honors with her Spotted and Hampshire crossed entries. Her purchased project pigs got a regular workout when Kathleen took them for a daily run around the Jenkins farm.

Hatfield Packing Company was the winning bidder on the reserve pair, at 55-cents per pound for the 245 and 250-pound entries.

Champion lightweight was the 220-pound entry of Matt Sellers, selling for a 75-cent bid to The Carfixers body shop at Thomasville.

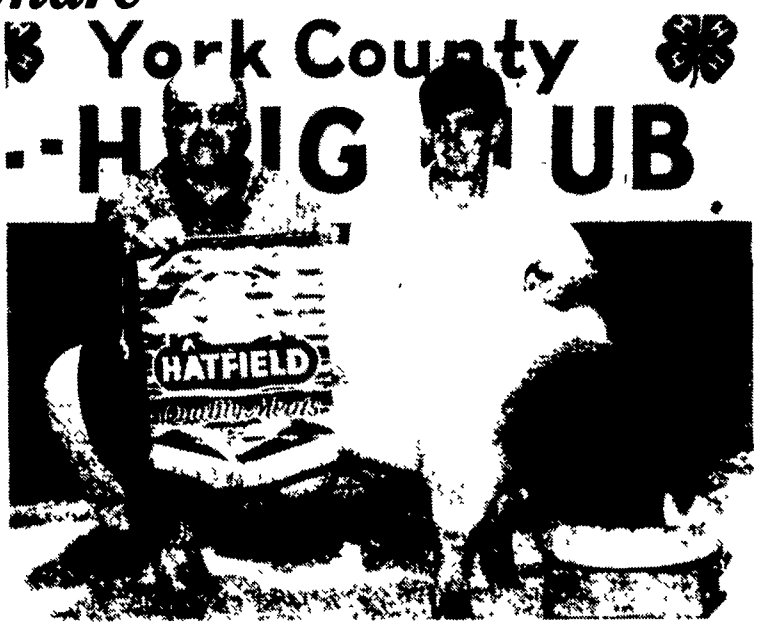
Reserve champion heavyweight, at 250 pounds, was exhibited by Adam Sellers. Buyer, on a 77-cent bid, was Pro Genetics and White Oak Mills.

Jodi Dutrey of Dallastown exhibited the reserve champion medium weight. James T. Parlett and Son, Airville, was the winning bidder at 70-cents per pound.

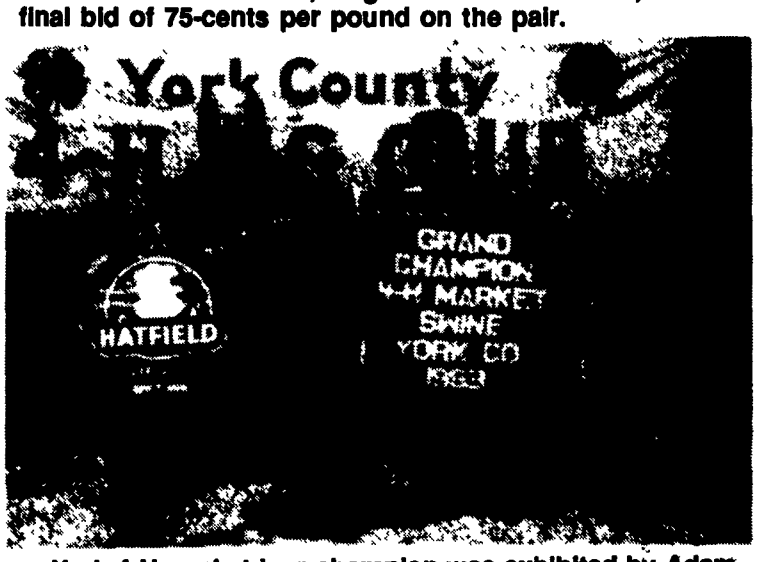
David Myers, Wellsville, took reserve champion lightweight honors with a 220-pound pig. It sold for 85 cents per pound to Kesslers.

Average price on the 84 pigs sold, with the champion, was 81 cents. Without the champion, the average of the roundup sale was 78-cents per pound.

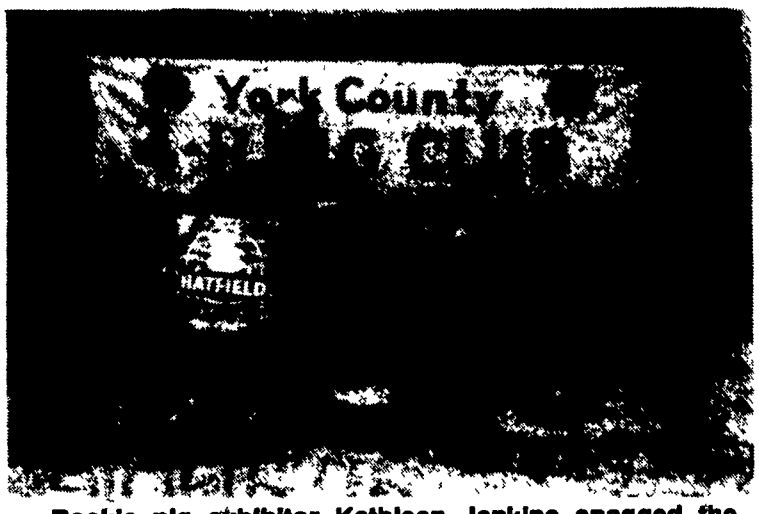
Jason Rankin's well-matched Durocs earned him champion pair title at the York roundup. Michelle Bankert Menges and her son Chad represented the buyer and breeder of the winners, Roger Bankert's Durocs, with a final bid of 75-cents per pound on the pair.



Reserve champion honors at the York roundup went to Matt Sellers. Hatfield Packing Company buyer Ezra Good was the final bidder on the 245-pound pig with a $1.40 per pound bid.



York 4-H market hog champion was exhibited by Adam Sellers. Ezra Good purchased the 230-pounder for Hatfield Packing Company, with a bid of $2.60 per pound.



Rookie pig exhibitor Kathleen Jenkins snagged the reserve spot with her pairs entry, purchased by Ezra Good for Hatfield Packing Company on a 55-cent per pound bid.

York 4-H Holds Lamb Roundup

JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

THOMASVILLE (York Co.) — A purebred Hampshire took top honors at the York County 4-H Lamb Roundup for 10-year-old exhibitor Jacob Ebersole.

First through the ring for the roundup sale, the 120-pound lamb brought a $1.50 per pound bid from buyer Dale Myers, representing Dunlap's at Lancaster Stockyards.

The winner was homebred from the Steve and Lynn Ebersole family's flock and brought the young shepherd his second champion honors of the summer show season. Jacob is a fourth-grader at Ore Valley School and spends much of his summer vacation exercising his five market lambs by jumping with them over foot-high hurdles.

Jacob Ebersole exhibited the champion at the York 4-H lamb roundup and sale. Dale Myers represents the buyer, Walter Dunlap at Lancaster Stockyards, who paid $1.50 per pound for the winning lamb.

Kelly Myers, Thomasville, earned reserve champion honors with a pure black lamb from a crossing of a black ewe with a Hampshire ram.

After a fast round of bidding on the reserve lamb, the final price settled at $3.90 per pound for the 85-pounder. Winning bidder was Byron Waggoner General Contractor at Dover.

Admitting she was reluctant to part with "Alex," Kelly confessed a special attachment to her winner, since it was the only black lamb she had ever raised. She purchased her project from Jim Parlett and Son, Airville.

Lightweight champion honors went to the 85-pound lamb shown by Drew Bankert, Red Lion. Buyer, at $1.20 per pound, was Scott Naylor.

Bobbi Myers, Thomasville, successfully exhibited her 100-lamb to medium weight champion honors. George Grim, Thomasville, was the winning bidder at $2.20 per pound.

A 115-pound lamb brought reserve light heavyweight ribbons to Red Lion exhibitor Matt Trostle. Walter Dunlap, Lancaster Stockyards, was the successful buyer with a $1.40 per pound bid.

Reserve champion lamb at the York roundup was exhibited by Kelly Jo Myers. The runner-up brought a $3.90 per pound bid from Byron Waggoner for Byron Waggoner General Contractors of Dover.

Taking the reserve heavyweight honors was Michelle Miller, York. Her 120-pound winner went to Garrold Hydraulics on a bid of $1.00 per pound.

Maria Graybill, Hanover, exhibited the reserve lightweight. Barry Bechtel was the final bidder, with a $1.55 per pound offer for the 80-pound lamb.

Claiming the reserve medium-weight champion honor was David Myers, Wellsville. Winning buyer was Walter Dunlap, Lancaster Stockyards, on a $1.20 per pound bid.

A total of 19 lambs sold in the first of the two annual lamb roundup sales. They averaged $1.44 per pound, including the champions prices, and $1.29 without the champion prices included.

Experts say "preventive medicine" IS the future for the dairy industry... and dairymen across the country say the line of PROBIOS® brand Microbial Products is the best "preventive medicine" of today.

Research and performance trials have shown that PROBIOS Microbial Products may:

◆ Stimulate appetite in freshening cows

◆ Reduce incidence of scours and associated treatment costs

PROBIOS Products contain selected, viable cultures of naturally-occurring lactic acid-producing bacteria... micro-organisms known for their beneficial activity in the digestive tract of animals. These bacteria are essential for proper digestive tract function and lead to better performance.

Ask about PROBIOS Products and start a prevention program for pennies a day.

Dorset Club Honors Merritt

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — The Continental Dorset Club has honored Thomas L. Merritt, Penn State Professor emeritus of animal science, with a plaque for his many years of support of Polled Dorset sheep. The award was presented at the national show and sale banquet held in Staunton, Va., recently.

Merritt joined the Penn State faculty in 1960. He coordinated Penn State's horse and sheep programs, developed six new courses, and taught a total of 10 different courses during his career. He also coached livestock, horse, and wool judging teams that won many regional and national contests, including a horse judging team that won the world title in 1981.

During his 12-year tenure on the University Faculty Senate, Merritt served as a member of the Faculty Advisory Committee to then-President Bryce Jordan and chaired the senate during the 1988-1989 academic year. In 1989, he was selected by the board of trustees to chair the Presidential Search and Screening Committee. Then, in 1990, President Joab Thomas appointed Merritt to chair the Provost Search and Screening Committee.

Thomas L. Merritt

Merritt retired from the Department of Dairy and Animal Science in 1992 after 31 years of service, but he continues to work in the department.

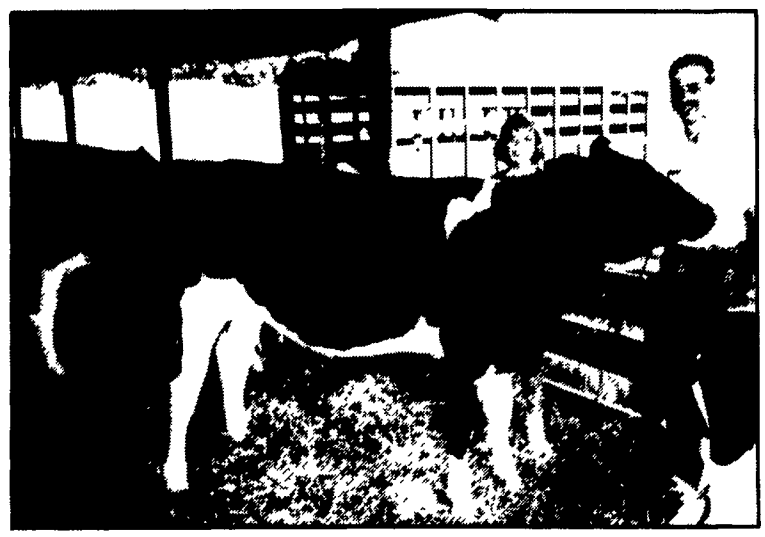
42x23 Slurrystore!



Ron Mummah & daughter Ronda

JAY & TWILA FINKBINER, McAlisterville, PA

2038 Harvestore® structure erected 1992
39 Holsteins at 19,489 lbs. milk

Jay tried high moisture corn in a trench with acid, bagged high moisture corn and ear corn out of a crib, but Harvestore-processed high moisture corn is "more consistent and real handy."

RON & DESI MUMMAH, Port Royal, PA

2033 Harvestore® structure erected 1992
60 Holsteins at 20,300 lbs. milk

Ron's herd is up 1,527 lbs. of milk since November. "My buddies discouraged me from buying a Harvestore structure — they were wrong!"

42x23 Slurrystore!

SHELDON & ZANE HARSHBARGER, Mifflintown, PA

2030 Harvestore® structure erected 1975
36 Holsteins at 20,059 lbs. milk with 4.1% test

Harshbargers spend about 12% of their milk check on purchased feed thanks to their excellent alfalfa haylage program and high moisture shelled corn.

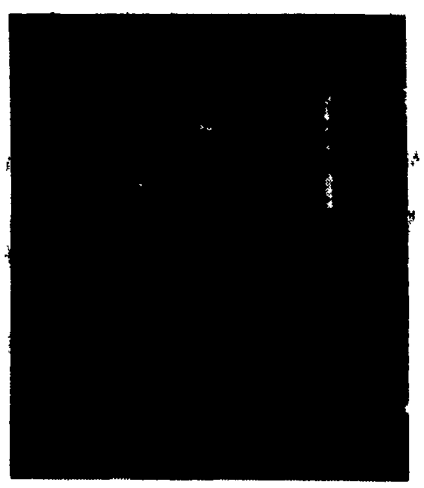
On their newly remodeled CHORE-TIME® caged layer system featuring CHORE-TIME® ULTRAFLO® feeding, CHORE-TIME® DURATRIM cage, and CHORE-TIME®'s newest collector - the ULTRALIFT. Their CHORE-TIME® system features 4 tier 320' long, 46,080 capacity layers.

Existing high-rise 34,500 layers with flat chain feeding system remodeled to CHORE-TIME® 46,000 layer system with ULTRAFLO® feeding system.

CHORE-TIME® heavy duty 2 piece cage with push-in doors and LUBING nipples mounted on stands. 10 year warranties on cages and nipples! Note: Egg trays out an extra inch from cage front for cleaner eggs and to prevent jam ups.

Get 10 Advantages With CHORE-TIME®'s NEW ULTRALIFT Collector.



Front View

1. Eggs can be placed on the cross conveyor at any level including above cages or below cages. Save remodeling costs. Eliminate steps in corridors and ramps in the cage house.
2. ULTRALIFT has a belt of snap together plastic cups for each tier of cages and requires no timing.
3. Whether you prefer a cross belt or rod conveyor ULTRALIFT removes dirt, manure and soft shells so your eggs, belt and packer stay cleaner.
4. No rubber fingers for mice to eat!
5. Individual drives, tensioners and takeups for each 4" belt for quicker and easier maintenance.
6. Since eggs are separated - egg to egg cracks are eliminated.
7. Easy to clean.
8. Other collectors fling eggs on to the cross conveyor or use one egg to force another egg out. ULTRALIFT has special designed plastic fingers which push each egg on to the cross conveyor for a positive transfer.
9. Side by side comparisons show this to be the most gentle collector ever built by CHORE-TIME®.
10. Variable speed gathering and low cost - accurate egg counting available.

Back View

CHORE-TIME® includes holes on all cage frames to bolt on brackets for step rails which will save cages from chicken carts and people. Allows easy access to top tiers.

Yoder Collects Indian Artifacts

GAIL STROCK
Mifflin Co. Correspondent

"If we sell you our land, you must remember that the air is precious to us, that the air shares its spirit with all the life it supports. The wind that gave our grandfather his first breath also receives his last sigh.

"The white man must treat the beasts of the land as his brothers. I am a savage and I do not understand how the smoking iron horse can be more important than the buffalo that we kill only to stay alive. What is man without beasts? If all the beasts were gone, man would die from great loneliness of spirit. For whatever happens to the beasts, soon happens to man. All things are connected. Teach your children what we have taught our children, that the earth is our mother. Whatever befalls the earth befalls the sons of the earth."

From a 1989 "Diary" article submitted by Dr. John A. Hostetler

MATTAWANA (Mifflin Co.) — These American Indian words have echoed through every Indian artifact lecture that Jonas J. Yoder of Mattawana has ever delivered. In 1853, Preisdent Franklin Pierce heard these same words as part of the American Indian reply about the purchase of Indian territory by the white man.

Yoder, who taugh school for 40 years and retired at age 59, lectured about his Indian artifact collection as a younger man. Now, at 86, he estimates his collection at more than 3,000 pieces, most found in Mifflin County. His collection was featured in the 1980 "Who's Who in Indian Relics #5" and he has exhibited his collection at Millersville State College and at the Lewistown Library.

Yoder, a former teacher, donated his collection so that many children would have the opportunity to see "pieces of history."

He found his first piece, a six-inch stone knife, near Union Mills, Belleville, as a 12-year-old, and the bug bit as he put it.

"In 1972, after the flood, when the waters receded and the sun started to shine, I found 52 in one day," he states. Forty-two years ago, Yoder and his wife Estella moved from Belleville to a farm near McVeytown with fields along the Juniata River.

I never counted, but I donated the 1,008 arrowheads I found in Mifflin County to the Mennonite Heritage Center in Belleville so the youngsters can go and see, and I still have another 800 or so," he said..

And that's just arrowheads. He's also found grooved tomahawks, pestles of different shapes, children's toys such as stone eagles and stone boats, spuds (a stone tool used to peel bark off logs to make canoes), paint pots, and hammer stones. He's even found a vertebra impaled with the arrowhead intact.

(Turn to Page B3)

As part of his Indian artifact collection, Yoder has this 14-inch bowl that was chipped into a usable shape from one piece of stone. A farmer plowed it up in Centre County.

Jonas Yoder began collecting arrowheads when he was 12 years old. Now at 86 years old, Yoder has more than 3,000 Indian artifacts.

Indian's Response To The White Man's Quest For Land

An article in the April 1989 issue of the "DIARY" submitted by Dr. John A. Hostetler provides the Native American's point of view and frame of mind regarding land. It was based on a reply to President Franklin Pierce in 1853. It helps us to better understand the Inidans reaction to the coming encroachment of the white man.

"How can you buy or sell the sky, the warmth of the land? Every part of the earth is sacred to my people. Every shining pine needle, every sandy shore, every mist in the dark woods, every clearing and every humming insect is holy in the memory of my people. The sap which courses through the trees carries the memories of the red man. Our dead never forget this beautiful earth, for it is the mother of the red man. We are part of the earth and it is part of us. The perfumed flowers are our sisters; the deer, the horse, the great eagle, these are our brothers. The rocky crests, the flowers in the meadows, the body heat of the pony and man — all belong to the same family. The shining water that moves in the streams and rivers is not just water but the blood of our ancestors. The water's murmur is the voice of my father's father.

The rivers are our brothers, they quench our thirst. The rivers carry our canoes, and feed our children. We know that the white man does not understand our ways. The earth is not his brother, but his enemy, and when he has conquered it, he moves on. He leaves his father's children and he does not care. His father's grave, and his children's birthright are forgotten. He treats his mother, the earth, and his brother the sky, as things to be bought, plundered, sold like sheep or bright beads. His appetite will devour the earth and leave behind only a desert.

I do not know. Our ways are different from your ways. The sight of your cities pains the red man's eyes. There is no quiet place in your cities. No place to hear the unfurling leaves in spring, or the rustle of an insect's wings. And what is there to life if a man cannot hear the lonely cry of the whipporwill or the arguments of the frogs around a pond a night? I am a red man and I do not understand.

The air is precious to the red man, for all things share the same breath — the beast, the tree, the man — they all share the same breath. The white man does not seem to notice the air he breathes. Likea man dying for many days, he is numb to the stench. If we sell you our land, you must remember that the air is precious to us, that the air shares its spirit with all the life it supports. The wind that gave our grandfather his first breath also receives his last sigh.

The white man must treat the beasts of the land as his brothers. I am a savage and I do not understand how the smoking iron horse can be more important than the buffalo that we kill only to stay alive. What is man without beasts? If all the beasts were gone, man would die from great loneliness of spirit. For whatever happens to the beasts, soon happens to man. All things are connected. Teach your children what we have taught our children, that the earth is our mother. Whatever befalls the earth befalls the sons of the earth.

Even to the white man, whose God walks and talks with him as friend to friend, cannot be exempt from the common destiny. We may be brothers after all. One thing we know, which the white man may one day discover — our God is the same God. You may think now that you own Him as you wish to own our land; but you cannot. His compassion is equal for the red man and the white. The earth is precious to Him, and to harm the earth is to heap contempt on its creator. The whites too shall pass. Contaminate your bed, and you will one night suffocate in your own waste!

But in your perishing you will shine brightly, fired by the strength of God who brought you to this land and for some special purpose gave you dominion over this land and over the red men. That destiny is a mystery to us, for we do not understand when the buffalo are all slaughtered, the wild horses are tamed, the secret corners of the forest heavy with the scent of many men, and the view of the ripe hills blotted by talking wires. Where is the thicket? Gone. Where is the eagle? Gone. The end of living and the beginning of survival."

Homestead Notes

He's bought or traded for other pieces, like the 14-inch wide and tall stone pot. A Centre County farmer plowed it up and Yoder overheard two men talking at a sale. He later approached the man about buying it.

Unfolding a cloth, Yoder draws out something he calls a specimen of great manuel dexterity — a ceremonial spear. It's full 14 inches of pure white stone contrasts with the protective black cloth, and Yoder exclaims, "Can you imagine you and I developing the patience to chip it out, to come up with that? But they didn't worry about time — they had no clocks!"

Yoder advises the novice collector to begin looking near springs, streams, and rivers. Then look for chips, a sign that arrowheads were formed there. He also does most of his searching after a strong rain or after flood waters have subsided and the ground dries some. Indian artifacts have actual pieces chipped away as opposed to a smoother stone that's only shaped like an arrowhead.

As a rule, Yoder says, the rougher cut the artifact, the older the age and possibly the more valuable, although some rough arrowheads were hastily made during times of war. Beginners can see photos of artifacts and prices in the Prehistoric Antiquities & Archaeological News published in Sunbury, Ohio.

Yoder said arrowheads were made from four types of rock — black flint, rhyolite, chert, and quartz. The rhyolite came from the Chambersburg area where piles of rhyolite chips can still be seen, says Yoder. And then he laughs, "At least that's what they tell me. Nothing changes history as much as historians."

But below this collector's lighthearted approach to his hobby lies two very different and conflicting emotions — one of an ancestral massacre and the other of a white nation's attempt to annihilate the Indian nation.

Yoder painfully reads the 1757 historical account of the Indian attack on the Jacob Hochstetler family but also donates to an Indian children's school out west, because he believes in helping Indian children.

Not surprisingly, the most memorable artifact experience of this former teacher involves children.

"A teacher at Lock Haven University adopted two Indian boys and they were visiting her mother in McVeytown during the McVeytown Fair. I had my arrowhead exhibit there on 64 square feet of plywood frames. I went home to get a double handful of arrowheads for those boys. To see the expression on their faces! I always thought that was the most pleasant experience with my hobby," Yoder said.

Farm Women Societies

Berks Society 4

Society of Farm Women of Berks County Group 4 traveled to Loysville, Perry County, to the home of Verna Taylor for their August meeting.

Following the business meeting conducted by president Mary Fizz, a picnic lunch was enjoyed by members and family. Charlotte Mauger was surprised with a birthday cake and a Farm Women's 80th anniversary pin from the group.

The next meeting September 7 will be a safety program at the home of Mary Fizz.

Are your wheat profits getting lost at the mill?

You've just harvested your wheat crop and the yields look pretty good. Looks like you'll even make enough to pay your taxes. Then you haul the grain to the mill. It's weighed. And you find out your test weights are under 58 lb/bu.

So instead of getting full profit, you lose 8¢ for every bushel you produce. Even more if your test weights are substantially under 58 lb/bu. So much for paying off the taxes.

Maximize your profits with unmatched test weights.

With Hoffman 89, you'll get every penny from your wheat crop. In three-year trials conducted by Penn State and the University of Maryland, Hoffman 89 weighed in with the top test weight across all locations.

Best of all, it produced test weights of 58 lb/bu or more every single time, topping the mean test weight by at least 4%.

Get superior test weights without sacrificing yield.

But superior test weights are only half the story with Hoffman 89. You'll also get top-end yields that will have you smiling all the way to the bank.

Its 98 bu/A average, for example, produced a 5% advantage over the mean yield of 92.9 bu/A in Lancaster County trials. At $3.00 per bushel, you'd make $15.30 more per acre using Hoffman 89.

Winter hardiness boosts plant population.

Hoffman 89 features excellent winter hardiness to improve percent stand come spring. It also tillers better than many varieties to increase overall plant population. Superior standability and Powdery Mildew tolerance ensure maximum yield potential for added profitability.

Stop losing your profits at the mill.

Tired of losing your profits at the mill? Then call your local Hoffman sales representative. Or call Hoffman Seeds at 1-800-776-7929. We'll show you how to get the most from your wheat crop using Hoffman 89.

On being a farm wife - And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

Everyone's house has a few of them.

Some peoples' houses are chocked full of them.

Ours has at least its share. Maybe more.

It's that stuff that you use only on occasion, but absolutely have to keep around for those periodic instances when you couldn't possibly be without it. You know, those items that clog your basement shelves, multiply in the garage and fall on your head when you open the hall closet.

The stuff you probably can't find when you finally do need it.

(We have a place on the farm, too, where such agricultural items are kept. We call it The Farmer's shop.)

Digging out the canning equipment recently, I pondered on some the miscellaneous items accumulated over the years, faithfully stored and of great necessity for perhaps three or four days out of 365.

Like my Foley food mill. Running tomatoes for pasta sauce through it's hand-cranked sieve, the sturdy metal dark and discolored from use, I remembered another, more costly, gadget once acquired for the same job. But the food mill is less hassle to use and easier to clean up, so the other gathers dust on a basement shelf.

Also called into use for tomato canning season is a vintage, wide-mouthed funnel of aluminum, perfect for filling jars. The funnel is battered and crinkled from fighting for cupboard space with other items of other eras. Like the plastic set of popsicle makers untouched in years. And cookie cutters. Who has time to roll out, cut and decorate shaped cookies?

Keeping company near the canning stuff is a 20-cup coffee pot. It came into our lives years ago for use while exhibiting at cattle shows.

Now in retirement, it perks into life only for the occasional meeting or large family gathering we might host.

Then, too, there are items stored for periodic use - and lost. (Maybe not at your house, but certainly at ours!) Several years ago, my mother gifted me with an attractive, insulated, beverage carafe. I carefully stored it where it could be found when needed - and then couldn't. It turned up later as I searched for something else - and then got lost a second time.

By the time the carafe and I had agreed on a mutually convenient spot to meet one another, a tablecloth turned up missing. This heavy, plastic-coated, outdoor tablecloth was a gift from a good friend who sent it along back with a picnic table their family had borrowed.

The tablecloth spent all last summer on our back porch - covering the picnic table. I wiped it extra clean for storage in the fall, carefully folded it and put it away. Somewhere. I remember running across it in the spring - while looking for something else - and mentally noting that it would soon be needed again. Then lost the mental note.

That tablecloth still hasn't turned up, but should still be in mint condition for next summer. If I can find it.

And while thinking about all this, a floor polisher that hasn't been used for years suddenly came to mind. I haven't a clue where in the house it might be. Or if it's even in the house any longer.

Indeed, perhaps the time has come to make a clean sweep of the place and hold a "clearance" yard sale. Except I might need some of this stuff. Someday.

If I can just find it.

Bake Sale Set

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — If you happen to be traveling or vacationing in the Lancaster County tourist country on Saturday, September 4, the Labor Day weekend, 8 a.m.-4 p.m., be sure to turn north on Shirk Rd., 1½ mile off Rt. 23 west of New Holland.

The 13th annual bake sale is being held at Beiler Hydraulics-Homemade ice cream will be made on site with antique hit and miss engines and old-time freezers.

The local community will be making subs, soft pretzels, chicken barbecue, chicken corn soup, and plenty of fresh baked goods, fruits, vegetables, quilts, crafts, and much more. (Chicken barbecue, baked potatoes, and coleslaw) platters will be served at noon).

This is a annual nonprofit event done by the community as a fund drive to help the unfortunate families with large hospital bills.

Telling the Old, Old Stories

These past two weeks I spent a lot of time gathering with family and old friends. Over the hustle and bustle of a family reunion or the covered dish picnic table, I found myself listening, once again to the old, old stories of my life. I reminded myself that these moments are gold for the soul...to hear the stories that tell who I am as a person.

It seems with each telling, I discover some previously unknown fact. For instance, I never knew that my great uncle (who died when I was two) had rheumatic fever as a young child. I heard that little known fact during some story telling at a great aunt's funeral last week. Sharing memories is a wonderful thing. At this same funeral gathering, family members recalled memories of growing up years and favorite outings.

Those of us who shared a table that afternoon — who hugged, and cried, and told the old stories — are richer now. Author Elizabeth Berg writes that telling the old stories adds a "sense of order and stability to our lives." She says our stories and traditions "identify us like a finger print. They anchor us."

Much of what makes families strong is their commitment to each other, their shared time, and strong communication skills. Story telling is a great way to capitalize on all these facets, and road trips provide excellent storytelling times. My husband and I spent more than two hours in a car recently with my grandparents. What a joy! We talked the whole time. My grandparents must have been exhausted by the questioning. But I loved it! I need to hear the stories — to rehearse my family's history.

Grandpa told me that he had lived in at least TWELVE (!) different homes as a child. Being the child of a tenant farmer during the depression brings a wealth of life experiences. Hearing him talk gives me a fresh perspective on my daily struggles. Carpenter ants and crabgrass in my lawn seem infinitely small compared to the experiences of loading a household of belongings onto a horse-drawn wagon for a move or riding a mule to town to seek emergency medical care for someone. I will remember that car ride and those stories for a long time.

For families, the process of storytelling itself becomes a tradition that brings love, comfort and meaning into our lives. And end-of-summer family gatherings and class reunions are just two of the events that inspire the stories. Go ahead; take a risk, and ask a question. Take a moment to wonder about the past. What don't you know? My family spent a couple humorous moments speculating about how a silly rhyme about me originated. Encourage younger children to explore old photos or attic treasures. The stories come naturally as you share these moments.

Some of my fondest stories come from the years that I was a counselor at a summer church camp. Each Friday night at the bonfire, the staff would sing a song for the campers that had the line, "Soak each second out of every day." These past few weeks, I've really been soaking up the seconds with my family. I encourage you to do the same. Over a tall glass of lemonade, tell stories to your children and grandchildren, to your old friends. Reflect on the events of your life that make you who you are. Then ask a question and listen to the tales that others tell.

Don't miss your chance this week to soak up the precious time you have by telling or requesting an old, old story.

The first "Ice Cream Banner Contest," sponsored by Pennsylvania's dairy farmers, the Harrisburg Senators, and WNNK-FM, featured 20 different banners made by people from the Harrisburg area. Brad Verbos, far right, from Hummelstown, was the winner of the contest and received a $500 cash prize for his nearly 10 foot banner depicting a Senator player enjoying some ice cream. John Morningstar, center, from Camp Hill, was the second place winner of the contest and Jason Criss, far left, from Harrisburg, was the third place winner. The contest was organized by the Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program to promote ice cream and Senators baseball. WNNK-FM in Harrisburg provided more than $5,000 of free airtime to promote the event and Pennsylvania ice cream.

WHITNEYVILLE (Tioga Co.) — Ask Sarah Lathrop why she wanted to be the 1993 Tioga County Fair Queen and watch her eyes light up.

"I think we have a Great fair. I love the agricultural end of it, having shown Holsteins, as well as horses, in the past. I showed my horse this year, too. I enjoy the fair, and wanted to be a part of it."

The spunky 17-year-old daughter of Steve and Sharon Lathrop of Mansfield got her wish Tuesday, Aug. 10, when she was crowned on the opening night of the fair. For the next five days she welcomed visitors, met celebrities and dignitaries, and distributed ribbons to show winners with a bright, easy smile that came naturally. It was obvious this queen considered her work fun.

When she wasn't Sarah Lathrop, Fair Queen, she was Sarah Lathrop, equestrian, competing in the Tioga County 4-H Horse Show. With her 12-year-old thoroughbred Clint Eastwood, she garnered four blue ribbons in Hunter Seat Equitation Senior Division, Working Hunter Horses, Hunter Horses Under Saddle, and English Pleasure, as well as placed third in Open Trail Horse and fourth in Grooming and Showmanship.

There was another perk during the week of the fair for Sarah, as well. "I loved being able to work with my best friend (Tioga County Dairy Princess) Becky Bechtel. She's my neighbor and we go everywhere together." With a sparkling grin, Sarah said she looks forward to sharing the spotlight with Becky in upcoming parades and other events they'll be attending together throughout the year.

Sarah is a senior at Mansfield High School. Her involvement in numerous school and extracurricular activities, no doubt, prepared her for her bustling fair schedule. She is a member of SADD, her school's basketball, volleyball, and softball teams, Student Council treasurer, secretary of the Key Club and Fellowship Christian Athletes, and president of Trailblazers 4-H group.

"Lee and Sue Drew are the Trailblazers' coordinators. I think it's important to give them credit," Sarah said of her mentors.

She also operates her own horse boarding business, Breezy Meadows, on her family's 11 acres. In its second year, Breezy Meadows provides Sarah with enough money for her to travel with her horse to state and district level competitions.

After graduating from high school, Sarah plans to attend Messiah College or Lock Haven University to become certified as a physical therapist with an athletic training background.

Ways To Eat More Than An Apple A Day

Apples are the perfect snack food: they're portable, great tasting, and good for you with only 81 calories a piece and no cholesterol.

In addition to those basic nutritional benefits, medical research is showing that a diet including lots of apples may help prevent serious health problems such as heart disease, osteoporosis, diabetes, stroke, and certain types of cancer.

Apples are rich in dietary fiber, providing 4.28 grams per serving, ranking just behind prunes in fiber content. The National Cancer Institute has suggested that diets high in fiber may reduce the risk of developing certain types of cancer.

In addition to fiber content, apples are a good source of pectin, which is known to reduce blood cholesterol levels. The pectin in apples helps to form a gel in the small intestine that traps cholesterol and moves it through the body before it can be reabsorbed. The National Institute of Health has concluded that lowering blood cholesterol will reduce the risk of coronary heart disease.

Applesauce makes it possible to lower fat and calories when you bake. Substitute applesauce in place of oil, butter, margarine, or shortening and enjoy a delicious homebaked treat that's lower in fat and calories.

APPLE CRUNCH SALAD

6-ounce package strawberry gelatin
1¼ cups boiling water
1½ cups apple juice
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 cup peeled, finely chopped apples
½ cup finely chopped celery
½ cup finely chopped pecans

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Stir in apple juice and cinnamon. Then chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Stir in remaining ingredients. Pour into a greased or sprayed 8-inch square dish; chill until firm. Makes 9 servings.

DELICIOUSLY EASY CAKE

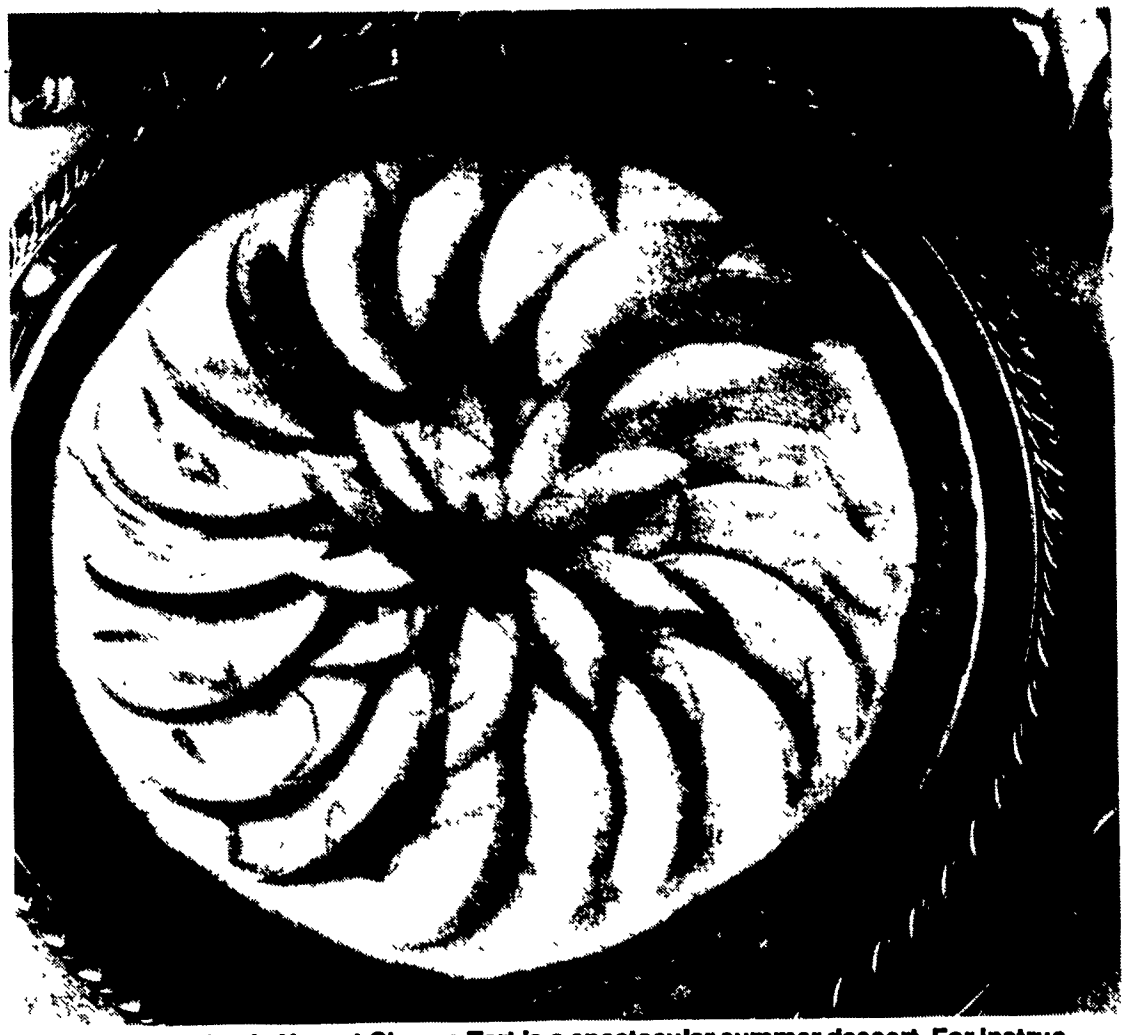
⅓ cup applesauce
1 cake mix, yellow or lemon
1¼ cups water
3 egg whites

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Spray desired-size pan with non-stick cooking spray.

In a medium bowl, beat together with electric mixer, cake mix, water, egg whites and applesauce until smooth 2 minutes.

Pour batter into prepared pans and bake according to package directions.

Cool in pans on rack. Remove when completely cool, frost cake.



A smooth Apple Yogurt Cheese Tart is a spectacular summer dessert. For instructions to make this tart, see the featured recipe on this page.

Featured Recipe

A smooth Apple Yogurt Cheese Tart is a spectacular summer dessert. The light and creamy filling is a perfect complement to the tart-sweet Granny Smiths. Whether you make your own crust from ground cookie crumbs, or use a prepared graham cracker crust, this stunning tart is easy to make... without heating up the kitchen. The crust and filling may be assembled a day ahead and the swirl of apple slices placed on the tart before mealtime. Granny Smith apples stay crisp and white far longer than most other apples, so your tart will look fresh and tasty when served. A simple apple jelly glaze and a sprinkling of orange peel add finishing touches to this elegant tart.

Apple Yogurt Cheese Tart

2 cups ground cookie crumbs or graham cracker crumbs
5 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted or 1 9-inch prepared graham-cracker crumb crust
¼ cup water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
2 8-ounce packages light cream cheese, softened
1 8-ounce container low-fat vanilla yogurt
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 large Cape Granny Smith apple, grated

For Garnish

1 large Cape Granny Smith apple, cored and thinly sliced
2 tablespoons apple jelly, melted in a small saucepan over low heat
2 teaspoons grated orange peel

To make crust: Pre-heat oven to 350°F. In a small bowl combine cookie crumbs and melted butter. Press mixture into bottom and sides of 9½ inch fluted tart pan. Bake 12 minutes or until crust is golden. Remove to wire rack to cool completely. If using prepared graham-cracker crust, omit the above step.

In small saucepan combine water, gelatin and sugar; let stand 5 minutes for gelatin to soften slightly. Over medium-low heat, heat mixture until gelatin dissolves, stirring frequently. Set aside to cool slightly, about 10 minutes.

In large bowl with mixer at medium speed, beat cream cheese, yogurt, orange peel and nutmeg until well blended and smooth; stir in gelatin mixture and grated Granny Smith apple. Spoon mixture into prepared tart pan. Refrigerate at least 2 hours or until set.

To serve, arrange sliced Granny Smith apples in concentric circles on tart. Brush slices with melted apple jelly; sprinkle with grated orange peel.

Makes 8 servings.

DILLED APPLE CHICKEN SALAD

2 boneless, skinless chicken breast halves
2 apples, cored and chopped
2 celery stalks, sliced
1 cup seedless green grapes, cut in half
½ cup low-fat mayonnaise
2 tablespoons fresh chopped dill
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup pistachio nuts, shelled
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
Boston lettuce leaves

Cook chicken and cut into bite-sized chunks. In large bowl, combine chicken, chopped apples, celery, grapes, mayonnaise, dill, lemon juice, nuts, salt, and pepper until well mixed. Arrange lettuce leaves on platter; top with salad.

Makes 4 servings.

APPLE YOGURT CHEESE TART

2 cups ground cookie crumbs
5 tablespoons butter, melted
¼ cup water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
2 8-ounce packages light cream cheese, softened
8-ounces low-fat vanilla yogurt
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 lage apple, grated

For garnish:

1 large apple, cored and thinly sliced
2 tablespoons apple jelly, melted in a small saucepan over low heat
2 teaspoons grated orange peel

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In small bowl, combine cookie crumbs and melted butter. Press mixture into bottom and sides of 9½ -inch fluted tart pan. Bake 12 minutes or until crust is golden. Cool.

In small saucepan combine water, gelatin, and sugar; let stand 5 minutes for gelatin to soften slightly. Over medium-low heat, heat mixture until gelatin dissolves, stirring frequently. Set aside to cool slightly, about 10 minutes.

In large bowl, beat cream cheese, yogurt, orange peel, and nutmeg until well blended and smooth; stir in gelatin mixture and grated apple. Spoon mixture into prepared tart pan. Refrigerate at least 2 hours or until set.

To serve, arrange sliced apples in concentric circles on tart. Brush sides with melted apple jelly; sprinkle with grated orange peel. Makes 8 servings.

CHOCOLATE APPLESAUCE CAKE

1½ cups flour
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup cocoa
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup applesauce
½ cup cold water
⅓ cup vegetable oil
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon vinegar

Combine dry ingredients. Add remaining ingredients; blend until all is moistened. Pour into a greased and floured 8-inch square or round pan. Bake 35 to 40 minutes at 350 degrees. Cake is moist enough to eat unfrosted or good with your favorite buttercream frosting.

CHEDDAR APPLE SNACKS

1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
3-ounces cream cheese, softened
½ cup finely chopped pecans
1 tablespoon milk
½ teaspoon nutmeg
3 medium-sized apples
Fresh lemon juice
Crackers, if desired

Beat cheeses in small mixing bowl until light and fluffy. Stir in nuts, milk, and nutmeg. Chill, covered, 3 to 4 hours to allow flavors to blend. Remove from refrigerator while preparing apples. Core unpeeled apples and cut into ½ -inch thick slices. Dip in lemon juice to prevent darkening. Spread each slice with cheese mixture. Put back together to reshape half or whole apples. Serve with crackers on the side.

Breast Cancer Campaign Focuses On Rural Women

Too many rural women may be dying from breast cancer, simply because their disease isn't being detected soon enough. Getting regular mammograms — the single most effective tool for finding breast cancer early — could save many of those lives. The problem, according to a recent survey by the American Cancer Society, is that two thirds of rural women either don't know they need mammograms, or don't get them, even though they know they need them.

One of the nation's largest agrochemical companies is committed to changing that, with the most ambitious and far-reaching breast cancer awareness campaign in American history.

Zeneca Ag Products Group (formerly ICI Ag Products Group), and its parent, Zeneca Inc., are spearheading the nation's first ever National Mammography Day. The event is set for October 19, the midway point of National Breast Cancer Awareness Month (NBCAM). The goal of this precedent-setting effort is to encourage millions of American women — particularly those living in rural settings or who are otherwise underserved by the medical community — to get or sign up for mammograms.

Since cost is a major obstacle for so many women, Zeneca, a founder and cosponsor of NBCAM, has worked closely with its Board of Sponsors to secure a commitment from more than 1,600 accredited radiology facilities to offer free or discounted mammograms throughout October. Women will be able to call three toll-free numbers to find a participating facility in or near their community. The American Cancer Society: 1-800-ACS-2345; The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation: 1-800-I'M-AWARE; and Y-ME, National Breast Cancer Organization: 1-800-221-2141.)

Throughout late September and early October, special events, known as "Capitol Kick-Offs" will be held all across the country. Governors, state legislatures, mayors and city councils — from Arkansas to California — will issue proclamations officially declaring October 19 "National Mammaography Day." Thousands of department stores, drug stores, and groceries will be displaying posters and tent cards to help spread the word to as many women as possible. These outreach efforts will be complemented by public service announcements on television, radio, in newspapers and magazines.

"We believe very deeply in this program, and felt it was something we had to do as a company that is in the business of serving the rural community" says Bob Woods, President of Zeneca Ag Products Group. "Our company is all about making life more abundant. I can't think of a better way to put our money where our mouth is, than to support a program that will enhance the length and quality of our customers' lives." But Woods adds that he has another and more personal reason. "I'm the father of three daughters," he says, "I want to do something to make the future better for them."

Woods has seen, first hand, the difference early detection can make. Zeneca was one of the first companies in the nation to establish an on-site mammography program. All of its female employees in Wilmington, Delaware receive free mammograms, on company time, and on company premises. They are also provided classes in proper breast-self examination, another important component of early detection. That's how Lynn Curren, who works in Woods' division, found her breast cancer last year while it was still in its very early stages. "Zeneca's program saved my life," Curren says, adding "I only hope other companies will do the same for the women who work for them."

Zeneca hopes so, too. In addition to National Mammography Day, the company is sponsoring the first ever nationwide corporate videoconference on worksite screening and education programs for breast cancer. "Breast Cancer: Saving Lives & Dollars" presented in cooperation with the NBCAM Board of Sponsors and the Public Broadcasting Service, is designed to encourage American companies to bring early detection programs to their worksite. (For more information on this program, call Ms. Peggy McArdle, NBCAM Videoconference Coordinator, at 212-581-2200.)

"Worksite programs for breast cancer are a win/win proposition," says Zeneca Chairman, Keith Willard. "Ours has saved the lives of eight employees and some $250,000.00 in reduced lost days of work and hospitalization. This is the right thing for companies to do. It's right morally. It's right medically. It makes tremendous economic sense for any size company."

Willard isn't alone in his enthusiasm. Eight members of the Fortune-500 now offer on-site mammography screening to their employees, and growing numbers are bringing mobile mammography vans to their corporate campuses. The sponsors of National Breast Cancer Awareness Month hope that, between these corporate programs and public awareness efforts, such as National Mammography Day, more and more American women will find their breast cancer early, and go on to lead active, productive lives.

Lyme Network Begins Campaign

WINDSOR (York Co.) — First Capital Lyme Network an educational and support non-profit organization will begin a major fund raising/educational campaign in September. FCLN promotes awareness and prevention of lyme disease for local communities via: lectures, support group (s), speakers, information packets, the latest updated medical information, and a physician registry. Pennsylvania ranks third in the nation with reported cases of lyme disease. The department of health has stated that there is virtually no county in Pennsylvania which is known to be free of this disease. Lyme disease can become a chronic and debilitating disease. Through proper preventative measures and a greater public awareness First Capital Lyme Network hopes to prevent such occurances. First Capital Lyme Network asks for your contributions during this campaign in order to continue their vital community work. Every dollar goes directly towards this goal. The many involved in the organization do so on a voluntary basis. Please support First Capital Lyme Network's efforts. You can contact their office at 717-246-9094 or at R.D. #1 Box 22A, Windsor, Pa. 17366 for more information, or to send your contribution.

Thank you for your concern on this community matter.

Don't disappoint her. Recipes will be printed in the September 4th and 25th issue.

QUESTION — N.A.K. of Lebanon would like a recipe for individual Pineapple Upside-Down Cakes made in muffin tins.

ANSWER — Mrs. Edgar Obenstine Sr., Middletown, wanted to know where she can purchase liquid laundry bluing, an ingredient required to make the chemical garden recipe that appeared in this column. Last week, a mail-order address appeared for the bluing. Thanks to Louise Graybeal of Renick, W.Va., who sent the company's address: Luther Ford & Co. Box 201405, Bloomington, MN 55420. For $10, which includes shipping and handling, they will mail 3 8-ounce bottles of bluing. They do not ship smaller amounts. In case you are wondering what to do with all that bluing, Louise said that her mother used it in her last rinse water to make clothes whiter and brighter. Her grandmother used it as a rinse for her hair, which made it a pretty silver white with no yellow. Use on pet hair for the same effect. A dab put on an insect bite will give immediate relief; a few drops in rinse water makes crystal, mirrors, and windows sparkle.

ANSWER — Vera Z. wanted a recipe for a good moist banana cake. Thanks to Kathy Konhus, Pottsville; Anna Newcomer, York; Shirley Metcalf, York, and Janet Nolt, Denver, for sending recipes.

Banana Cake

4½ cups flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons baking soda
2 cups mashed bananas
2 cups buttermilk
1½ cups shortening
3 cups sugar
4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla

Cream shortening and sugar until fluffy. Add egg, beat well. Add vanilla. Mash bananas and add to buttermilk. Mix dry ingredients. Alternately add flour mixture, banana mixture, to egg mixture, beating well. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes.

Moist Banana Cake

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 cups cake flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅔ teaspoons baking soda
5 tablespoons sour milk
1 cup banana pulp
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until fluffy. Add beaten eggs and vanilla; beat until light. Sift flour, measure and sift again with dry ingredients. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk. Beat thoroughly after each addition. Fold in banana pulp until well blended into mixture. Pour into greased layer pans and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Makes 2 9-inch layers.

Anna writes that this is a moist and tender cake.

Moist And Fluffy Banana Cake

Into one bowl, put 3 bananas and whip until creamy; set aside.

Into second bowl, sift together:
½ teaspoon baking powder
2 cups flour
¾ teaspoon baking soda

Into third bowl, put:
½ cup soft shortening
1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup buttermilk or whole milk with ½ teaspoon vinegar

Beat well, add flour mixture alternately with buttermilk. Add mashed bananas. Pour into greased and floured pans. Makes 2 8-inch square or 1 9x13-inch pan. Serve warm or cold with whipped cream or cool and top with a light layer of creamy vanilla icing.

Banana Sour Cream Cake

1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups mashed banana
1 cup sour cream
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts, optional

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, sour cream, bananas, and vanilla. Mix well. Sift together flour, baking soda, baking powder, and salt. Add to creamed mixture. Add nuts last. Bake in a greased and floured 13x9-inch pan at 325 degrees for 10 minutes; reduce heat and bake at 300 degrees for 45 minutes or until done. For tube pan, bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes or until done.

Frost with confectioners' sugar or buttercream frosting.

ANSWER — Mrs. Richard Laughman, Chambersburg, wanted a recipe for Best Ever Pickles. Thanks to Anna Newcomer, York, for sending the recipe.

Best Ever Pickles

300 cucumbers, 2-inches long
⅔ cup salt
Boiling water to cover
2 quarts vinegar
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup salt
¼ cup dry mustard
½ cup mixed pickling spices
3 pounds sugar

Wash pickles and place in large stone jar. Let stand overnight; drain and wipe dry. Return to stone jar; cover with the following vinegars, ¼ cup sugar, salt, and spices. Reserve 3 pounds sugar, adding ½ cup each morning. Stir with wooden spoon after addition. When sugar is used, pickles are ready to use.

CARROT CAKE

1 cup applesauce
3 cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup light brown sugar
1 cup granulated sugar
6 egg whites
1 orange peel and juice
3 cups peeled, shredded carrots
1 cup raisins

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Spray a bundt-style pan with non-stick cooking spray.

In a medium bowl, combine flour, baking powder, baking soda, cinnamon and salt. Set aside.

In a large bowl, beat together with electric mixer, applesauce, brown and granulated sugars, egg whites and the peel and juice of the orange. Blend in flour mixture with mixer on medium speed, beating until smooth. Stir in carrots and raisins.

Pour batter into prepared pan and bake for 60 to 65 minutes or until cake tester comes out clean. Remove cake from pan and place on wire rack, cool completely. Glaze cake with orange glaze.

Orange glaze:
2 tablespoons applesauce
2 cups confectioners' sugar
1-2 tablespoons orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange peel

Combine all the other ingredients and spoon over cooled cake.

APPLE CAKE

½ cup shortening
1 egg
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup flour
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon
2 cups apples, chopped

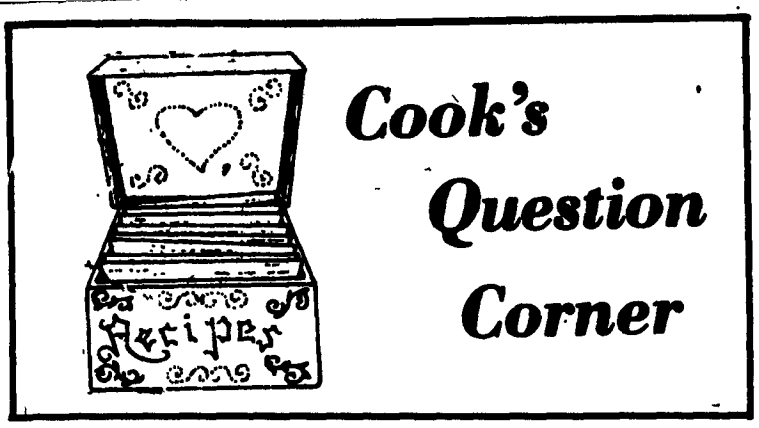
Cream together shortening, egg, sugar, and vanilla. Mix remaining ingredients into the creamed mixture. Put into 9x13-inch baking pan. Sprinkle ½ cup nuts on top of batter. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Charlotte Lehman
Hagerstown, Md.

APPLESAUCE

6 medium apples, peeled and quartered
½ cup water
⅓ cup sugar (or 1 teaspoon Nutrasweet or 1¼ teaspoon saccharin)
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon

Place apples and water in a 4-quart saucepan, and bring to a boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 8 to 10 minutes or until tender. Or heat in a microwave by placing apples and ¼ cup water in a 4-quart microwave-safe baking dish. Cover and cook on high power for 6 to 8 minutes or until tender. Crush cooked apples with a potato masher or electric beater. Stir in sugar and cinnamon. Makes about 1 quart.



Cook's Question Corner

ANSWER — A.A. Min, Geneva, N.Y., wanted recipes to make cake-in-a-jar. Thanks to Debra McGrew, Glenville, for sending a recipe.

Canned Applesauce Cake

⅔ cup shortening
3⅓ cups sugar
4 large eggs
2 cups applesauce
1½ cups raisins, optional
⅔ cup chopped nuts, optional
3⅓ cups flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons baking soda
1½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground cloves

Cream shortening with sugar. Beat in eggs and applesauce. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and spices. Blend with applesauce mixture. Add nuts and raisins.

Fill clean, greased or oiled wide-mouth pint jars one-half full of batter. Bake at 325 degrees in open jars about 45 to 50 minutes. When done, quickly remove one jar at a time and clean its sealing edge. Immediately apply and firmly tighten a two-piece wide mouth canning lid. The lid will form a vacuum and seal as the jar cools. Jars of cake may be stored with other canned foods or placed in freezer.

Contributor writes, I've used this recipe several times, always with great results. I like to keep some cake-in-a-jar on hand for gifts and busy times when I can't bake but want better than store-bought foods for my family.

ANSWER — Joyce Diffenderfer wanted a recipe for maraschino cherries. Here's a recipe that tastes like store-bought maraschino cherries from E. Horning, Penn Yan, N.Y.

Maraschino Cherries

9 to 10 cups seeded light cherries
2 teaspoons alum powder
2 tablespoons salt
Water to cover

Heat to simmer; simmer for 20 minutes; let set overnight. Next day: Drain and rinse.

Heat the following ingredients to make a syrup and pour over cherries:

6 cups sugar
3 cups water

Later in day or next day, drain and reheat syrup. Add 1-ounce red food coloring (or green if preferred). Add 1-ounce almond extract. Let set one day. Put in pint jars and seal. Place in hot water bath for 10 minutes.

Daylilies Popular With Home Gardeners

RUTGERS, N.J. — According to a recent catalog there are more than 32,000 named varieites of daylily registered and more than 12,000 are currently available. They seem to be available in just about every conceivable color and color combination except true blue and pure white. The cultivars vary in height (of flowers) from 12 inches to more than four feet and can provide bloom from early summer through fall.

Some daylilies have fragrant flowers, frilled petals, double flowers, evergreen foliage or other special features. Some bloom once, others several times, a season. They are practically disease and pest free, are not finicky about soil conditions, and will bloom in part shade. Daylilies are used in formal gardens, naturalized plantings, and even for practical purposes such as stabilizing banks.

Hemerocallis species are natives of Asia and were introduced here by early colonists. An explosion in daylily hybridization took place in this century resulting in the infinite variety now available. Most perennial retailers offer some daylilies and there are many daylily specialists among mail order companies.

Daylilies can be planted anytime from early spring to early fall. Most references recommend dividing crowded daylilies just after they bloom and replanting immediately so they have time to become reestablished before winter. To divide daylilies, lift the clump and pull and pry apart the rooted off shoots. The divisions should be planted at the same level at which they have been growing.

Daylilies will not tolerate soggy soil but otherwise have no special requirements. To prepare a planting area, the soil should be limed if the pH is low and fertilized with some 5-10-10 fertilizer (2-3 lbs. per 100 sq. ft.) or fertilizer as per soil test results before planting. Water the plants during dry periods and mulch for their first winter after the ground freezes.

Poison Ivy

HUNTINGDON (Huntingdon Co.) — Poison ivy need not keep you from enjoying the woods. The most obvious way to avoid its irritating effects is to learn to recognize it and stay away from it. Beyond that, however, long-sleeved shirts and a bar of soap will go a long way toward protection.

Toxicodendron radican, or poison ivy, is best known for its shiny green leaves that grow in groups of three. It is a shrub that often grows not more than a foot high. It also can grow as a vine, climbing trees and fence posts. On rare occasions, poison ivy grows to the height of a small tree.

All parts of the tree are poisonous, causing skin irritation that lasts about two weeks. Most people are sensitive to the oils of the plant and get the disease by touching it. Others can get poison ivy when the plant's oils are released into the air by the heat of a summer day or a brush fire. A strong breeze may be all it takes to spread the irritating oils.

Washing the skin with strong soap as quickly as possible after contact with the plant will help prevent skin irritation. Wearing long pants and long-sleeved shirts in the woods will also help. Shower immediately after coming in from the woods if you are susceptible to poison ivy. And don't forget to wash any clothes that may have come into contact with the plant.

Kids Participate In Ag Progress Days

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

ROCKSPRING (Centre Co.) — Not only do adults learn about new trends in agriculture at Ag Progress but also children can participate in many activities created just for them.

This year, the big attention getter was the Youth Building where homemade toys, games, puzzles, and computers were display for children to experiment with.

Bradley Hook of Lewisburg said that he likes the displays at Ag Progress. He spent a lot of time watching Bill Metzel, the Itinerant Talesman demonstrate simple homemade toys. Metzel entertained crowds with demonstrations of his homemade dulcimer made from a cardboard box.

"This is real backyard music," Wetzel said. "It's a good way to find out if you want to play an instrument before investing in the real thing."

Surrounding Wetzel were tables of toys, games, and musical instruments that kids and adults alike played with.

During the computer lab, Chris Snyder, 10, learns to use a mouse to load haybales unto a wagon.

Ten-year-old Bradley Hook, son of Wayne and Tammy Hook of Lewisburg, experiements with musical intruments.

These children and adults enjoy the petting zoo at Ag Progress Days. The people who operated the activity own Happy Valley Farm, a year-around petting zoo located along Rt. 322, east of State College.

In the same building, Chris Snyder took part in a computer lab. The 10-year-old learned to use a Macintosh computer with a mouse to load hay on a wagon.

The computer classes lasted 20 minutes and Chris said that he learned a lot.

At another booth, Rachel Hilty, 10, and her sisters Joanna, 12, and Melita, 6, stuck earphones on their heads to listen to tapes that told about educational and career opportunities for women.

Children could get a close-up look at owls, hawks, turtles and snakes at the Shaver's Creek Environmental Center exhibit.

Even a petting zoo was open for children. Horse shows and, of course, climbing over the acres of tractors displayed remain favorites for children attending Ag Progress Days.

Here are some pictures of children who attended Ag Progress Days.

Rebecca Sonnen, who works for the Middle Atlantic Milk Marketing Agency, hands out a cow eraser. She also distributed tote bags with a milk promotion message, and answered questions.

Children gather around the display where William Wetzel, itinerant talesman, demonstrates toys and games from around the world. He uses storytelling, participatory activities, and demonstrations to celebrate natural and cultural heritage.

Mrs. John Hilty of Thomasville and her daughters Rachael Hilty, 10; Melita, 6; and Joanna, 12, examine the display at a booth on Women in Ag Sciences. Children put on headphones to listen to tapes of several women who found careers in untraditional fields.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

My husband has gone to Ag Progress Days near State College with a friend. And, so I am home alone but that does not mean that I have nothing to do. I've been there several times and with a basket of peaches and another of tomatoes on the back porch, I felt that I should stay home and can them.

But first I climbed the hill behind our house and picked one quart of ever-bearing strawberries and another quart of red raspberries. Next I picked a small bucket of green beans. Then when I got back to the kitchen, I canned a few quarts of the cucumbers that our grandson, Bradley, helped me pick yesterday. He gingerly picks them up so that the prickly part won't hurt his fingers. He also carried the container for the purple string beans and carried a cantaloupe for me. He is only 2½ years old but he can give a bottle of milk to the calves by himself.

Guess I'll cook some cabbage for dinner as that is something that my husband won't eat. This year I planted cabbage seed and now have several dozen heads. I've made a cole slaw that can be frozen but it takes a lot of work.

Last week Allen and I attended a picnic for senior citizens. They played Bingo and as both he and I won we could take our prize together. It was a ride in the rumble seat of a 1930 Ford! It was something different for me but Allen says that is how he rode to high school every day. I asked, "What happened when it rained?" He said, "We got wet."

Try These Safe Handling Tips For Meat, Poultry

Ground meat and poultry are more perishable than most foods. In the danger zone between 40 and 140 degrees F., bacteria can multiply very rapidly. Since you cannot see, smell or taste bacteria keep the products cold to keep them safe.

SAFE HANDLING

* Choose ground meat packages that are cold and tightly wrapped. The meat surface exposed to air will be red; interior of fresh meat will be dark.

* Put refrigerated and frozen foods in your grocery cart last and make the grocery store your last stop before home.

* Pack perishables in an ice chest if it will take you more than one hour to get home.

* Place ground meat and poultry in the refrigerator or freezer immediately.

* Defrost frozen ground meats in your refrigerator - never at room temperature. If microwave defrosting, cook immediately.

* Set your refrigerator at 40 degrees F. or colder and your freezer at 0 degrees F. or colder.

* Keep uncooked ground meat and poultry in the refrigerator; cook or freeze within 1 to 2 days.

* Use or freeze cooked meat and poultry stored in the refrigerator within 3 or 4 days.

Keep everything clean — hands, utensils, counters, cutting boards and sinks. That way, your food will stay as safe as possible.

* Always wash hands thoroughly in hot soapy water before preparing foods and after handling raw meat.

* Don't let raw meat or poultry juices touch read-to-eat foods either in the refrigerator or during preparation.

* Do not put cooked foods on the same plate that held raw meat or poultry.

* Wash utensils that have touched raw meat with hot, soapy water before using them for cooked meats.

* Wash counter, cutting boards and other surfaces raw meats have touched. And don't forget to keep the inside of your refrigerator clean.

Cooking kills harmful bacteria. Be sure ground meat and poultry are cooked thoroughly.

* The center of patties and meat loaf should not be pink and the juices should run clear.

* Crumbled ground meats should be cooked until no pink color remains.

* Ground meat patties and loaves are safe when they reach 160 degrees F. in the center; ground poultry patties and loaves should be cooked to 165 degrees F.

* During broiling, grilling or cooking on the stove, turn meats over at least one time.

* When baking, set oven no lower than 325 degrees F.

* If microwaving, cover meats. Midway through cooking, turn patties over and rotate the dish; rotate a meat loaf; and stir ground meats once or twice. Let microwaved meats stand to complete cooking process.

* After cooking, refrigerate leftovers immediately. Separate into small portions for fast cooling.

* To reheat all leftovers, cover and heat to 165 degrees F. or until hot and steaming throughout.

Lancaster 4-H'ers Shine At Achievement Night

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Eric Wenger, 17, Manheim, was named Lancaster County's winner of the 4-H Superior Achievement Award during the 4-H Achievement Night last week at the Farm and Home Center.

The son of Alma and Nelson Wenger, he is a nine-year member of the Mastersonville 4-H.

The recognition, formerly called the Outstanding 4-H award, is a culmination of serving 4-H. Eric will serve as county 4-H ambassador for a year.

Also, 4-H scholarships were presented to the following during the even:: Jessica Hill received $500, Sharon LeFevre received $500, Spring Younts received $1,000, and Marilyn Holloway received $1,500.

According to county 4-H agent, Zoann Parker, the county sent 43 4-H members to Penn State this year during 4-H Achievement Days. Placings for various events are as follows: Second place senior air rifle team members include Susan Bentrem, Joe Brandt, Eric Hardman, and Chad Koser. Second place senior archery team members include Tim Everett, Arthur Good, Doug Hanna, and Mike Hartman. Third place junior air pistol members are Kurt Koser, Kristen Koser, Ryan Koser, and Jeff Widders. Third place junior archery team members include Kandi Mullen, Chris Reeder, and Dereck Stoner.

The senior livestock team placed third at the Achievement Days event. They include Dale Livingood, Tracy Bollinger, and Jay Hess. Senior meats judging team took third place, and they include Tim Craig, Peter Hoffins, and Mark Tracy.

Two 4-H members this year received interviews as part of the steps involved in representing Pennsylvania at the National 4-H Congress in Chicago in December. Heather Ranck in bicycle and Marilyn Holloway in the outstanding category made it to the final round, according to Parker. Heather will be attending National Congress in Chicago in December as the state winner and Marilyn will be attending the National Conference in Washington D.C. as a state winner.

Honor roll winners included, junior category, Kerra Allen, first; Pat Strausbaugh, second; and Aaron Ranck, third. Senior category winners are Heather Ranck, first, and Kim McLaughlin, second.

The recently held 4-H fair honored several members, including several who participated in the club scrapbook contest. First place went to Boots and Saddles, second to Saddle Cinches, and third to Mountville Community Club.

Winners of the sheep dressing contest at the 4-H Fair were most original: First, Peter Rush; second, John Schmidt; and third, Jessica Schmidt. Funniest went to Sara Zurin.

Club exhibit winners include first, North West Dairy Club; second, Mount Joy Rabbit Club; and third, Solanco Community Club.

Winner of the senior showman of showman contest was Kari Moyer. Junior showman winner was Kyle Ketting.

Community service contest winners include, first through third, Mount Joy Rabbit Club, Saddle Cinches, and Mastersonville Community Club, respectively.

Talent show winners for the night were, first, Julie Snyder; second, Kim McLaughlin; and third, Heather Ranck.

Marilyn Holloway, last year's Outstanding 4-H'er, congratulates this year's 4-H Superior Achievement Award winner Eric Wenger at the county's achievement night celebrations last week.

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

ROCKSPRING (Centre Co.) — A craft show where you can not buy anything?

That's how the Heritage Craft Show operated during Ag Progress Days on August 17-19.

"Many craftspersons do not like to take the time to appear at a crafts show where they cannot sell, but for others, the exposure allows future contacts," said Louise Fox, coordinator for Centre Pieces, a chapter of the National Quilting Association.

Quilts, wallhangings, pottery, whittling, woodcarving, and other heritage crafts were demonstrated and displayed. Visitors had a chance to ask questions as they observed artisans at work.

After a two-year abscence from the annual Ag Progress event, Centre Pieces was back by popular demand.

"People kept asking for us so Ag Progress organizers begged us to come back," Louise said. "We provide another interest other than machinery, field demonstrations, and production agriculture."

Members took turns demonstrating crafts during the three-day event. While they could not sell their handiwork, the artisians could compile a mailing list and take orders from visitors who are interested in buying.

For Centre Pieces, the event was also a time to add members to its existing 100-person membership. The chapter meets two times a month. Members may join special interest groups that often meet weekly.

"Members share a common interest and we solve lots of world problems," said member Jody Crust of State College.

Members provide a quilt for every child who enters a Ronald McDonald house. The child takes the quilt with him or her when returning home. Members also make quillows, a pillow and quilt combination, which are given to police cruisers in the State College area. When police respond to an accident involving a child, the quillow is given to the child to keep. "Often the child needs to be covered and the quillow is an excellent cover for police to provide," Jody said.

For an annual $10 membership, members can join as many of the special interest groups as desired. "Our members are very eager to help others learn and we don't charge anything for our time," she said.

Other perks of membership include discounts at local fabric shops and a newsletter.

General meetings are held at State College Area Jr. High School. For more information about Centre Pieces, call (814) 237-1490.

Handmade pottery by Heidi Zimbler included place-settings in handmade porcelain. Heidi, a Bavarian native who now resides at Pennsylvania Furnace, said her pottery reflects her South German heritage. Stoneware pots, hand-painted folk designs, tradition and original designs are the result of Heidi's expertise of more than 18 years.

For brochures of Heidi's work, contact her at 214 Wyoming Ave., Pa. Furnace, PA 16865 or call 814 237-0123.

Antoinette Hall and Sylvia Apple incorporate the traditional craft of quilting with contemporary design.

"Creativity with textiles describes our work," Antoinette said. "We use our experience in traditional techniques, combined with original color and design concepts to produce visually exciting and unique pieces."

The women combine their skills to produce one-of-a-kind quilts and wall hangings for commissioned work. Their work has been featured in magazines and galleries across the states. The two also teach and judge quilt shows.

"Our skills are very different but we find that by collaborating together our work is enhanced," Antoinette said.

Sylvia draws the designs and does the applique and handwork while Antoinette does much of the machine piecing of patchwork.

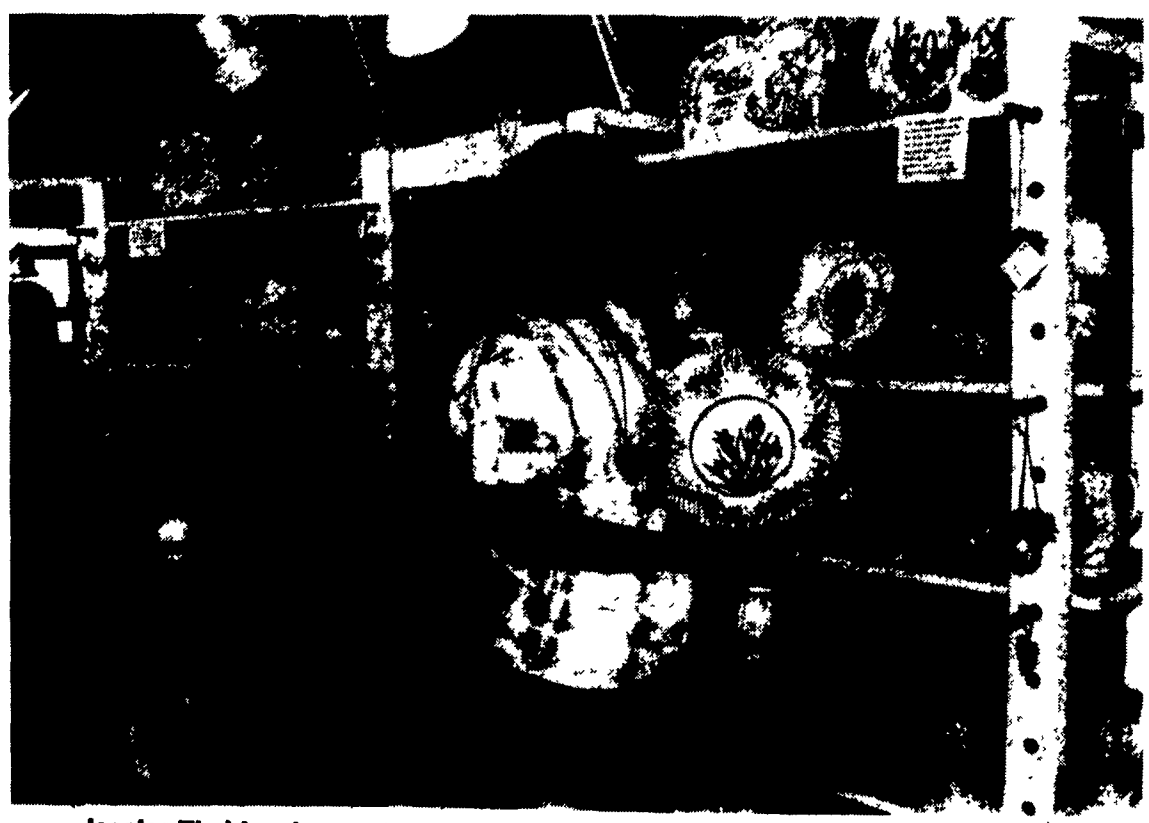
For information on classes and an illustrated price list, write to Fabricrafts, 1108 Mayberry Lane, State College, PA 16801 or call 814 237-3417 or 814 283- 3514.

Other exhibitors included Anne Sullivan, woodworker from State College, Pat DeCous, walking-stick maker from Bethel, Vonny Boarts, whittler and woodcarver from State College.

Visitors at Ag Progress watch as members of Centre Pieces knot a comforter, quilt, and applique in the Craft Barn.

Antoinette Hall is a partner in Fabricrafts, which uses traditional techniques, combined with original color and design to produce unique handcrafted pieces.

Louise Fox, right, coordinator for the Centre Pieces display, and Jody Crust, a member from State College and a farm wife, said that the guild has about 100 members who participate in special interest groups.



Jessica Zimbler shows off some of her mother's pottery that is part of the Ag Progress display.

Rough Riders 4-H

The Rough Riders 4-H Horse and Pony Club held their August meeting recently at Kroener's.

Reports were given by the Trail Ride and Solanco Fair Float committees. Jessica Althouse and Tami Jones shared their experience at State Days.

The Program Committee chairman introduced Vickilyn Bowman, who presented a talk on horse safety.

Club members of the month were Mike Hess and Danny Jones.

Mike Hess, age 11, is in his second year of 4-H. His project horse is a 14-year old Quarter Horse gelding named Cutter Bar Breeze. Mike and his horse enjoy game classes.

Danny Jones, age 11, is also in his second year of 4-H. He is a horseless member and serves on the Program Committee.

For more information on the Rough Riders, contact John Henry at (717) 284-2046.

Mike Hess, left and Danny Jones were named Rough Riders 4-H Horse and Pony Club members of the month.

Council Teaches Beef Basics

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Pennsylvania kids are learning the basics about beef, thanks to a recently revised booklet that includes challenging puzzles and delightful graphics designed to make learning fun!

Funded with beef checkoff dollars, "Basics About Beef" is a helpful teaching tool for use with high school and middle school home economics and nutrition education students. First produced approximately 15 years ago, the recently revised edition of "Basics About Beef" demonstrates how beef fits into a healthy diet and also reflects the newest recommended daily allowances (RDA's) for Americans.

With a contemporary look and a colorful flair that appeals to today's teens, "Basics About Beef" is consistently in demand. In fact, to date more than 21,000 copies of the newly revised booklet have been distributed to teachers and other professionals throughout the United States.

"Basics About Beef" contains important nutrition information and explores all aspects of buying, storing, preparing and serving beef," says David Ivan, Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Beef Council. "Students learn how to make the best beef buy and how to prepare beef to enhance tenderness and flavor. A crossword puzzle and other games and activities help to increase classroom interest and to reinforce the information learned.

"Our booklet is designed to help the younger generation enjoy beef as a source of nutrients needed by the body and as a great-tasting food that fits into a healthy, low-fat meal, "adds Ivan. Kids learn that a typical 3-ounce serving of cooked 80 percent lean ground beef has only 228 calories and contain 21 grams of protein, .18 milligrams of riboflavin, 4.4 milligrams of niacin, 2 micrograms of vitamin B-12, 1.8 milligrams of iron and 4.6 milligrams of zinc. The booklet also teaches that beef is much leaner than it was just 25 years ago.

Explains Ivan, "Basics About Beef" encourages young shoppers to consider wholesomeness, quality, appearance and cost-per-serving when buying beef and also provides basic kitchen skills that fewer children seem to be picking up at home." In some schools, "Basics About Beef" is used in conjunction with the video kit, "Cooking Today's Beef", another beef checkoff-funded education program. "As our children grow up, it will become increasingly important for them to understand the relationship between cookery method, cooking time, grade and tenderness," says Ivan.

Puzzle Over The Basics

Basics About Beef includes a number of challenging puzzles like the one featured here. Test your knowledge. How well do you know the basics?

Complete the following statements. Then find the answer in the jumble below and pencil in the shapes which contain the letters appearing in each of the answers. (Answers appear more than once in the jumble.)

1. The grade shield on beef indicates the _____ of the product.
2. Wholesomeness in beef is indicated by the _____ mark.
3. The grade of beef sold in most stores is _____.

What is the symbol that remains after you have penciled in all the answers?

70 Young Cooperators Attend PCC Young Leaders Conference

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Cooperative education, leadership development and young adult fellowship were the benefits for the 70 young cooperative members who participated in the recent Pennsylvania Council of Cooperatives (PCC) Young Leader Conference at the Days Inn Penn State in State College.

Highlighting the three-day conference was "Managing for Success," a workshop combining Penn State's Dairy MAP, Cornell's Pro-Dairy and Steven Covey's "Seven Habits of Highly Effective People." Not only did the participants gain valuable farm management skills, but they set goals and developed a personal mission statement.

The young cooperative members participated in round table discussions with cooperative leaders and learned cooperative principles demonstrated through a game and skit. In addition, Russell Redding, aide to U.S. Sen. Harris Wofford, updated the group on legislative issues and the effects on agriculture.

Region leaders that assisted with the 1993 conference included conference chair couple, John and Edith Carpenter from Linden; Southeast region leader couple, Les and Lois Hershey from Kirkwood; Western region leader couple, Robert and Joy Jackson of Brownsville; Northern region leader couple, Jeff and Beth Kelchner from Watsontown; and South Central region leader couple, Jere and Angela Hissong of Greencastle.

Conference participants and their cooperative sponsors include, from the southeast region of the state, Mike and Corinne Denlinger from Lancaster, sponsored by Atlantic Breeders Cooperative; Brian and Eva Fulmer of Pen Argyl, sponsored by Northampton Farm Bureau; John and Lisa Weinhofer of Slatington, sponsored by Keystone Farm Credit; Cliff and Fay Berger from Fredericksburg, sponsored by Sire Power; Kent and Jodie Heffner from Pine Grove, sponsored by the Pennsylvania DHIA; and Steve and Bonnie Wenger from Lebanon, sponsored by the Southeast Region Board.

From the western region, those who attended included Ron and Linda Park from Creekside, sponsored by Atlantic Breeders Cooperative; Jeff and Roberta McConnell of Volant, sponsored by Agway, Inc.; Bob and Marcia Trotter from Enon Valley, sponsored by the Pennsylvania DHIA; Mike and Dorrie Blue from Shenandoah Junction, W.V., sponsored by Dairymen Inc.; and sponsored by PennWestFarm Credit were, Michael and Sandy Ohler from Polk, and Charles and Denise Bean of Franklin.

Attending from the northern region of the state were Dennis and Joanne Weaver, from Canton, sponsored by Claverack REC; David and Deborah Johnson of Mermyn, sponsored by Northeastern Farm Credit; and sponsored by Sire Power Inc. were William and Laura Squier from Montrose, Scott and Lori Kriebel of Stillwater, and Robert and Marla O'Brien from Tunkhannock.

In attendance representing the south central region of the state were Mark and Doris Kauffman from Spring Mills, sponsored by Atlantic Breeders Cooperative; sponsored by York Farm Credit were Ray and Jean Thrush from Shippensburg, and Brian and Donna Utz, of Hanover; Paul and Carla Witter from Shippensburg, sponsored by Maryland/Virginia Milk Producers; Dale and Patricia Clymer from York, sponsored by Agway Inc.; Robert and Jenny Gabel of Newport, sponsored by Eastern Milk Producers; Paul and Nadene Cashell from Chambersburg, sponsored by Atlantic Dairy Cooperative; sponsored by Pro-Fac Cooperative were Gene Smithmyer and Eric and Evelye Yahner, all from Patton, and, Hunter and Kathy Smith from Newport, sponsored by the Cumberland/Perry Co-op Council.

Recognizing and developing leadership skills is one of the purposes of the conference. A special opportunity is offered to four participating couples to return as part of a leadership team that plans the conference for the following year. Those selected as region leaders for the 1994 conference were Cliff and Fay Berger, representing the southeast region, Mike and Dorrie Blue representing the western region; representing the Northern region will be Dennis and Joanne Weaver; and Rob and Jenny Gable representing the South Central region. Robert and Joy Jackson were selected to serve as the 1994 conference chair couple.

Crystal Smithmyer, executive director of PCC said, "We are consistently encouraged by the quality and enthusiasm of our young farmer participants. These producers are committed to their families and their farm, and are eager to invest time and energy into creating a secure and productive operation."

PCC is a state wide association of cooperative businesses owned and controlled by farmers and rural Pennsylvanians. Its membership includes major marketing and farm supply cooperatives, the Farm Credit Associations of Pennsylvania as well as rural electric cooperatives. Organized in 1933, PCC is the voice for agricultural and rural cooperatives operating in Pennsylvania. For more information contact the PCC office, P.O. Box 299, State College, PA 16804.

Seventy cooperators attend the 1993 Young Cooperative Leaders Conference.

Cumberland Holds 4-H Livestock Roundup Sale

BETH MILLER
Cumberland Co. Correspondent

SHIPPENSBURG (Cumberland Co.) — Many Cumberland County 4-H members walked away richer from the county's 1993 4-H Livestock Roundup Sale held at the Shippensburg Fairgrounds.

The grand champion market hog, which was a 255-pound animal raised by Mark Goodhart of Shippensburg, was purchased by Hoss's Steak and Sea House for $4.50 a pound.

Hoss' agreed to give the animal to the local Salvation Army for its soup kitchen. The Country Butcher Shop agreed to butcher that hog for free.

William Leib of Mechanicsburg sold his 225-pound reserve grand champion market hog to Hatfield Meats for $2.40 a pound.

The champion pair of market hogs raised by Kurtis Strock of Mechanicsburg, which weighed in at 225 and 215 pounds, were purchased by Wenger Meats for $1.72 a pound.

The Shippensburg Leasing Corporation bought the 255-pound heavyweight reserve champion market hog raised by Jessica Wiser of Shippensburg for 90 cents a pound.

Matt Souder of Newville sold his 235-pound medium weight champion market hog to Lehman Farms for 94 cents a pound.

The rate of gain winner for the roundup, which was judged by Dick Carmichael, was Josh Barrick of Carlisle, whose 245-pound hog was recorded as having gained 2.038 pounds a day.

The 66 other hogs sold by the 4-H members at the roundup brought prices ranging from 61 cents a pound to $2 a pound.

The grand champion steer, a 1,250-pounder raised by Bobby Davidson of Shippensburg, was bought by Hoss' for $4.10 a pound.

The Western Sizzlin Steak House purchased the 1,250-pound reserve grand champion steer from Lucas Nailor of Newville for $2.05 a pound.

The Farmers Trust Company purchased a 1,205-pound steer from Corey Berkheimer of Mechanicsburg for $1.04 a pound and then agreed to donate that animal also to the Salvation Army soup kitchen. The Country Butcher Shop also agreed to butcher that animal for free.

The rate of gain winner for the steers was Jeff Foreman of Shippensburg, whose 1,265-pound animal recorded a weight gain of 2,774 pounds a day.

The other eight steers sold brought prices ranging from 85 cents a pound to $1.05 a pound.

During the market lamb sale, the 121-pound grand champion raised by Eric Berkheimer of Mechanicsburg was purchased by Wayne Feed for $5 a pound.

Michelle Cornman of Carlisle sold her reserve grand champion, which weighed 117 pounds, to Fox's Markets for $1.85 a pound.

The champion pair of lambs, which were raised by William Lieb of Mechanicsburg and weighed a total of 207 pounds, was purchased by Pine Haven Farm for $1.50 a pound.

The 106-pound mediumweight champion animal raised by Jaime Fought of Carlisle brought a price of $2 a pound from Leinbach Produce.

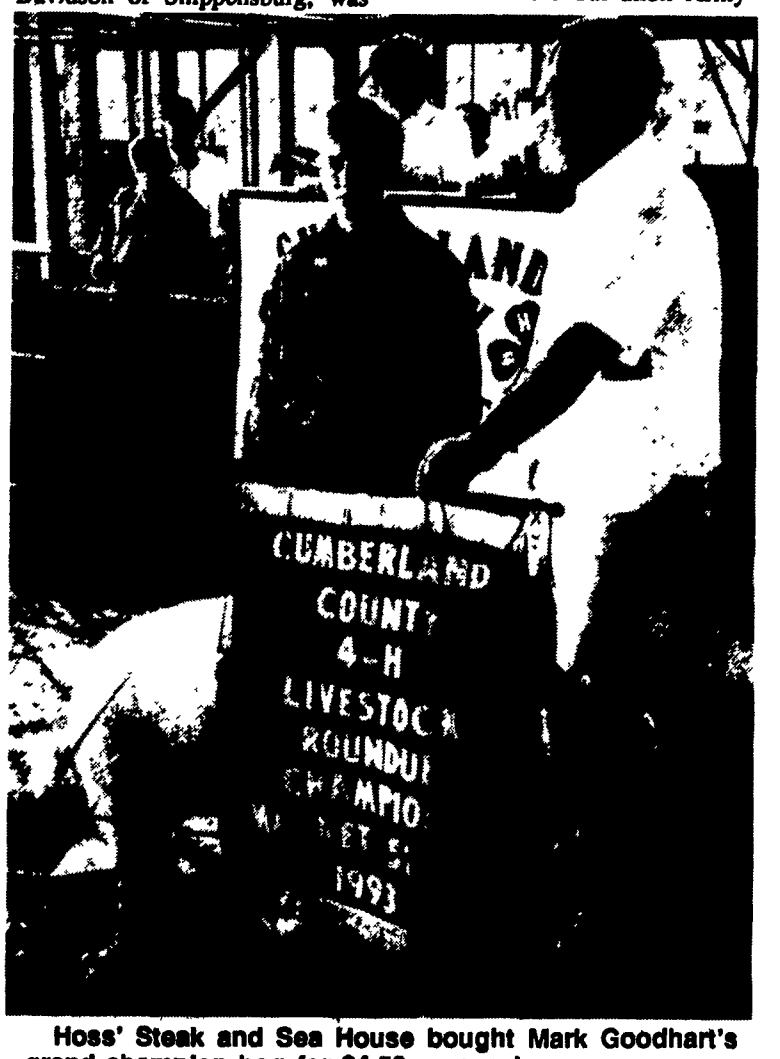
Michelle Cornman also sold her lightweight champion lamb which weighed 97 pounds, to York Farm Credit for $1.52 a pound.

The rate of gain winner for the lambs was Sonya Rinker of Carlisle, whose 96-pound animal recorded a weight gain of 0.703 pounds a day.

Prices brought by the 41 other lambs sold ranged from $1.02 a pound to $2 a pound.

The 70-pound champion market goat raised by Shane Conaway of Newville was purchased by CCNB Bank for $270. Joel Vanasdlen of Newville sold his reserve champion goat, which was a 62-pound animal, to Gordon Dye for $100.

Champion pair of market lambs owned and shown by William Leib was purchased by Pine Haven Farm, represented by John Conaway.



Hoss' Steak and Sea House bought Mark Goodhart's grand champion hog for $4.50 a pound.

Farm Women Societies

Lancaster Society 1

The Lancaster County Society of Farm Women No. 1 met for their monthly meeting in the home of Martha Jane Brubaker with Kathryn Ehst co-hostess.

Pres. Fay Garman presided and welcomed members.

Meeting opened with three songs led by Julia Zahn and accompanied on the piano by Martha Jane Brubaker.

Devotions by Rachel Bollinger included passages of Scripture from the Book of Acts, and a prayer from the "One Year Book" and was followed with The Pledge of Allegiance.

Roll call by Harriet Fasnacht was answered by members naming a charity that they support or with which they are involved. Seventeen members attended.

Margaret Bucher reported for ways and means and Sarah Weber for the sunshine committee. Martha Jane Brubaker announced members will meet for breakfast on Sept. 18.

Members voted to contribute to the International Gideon Bible Society in memory of Mary Kreider, a former member of Society One.

President Fay Garman reported on the County Board meeting she reminded members to contribute $3 to the state farm women's heifer project. (2) The Christ Home for Children is the county project this year and members voted to contribute $25 to this project. (3) The State Farm Women are arranging for a tour to The Canadian Rockies for next June. Further information will be available.

Next meeting will be on Sept. 4 and will be a bus tour of Lancaster Co. Members are to meet at the Saint Paul Lutheran Church in Lititz at 9 a.m. Members may bring a guest or a family member.

The program for today was entitled "Doing for Others" and members carried out this theme by making Cancer pads for some members of Zion Home.

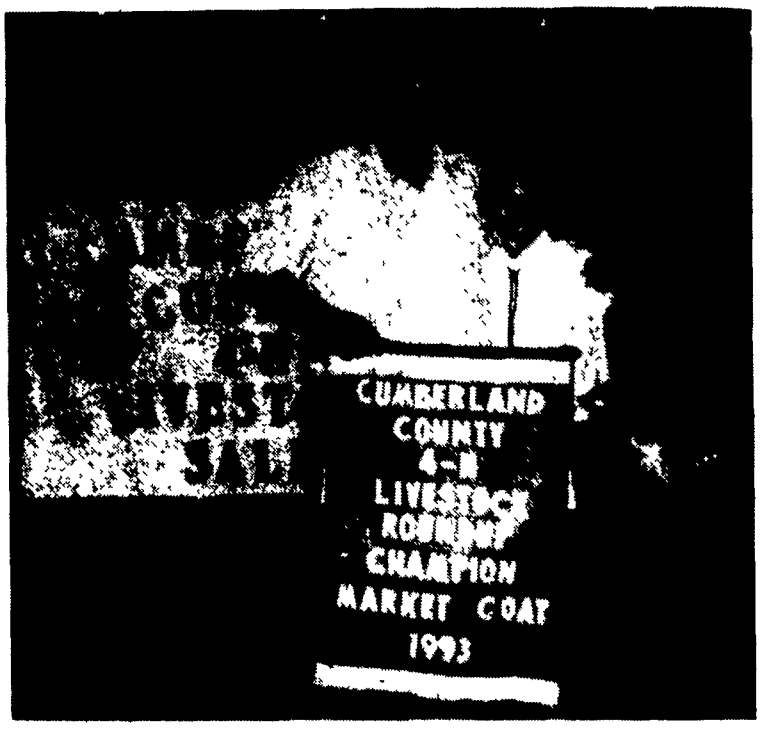
Cumberland 4-H

(Turn to Page B18)

Katherine Farrell of Newville and Richard Foreman of Shippensburg both won the rate of gain award for the goats. Farrell's 70-pound animal and Foreman's, 65-pound goat both recorded weight gains of 0.552 pounds a day.

Hoss' Steak and Sea House purchased the grand champion steer owned and shown by Bobby Davidson. Assistant secretary of agriculture Neil Buss, and judge of the show, Dick Carmichael, stand with the champion.

Grand champion market lamb owned and shown by Eric Berkheimer was purchased by Wayne Feed Co.



Shane Conaway's champion market goat was purchased by CCNB Bank, represented by Rick Foreman.

Holstein Club Starts Chain Calf Program

READING (Berks Co.) — The Berks County Holstein Club decided to start a chain calf program to help provide a foundation calf to a junior member so that they could develop a strong cow family.

With money from its annual cheese sale, the Berks County Holstein Club purchased a March Aerostar heifer from Tim and Teresa Kissling of Hiddenview Holsteins. The calf was bred from a cow family that Teresa Kissling had previously owned, which carried her father's Mar-Anne prefix.

The dam and granddam of the calf are both Very Good with records of 29,000 pounds of milk and 35,000 pounds of milk respectively.

The Berks County Holstein Club held a contest in order to select the worthy junior to award the calf to. Erica Davis, daughter of Luther and Teresa Davis of Kutztown, won the first chain calf. She is a member and treasurer of the Northern Berks 4-H Dairy Club and also carries projects of sewing and animal science in the Fleetwood 4-H Club.

Erica has been showing for six years and hopes to be able to show her chain calf. Her jobs on the farm include feeding calves, feeding heifers and dry cows hay, and helping her dad milk.

During the contest, she gave a speech on why we as dairy farmers promote dairy products. When asked why she wanted to win the calf, Erica said, "I'd like to flush her to build a new cow family."

Others who competed for the calf were Janice Youse of Oley and Gregory Davis of Kutztown.

The Berks County Holstein Club will be holding another chain calf contest next year and will be seeking applicants in February.

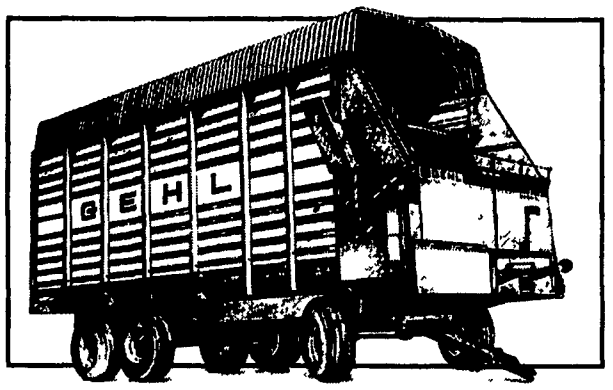
GEHL®

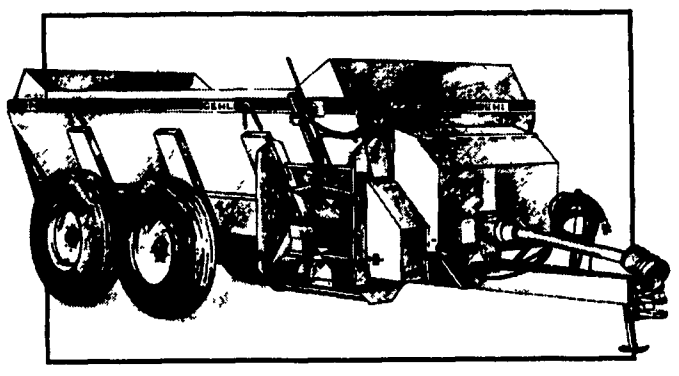
NORTH AMERICA'S #1 FORAGE BOX



Gehl makes the best-selling forage box in North America Here's why:

- Five sizes deliver the capacity to match your forage harvesting operation.
- 10-Year Warranty against rust-through on sides, endgate, stakes and roof.
- Wide 23-1/2 inch cross conveyor extends nine inches beyond the box side, for easy positioning to the blower.
- Even-Feed third beater has extended tines to break up clumps for smooth crop delivery to the cross conveyor.
- Four-speed drive system features #50 roller chain for added durability.
- Heavy-duty Gehl running gears match the capacity of Gehl forage boxes.

NORTH AMERICA'S #1 V-TANK SPREADER



The Gehl Scavenger® II is the "original" V-Tank spreader and still the best. It delivers outstanding performance in all types of manure, from liquid to semi-solid to pen-packed or even frozen manure.

- Patented square-tube auger – Hydraulically powers up and down to break up solid material.
- Variflo discharge – Spreads smoothly and evenly for complete application control.
- Five models – From 192 to 596 bushel heaped capacities to match your operation.
- 10-Year warranty – Against rust-through on the tank for peace of mind.
- Options include – Truck-mounted units and hydraulic lids.

Somatic Cell Count is your #1 indicator of stray voltage.

Don t be misled by inaccurate information that will delay your attention to this matter
There is a solution that can stop stray voltage immediately

DOES YOUR DAIRY HERD HAVE THESE SYMPTOMS?

1) Somatic cell counts of 200,000 and higher
2) Slow milking quarters or milk out
3) Nervousness or unable to keep milkers on
4) Breeding difficulties
5) Problems with first-calf heifers
6) Good management and milk production does not improve or is decreasing

THE ABOVE ARE SYMPTOMS OF STRAY VOLTAGE!

4-H HAPPENINGS

Erie County 4-H'ers Do Well At Fair

The 1993 4-H Fair was held recently at the Waterford Fairgrounds. According to Fair Co-Chairman Peg Trichel of Greene Township, this annual event provided Erie County's 4-H members with opportunities to have their project work evaluated and to be recognized for their achievements.

This year's fair featured project judging and exhibits, a family picnic, and Super Clubs Competition, a carnival to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association, and horse, dairy, livestock, and dog project roundups. Members who competed in the dairy and horse roundups also had the opportunity to qualify for the upcoming district dairy and horse shows.

Area 4-H'ers did well at this year's 4-H Fair. Rosette winners in Friday's project judging included, by project: Wildlife, Model Horses Unit II, Beginning Forestry, and Horsin' Around Unit II - Jaclyn Belczyk, Erie; Orienteering - Stacey Wolf, Albion; Babysitting and Fun to Grow On - Gretchen Lamendola, Millcreek; Veterinary Science Unit I - Heather Sinnott, Erie; Veterinary Science Unit II - Marilee Goss, Harborcreek; Veterinary Science Unit III - Valerie Lamendola, Millcreek; Model Horses Unit I - Katie Passerotti, Harborcreek; Model Horses Unit III - Carrie Wheeler, Erie; Horsin' Around Unit I - Sheri Rose, Harborcreek; Horsin' Around Unit II - Jenelle Robinson, Wattsburg; Pet Care Unit I - Chris Shotts, Waterford; Leadership Unit I - Jared Mosier, Harborcreek; Leadership Unit II - Camille Brown, Millcreek; Create-A-Project, Decorated Sweatshirts - Carrie Chelton, Concord Township; Advanced Air Pistol - Lea Zoltowski, Mill Village; Advanced Air Rifle - Terry Schnars, Edinboro; Archery Unit II - Joey Grace, Harborcreek; Create-A-Project, History of Girard - Craig Evanoff, Girard; Cultural Exchange Project - Sarah Papesch, Waterford; Create-A-Project, Computers, and Create-A-Project, Advanced Rocketry - Doug Bliley, Greenfield Township; Cross Country Skiing - Mike Cole, Edinboro; Rocketry Unit I - Darren Redding, Lake City; Create-A-Project, Stained Glass - Erin Cornwell, Waterford; and Small Engines Unit I - David Brogdon, Lake City.

Rosette winners at the Fair in the Clothing and Textile projects included Level 1 - Monica McCray, Concord Township; Level 2 - Cathi Gehrlein, McKean; Level 5 - Leigh Shope, McKean; Level 6 - Jessica Leuschen, McKean; Level 7, Construction - Jennifer Hoderny, Greenfield Township; Level 8, Consumer - Kateri Maille, Harborcreek; Level 8, Construction - Elizabeth Oslak, Harborcreek; Level 9, Construction - Ashlie Beals, Summit Township; Level 10, Construction - Nicole Spichiger, Harborcreek.

Winners in the Foods and Nutrition project judging included Monica McCray, Concord Township - Let's Cook Outdoors; Dominque Maille, Harborcreek - Foods for Someone Special, You (Level I); Giorgina Scavella, Harborcreek - Foods for Better Appearance; Christie Marshall, Harborcreek - Teens Entertain; and Lisa Davids, Wattsburg - Create-A-Project, Microwave Candy.

The annual 4-H Carnival to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association was also held on Friday. The Carnival kept members busy while they were waiting to have their projects judged, and it also raised a record $776.70 for MDA. The Waterford Livestock Wranglers 4-H Club, Waterford, led by Dayna and Jesse Fiske, Kim Looker, and Bud and Joanne Moyer, raised the most money at their carnival booths, and members of this club will have the opportunity to present the carnival proceeds to MDA during its annual Labor Day Telethon. In all, 19 4-H clubs sponsored booths and activities at the carnival. The carnival was chaired by Dayna Fiske, Waterford.

The Waterford Bucking Broncos 4-H Club, Waterford, won the club exhibit competition. Twelve clubs constructed 4-H exhibits in the Main Exhibit Building, and these exhibits were judged on their originality and workmanship and on how well they told the 4-H story. The Waterford Bucking Broncos are led by Janice Bennett, Sandy Mitchell, and Kevin Smith. The Eriesistible Riders 4-H Club, Harborcreek, won second place in the club exhibit competition.

Also on Friday 11 4-H clubs participated in the annual 4-H Super Clubs Competition. The Cloverleaf Riders 4-H Club, Franklin Township, teamed up with member of the Stablemates 4-H Club, Fairview, to win this contest. The competition featured such athletic events as a Ski-Doo Race on 2x4's and a Balloon Shaving Relay. This was the eleventh year for such a competition at the 4-H fair. The Super Clubs Contest was coordinated by the Erie County 4-H Teen Council.

The Dairy Roundup on Saturday featured fitting, showmanship, and type judging of dairy cattle. The Milkyway 4-H Dairy Club, Albion, led by Diane Reiser, Ron Simpson, and Shirley Braddock, won the Dairy Good Housekeeping Award. Complete dairy roundup results are as follow: grand champion Guernsey - Keegen Guyer, Albion; reserve grand champion Guernsey - Thomas Reiser, Cranesville; grand champion Holstein - Amanda Gilkinson, Wattsburg; reserve champion Holstein - Kevin Bush, Wattsburg; and best animal bred and owned, Holstein - Jeremy Wade, Concord Township. JOHN DEERE 550 MULCH MASTER

One trip works chemicals down, keeps residue up

Now, one tool can handle all your secondary tillage needs at one time. In addition to doing the best job – ever – of incorporating chemicals in one pass, the 550 Mulch Master can also leave high residue levels. Sometimes it leaves even more residue on the surface after a trip through your corn fields – all while leveling your seedbed.

The key is John Deere's patented incorporator wheels. The cupped-surface teeth churn through heavy residue – stirring, rolling, and lifting the soil. They kick uprooted weeds and pieces of buried residue back to the surface while soil flows around the teeth. This one-of-a-kind action uniformly mixes chemicals vertically and horizontally throughout the weed-growth zone. No wasted herbicide or streaks of untreated ground.

You get all this in a single, 6- to 8-mph pass. Improved incorporation. Planter-ready seedbeds. Residue for your conservation plans. Everything you need for secondary tillage.

You've got to see a Mulch Master in action to appreciate all it can do – another very good reason to visit your John Deere dealer.

Cheese may prevent tooth decay

Brushing your teeth after meals is beneficial, but eating a piece of cheese may be just as good — or even better. According to dental research at Canada's University of Alberta, eating a lump of hard cheese at the end of a meal may prevent tooth decay. The calcium and phosphate in the cheese stay on the tooth surface for up to two hours and provide protection against acids that form plaque and eventually lead to cavities.

Super All Traction 23°

R-1

- New top-of-line bias-ply tractor rear, featuring our long bar/long bar design for tread stability, and heavy bar bracing to extend tread life.
- Long wearing and smooth riding, due to the more uniform, flatter contour of the long bar/long bar design.
- Proven 23° bar angle for traction and open center for self-cleaning.
- Bead and rim protector shields the rim to help keep stubble and soil from getting between the bead and rim flange.

SEPTEMBER 11-12 Sat. & Sun.
10:00 A.M. - 4:00 P.M.
CHOOSE THE DAY THAT SUITS YOU BEST

COME and SEE!

- Your favorite XP hybrids in production. Get a first look at the new line-up for 1994...hybrids like 49XP, 62XP and 82XP.
- Doebler's eastern corn acres - 70 separate hybrid crossing fields totaling 2200 acres plus.
- New Hy-Clearance hydrostatic field sprayer with the latest electronics. Has a cab and 40' spray boom.
- New tassel puller using little wheels to remove the tassels mechanically. Height adjusts automatically using an electric eye.
- The new 50,000 bu. controlled storage warehouse for seed corn and alfalfa is all complete and operating. Both temperature and humidity are controlled allowing seed corn to be stored longer without loss of germination or vigor.

August 9, 1993

It's been dry here especially in July and to date in August. Irrigation has helped to make fields look very good. Plots are excellent and we are looking forward to a super set of Field Days. Please come.

Snider Homestead Cousins Capture Titles At Bedford Fair

JERSEYS

Kendy Gable of the Snider Homestead Farms took home the purple rosette in the Jersey division of the Bedford Fair.

Kendy was grand and senior champ. "I saw this cow and liked her and mom said I could have her," Kendy said.

Sam J. Diehl has been showing Ayrshires at the fair since 1941. Now, it's his granddaughters who do the honors for him. Granddaughter Linette Palmer of Fulton County, and her husband, Brad, also took grand champion honors for the Red and White division. "We have more than 100 Holsteins," said Linette. "But, I was glad that it was a colored breed that took this award. Shown here is Linette with her Red and White and Ellen Kidd with the champion Ayrshire.

The story, according to her mom, is that an older man who was milking Jerseys by hand and could no longer handle the job offered them to the Sniders.

"Kendy liked this one and we gave it to her."

Reserve honors went to Janelle Koontz of Bedford RD 4. Other Jersey awards:

Jr. Calf: Kendy Gable, Crystal Heidorn.
Intermediate Calf: Denise Heidorn.
Summer Yearling: Janelle Koontz.
Three-Year-Old: Kendy Beth Gable.
Two-Year-Old: Janelle Koontz.
Five-Year-Old: Janelle Koontz.
Dry Cow: Janelle Koontz.
Daughter and Dam: Kendy Gable, and Janelle Koontz.

RED AND WHITE

Grand champion Red and White rosettes went to the Morse family of Clearville. Angie took Grand honors and Reserve Grand went to Holly.

Other Red and Whites:

Jr. Calf: David Donaldson, Landon Truax (second and third).
Intermediate Calf: Angie Morse, Spring Truax.
Sr. Calf: Holly Morse.
Summer Yearlings: Spring Truax.
Jr. Yearlings: Spring Truax.
Intermediate Yearling: Cindi Mearkle, Spring Truax.
Jr. Two-Year-Old: Holly Morse, Spring Truax and Landon Truax.
Five-Year and Older: Angie Morse, Spring Truax.
Daughter and Dam: Angie Morse, Holly Morse.

BROWN SWISS

All Brown Swiss honors in the junior division of the dairy show at the Bedford Fair went to the Walter Schilling family of Williamsburg RD 2.

(Turn to Page C4)

James C. Young, friend of the Scott Fisher family, shows off the supreme champ, a Jersey, Tin D Champ Dottie Donna.

Brothers Win Big In Bucks County

DOYLESTOWN (Bucks Co.) — In their first attempt at raising market hogs, the Gottschling brothers of Perkasie walked away with top awards for their hogs at the recent Bucks County 4-H Swine Show and Sale.

The Bucks County 4-H Swine Show and Sale, held at the Perkiomenville Auction facilities, was the culmination of months of hard work and persistence in finishing their 4-H Hog project.

The three brothers - Christopher 12, Matthew 11, and Zachary 8, received high awards for their champion pigs. Matt had the grand champion hog weighing 260 pounds. Zachary had the champion pair weighing 235 and 230 pounds, and Christopher had the reserve champion pair weighing 235 pounds each.

John Reininger from Hatfield Meats purchased Matt's grand champion hog for $3.10/pound and Zachary's champion pair for $1.05/pound.

Andrew Leidy from Leidy Meats purchased the reserve champion pair raised by Christopher Gottschling for .65/pound.

Julie Barndt, 14, of Perkasie, had the reserve champion hog weighing 275 pounds, which was purchased by Andrew Leidy for Leidy Meats at $1.70/pound.

Other placings form the show were as follows: John Frederick, 1st Lightweight; Erin Buckman 1st Light, pair; Matt Crooke, 1st Medium Weight; Ed Buckman, 2nd light weight; David Lachman, 2nd medium weight; Rebecca Lachman, 2nd Medium Heavy Weight; Jezick Nehoda, 2nd Heavy Weight; Jeff Frederick, 3rd Light weight; Erin Buckman, 3rd Medium weight; Nathan Crooke, 3rd Medium Heavy weight; Sara Wiley, 3rd Heavy Weight; Andrew Crooke, 3rd Heavy Pair; Matt Crooke, 4th Medium weight; John Frederick, 4th Medium Heavy weight; Sara Wiley, 4th Heavy weight; Jeff Frederick, 5th Medium weight; Ed Buckman, 5th Medium Heavy weight; Matt Gottschling, 5th Heavy weight; Andrew Crooke, 6th Medium weight; Peter Crooke, 6th Medium Heavy weight; and 7th Medium Heavy weight, and Andrew Crooke, 7h Medium Heavy weight.

Buyers who participated in the Swine Sale were: Hatfield Quality Meats, Leidy Meats, Ely Pork Products, Moyer & Son, Wesley Gouldey & Sons, Keystone Farm Credit, The Swartley Agency, A-Z Automotive Services, Davis Feed Mill, Quakertown Veterinary Clinic, F.M. BIO-DIGESTER 3

REDUCE SOLIDS - CONTROL ODORS - INCREASE AVAILABLE NUTRIENTS

A New Product For Digestion In Waste Pits

BIO-DIGESTER 3 is a new generation blend of aerobic and anaerobic bacteria cultures and stabilized free enzymes to aid in the digestion and elimination of solids accumulations, and to remove the source of foul odors in waste storage systems. BIO-DIGESTER 3 is a non-toxic and environmentally safe digestant that utilizes mother nature's own cleaning agents to eliminate from waste systems and their associated plumbing, the build-up of solids and the organisms that cause foul odors. BIO-DIGESTER 3 contains no harsh solvents, corrosive, or dangerous chemicals and will not harm people, animals, clothing or materials commonly used in construction of waste systems. The bacteria cultures and enzymes in BIO-DIGESTER 3 are activated by dilution with water and work synergistically to break down and liquefy solids.

To eliminate solids accumulations and foul odors in your waste storage systems follow the simple procedure that is outlined in the FARM DIGESTANT PROGRAM.

This by far is the best manure management program on the market today.

Provide Air For Bacterial Growth

Check your pit for the presence of a thick crust. BIO-DIGESTER 3 works best when air is available. However, the microbes in BIO-DIGESTER 3 can grow in both aerobic (presence of air) and anaerobic (absence of air) conditions. Bacterial digestion occurs most quickly under aerobic conditions. Therefore, if your pit is covered with a thick crust, you must puncture several holes into the crust to allow oxygen to penetrate into the pit. If this is not possible, running a hose, attached to a small air compressor, into the pit will provide the air necessary to initiate and accelerate the digestion process.

Proper Mixing Of BIO-DIGESTER 3

BIO-DIGESTER 3 must be activated before addition to the pit. This activation step is necessary to awaken the bacteria from their dormant phase and convert them into highly active and very hungry cultures. The activation step is simple. Add the proper amount of BIO-DIGESTER 3, as determined from page 1 to a bucket of warm (NOT HOT) water and allow to set for approximately 20 minutes. This activates the BIO-DIGESTER 3. This slurry can then be poured into the pit.

IMPORTANT: The bacteria in BIO-DIGESTER 3 requires water for proper growth. DO NOT BROADCAST SPREAD THE BIO-DIGESTER 3 SLURRY ON TOP OF A CRUST LAYER AS IT WILL DRY UP AND THE BACTERIA WILL DIE!

If you follow these few simple steps, within a few days the foam and/or solids will appear and float to the top of the pit. The crust will then begin to wet, break up and eventually sink. Significant reduction in odor production will be apparent after one to two weeks, as bacteria continue to digest solids in the pit. With continued treatments as recommended, the crust will completely disappear and the production of foul odors will cease completely. The sooner you add BIO-DIGESTER 3 to your pit, the sooner your solids and odor problems will disappear.

J-Star Honors Nissley's

The elite MVP Award (Major Volume Performer) recognizes the company's top dealers who have achieved gold, silver, or bronze levels of sales and performance objectives during 1992.

The Top Sales Leaders Award recognizes the top sales leaders for J-Star's main product lines. The presentation took place at J-Star's regional dealer meeting held in Carlisle. The meeting gave North American dealers an opportunity to hear about new products, innovations and programs which J-Star Industries will be featuring for the balance of 1993.

Spider Mites Pose Problem For Soybean Growers

MOUNT JOY (Lancaster Co.) — Increasing populations of two-spotted spider mites may cause problems for soybean producers in Pennsylvania, Maryland and New Jersey, according to a regional agronomist.

Joe Mayer, agronomy manager for Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., in Mount Joy, said that dry weather conditions are prompting an unchecked growth in spider mite numbers, which may mean damage to soybean plants and possible yield losses.

"Spider mites are normally controlled by periodic rainfall that washes the pests from the plants and keeps them from causing damage," Mayer said. "Of course, this year we've had a shortage of this natural pest control."

Mayer says that hot weather is also contributing to the high spider mite population. "With cool or moderate conditions, a mite will take two or three weeks to reproduce, but under hot conditions that cycle is reduced to a week," he said.

Spider mites damage soybeans by piercing the leaf surface and extracting the plant's juices. Leaves become speckled, turn yellow and then brown. Some damaged leaves may drop from the plant.

Adult female mites typically overwinter in the grass and weeds at the edges of a field, so outside rows are the first place to check for a mite problem. According to Mayer, a grower should use a hand lens to examine the underside of soybean leaves for spider mite webs or eggs. Another method is to shake a soybean plant over a white piece of paper. "Mites almost look like pepper on the white background," he said.

Unfortunately, control recommendations aren't as straightforward as identifying a problem in the first place. "We don't have good economic threshold data for mites, so that makes the decision to treat more of an art than a science," Mayer said. He suggests several factors to consider when making that decision. "If the weather forecast is for more hot and dry weather and you have identified a mite problem, a treatment may be advisable — but only if you have a good stand and still have some yield potential if you do receive rainfall."

The stage of the soybeans is also important, according to Mayer. "If soybeans reach the green bean stage (R6), treatment is not recommended because most of the yield loss occurs by this point. Further yield losses are not likely since most of the grain fill process is complete."

Growers may want to consider a spot treatment, Mayer said. "If you detect the problem early, a treatment on the field edges may keep the spider mites from spreading further into the field," he said. "Otherwise, treating the entire field may be necessary."

Pesticides labeled for mite control include Cygon 400, Dimethoate 400, and Lorsban 4E. "As with any pesticide, make sure to read the label for correct application rates and handling procedures," Mayer said.

Sensenig's Helps Conduct Master Mix Tour

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — Sensenig's Feed Mill, in conjunction with Master Mix Feeds, recently conducted a tour of Master Mix's research facilities.

The group of approximately 45 customers and Sensenig employees visited Central Soya's dairy TMR research farm in Yorkshire, Ohio; Central Soya's swine, beef, calf, turkey, hen, and broiler research facilities in Decatur, Ind., and finished up at Central Soya's Dairy tiestall, research facility in Berne, Ind.

Central Soya personnel leading the discussions and tours were Dr. William Schmutz, Ph.D. lead research scientist-ruminant; Dr. Don Jaquette, Ph.D. manager, market support, ruminant; Matt Schrage, dairy specialist; Dr. Gary F. Lewis, Ph.D. associate swine nutritionist; Steve Vale, product marketing specialist, dairy; and Greg Hill, district sales manager.

The tour provided those in attendance a look at Master Mix's research facilities and previews of new dairy and swine products which are in the finishing stages of development. Researchers also stressed that improving existing products is another major focus of the research conducted. This is evidenced by Master Mix's recent decision to double the levels of Vitamin E in all of its dairy feeds.

Hernley Attends National Dealer Panel Meeting

ATLANTA, Ga. — Duane Hernley, president of Hernley's Farm Equipment, Inc., Elizabethtown, recently attended the AGCO Allis National Dealer Panel meeting held here, according to Robert J. Ratliff, AGCO president and CEO.

The National Dealer Panel consists of 12 representatives, one from each AGCO U.S. and Canadian sales region. Panel members are elected by their fellow AGCO Allis dealers and meet twice yearly with AGCO' senior management. The purpose of the National Dealer Panel is to provide dealers and the company with an opportunity to discuss areas of mutual concern and interest.

"Through this elite 12 member panel, the more than 650 AGCO Allis dealers have a loud voice on important company issues and affairs," said Ratliff. "The continued success of our company depends on dealer input and the valuable information they provide AGCO management on products, customer relations and trends in the marketplace."

Aerobaffle™ System For Center Inlets

LANSING, Mich. — A new center-inlet AeroBaffle System, featuring a design that virtually eliminates condensation problems in swine buildings and poultry buildings, is available from Aerotech, Inc.

The design has a foam-core baffle with an aluminum sheath. This provides a lightweight yet stiff baffle, and ensures that cold, incoming air contacts only foam, which minimizes condensation. The bottom, visible surface is completely covered by an aluminum sheath to give the baffle a clean, white appearance and to protect the foam.

By eliminating condensation and drafts, the AeroBaffle breaks up air stagnation to prevent the dangerous buildup of ammonia and odors.

The center-inlet AeroBaffle, available in 8-inch, 12-inch, and 16-inch widths, is raised and lowered by nylon-coated cable lift lines controlled manually or by an Aerotech AeroSentry™ controller. Plastic clamp nuts make adjustment and baffle alignment easy.

Aerotech markets a full-line of environmental control products, including fans, evaporative cooling systems, heaters, and controls. For more information, contact Aerotech, Inc., 929 Terminal Road, Lansing, MI 48906, (800) 227-AERO or (517) 323-2930.

Claycomb Takes Third Championship At Bedford

LINDA WILLIAMS
Bedford Co. Correspondent

BEDFORD (Bedford Co.) — At 15, Nathan Claycomb has taken his third Bedford County fair championship in the market steer division.

Claycomb's 1,305 grand champion, a crossbred named Bear, brought $3.25 per pound at the annual Junior Livestock Sale held on Saturday, August 14.

It was purchased by Hoss's Steak and Seafood House of Bedford.

Everett IGA bought the reserve champion market steer, a 1,085-pound entry owned by Jeremy Leader of Everett, for $1.60 per pound.

Nathan is the great-grandson of Stanley Claycomb, who has had sons, grandsons, and now, Nathan, showing at the fair since 1959.

"Beef cattle are our pride and joy," said Nathan's grandad, Jim.

"Once we got a taste of that show ring, we couldn't stop. We haven't missed a year since '59."

For years, the Claycombs worked toward their goal of a state championship, and it was Nathan who brought home the honors in 1991.

Claycomb steers have also taken grand and reserve grand titles at the Keystone International competition at Harrisburg in 1990 and 1991.

"The only reason we haven't tried Louisville competition," said Jim, "is because we would have to bypass the Farm Show to do it. Champions at Louisville are sole prior to the state competition."

Joe Claycomb credits the success of Nathan's steers to a total fluke. Back in 1989, the Claycombs were at Keystone competition and, by a clerical error, were put in the wrong department. "We were with the breeding cattle," Jim said. "It was the section where cattlemen come looking for top quality steers.

"But, if it had not been for that mistake, they would not have met a seller from Ohio who asked Jim if he was interested in buying a good steer.

"Only if it's a grand champion," he said.

A few days later, Jim received a telephone call from his new acquaintance inviting him to attend a private sale at the Ohio Farm.

"They were top quality animals," Jim said. "We knew we were going to buy the minute we saw them."

Due to their success, the Claycombs did get invited back, but they hear from their seller constantly. "He's proud of our success and wants to make certain it continues," said Jim.

A large part of the championship titles can be attributed to tender, loving care. The animals get their toenails trimmed every 30 days. If it's hot, they are kept cool. If it's cool, they are kept warm.

Nathan gets his animals so tame, he leads them without a halter. Such was the case at this year's fair as the huge black animal stood calmly amidst chaos and a thunderstorm. Dropping the leash, Nathan demonstrated the control he had over the animal.

Every animal is different and the Claycombs carefully monitor the corn and oats which each gets at chow time. The boys do the feeding, but under close surveillance.

For all his hard work, Nathan now has more than $25,000 in prize money awaiting his college education.

That's still six years down the road, but meanwhile, young cousin, Justin, age eight, is picking up the halter for the first time. Watching him admiringly from the sidelines is his younger brother, age two.

"Here we go again," Jim said with a smile.

The Claycomb family has seen farming from all aspects. The farm is so old that a cabin built in 1792 is a decorative part of the property. Dairying was their main source of income until 1972, when Stanley was elected Bedford County Commissioner.

"Dairying and politics just don't mix," he said with a laugh. "The demands on me and the demands of the cows always came at the same time, so we switched over entirely to beef."

It was a venture that paid off, at least for the grandchildren. Nathan has banked more than $25,000 for his future education. "Right now," said Nathan, "I'm saving for a car."

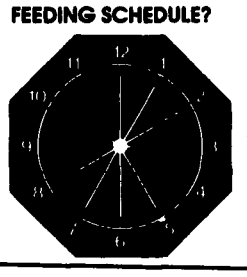
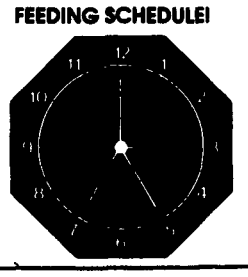
DRAG AUGER FEEDING SCHEDULE?



BIG DUTCHMAN CHAIN FEEDER FEEDING SCHEDULE!



How often do your feeders run in a day? It is generally necessary to operate drag auger feeders as many as eight or more times per day because of limited feeding space and the small quantity of feed presented at one time. That creates tremendous competition for the little feed available. The result of this competition is damaged eggs... from feet, toes and collisions. Big Dutchman chain feeders can feed your flock by running as few as three or four times a day, with little competition for feed, a calmer flock and fewer cracks and checks.

IF YOU ARE...
FORCED TO FEED
more than four times a day or during peak laying periods, call 911 for your egg casualties or. . . call (717) 393-5807 for information on how our chain feeder pampers your product. . . from cage to carton.

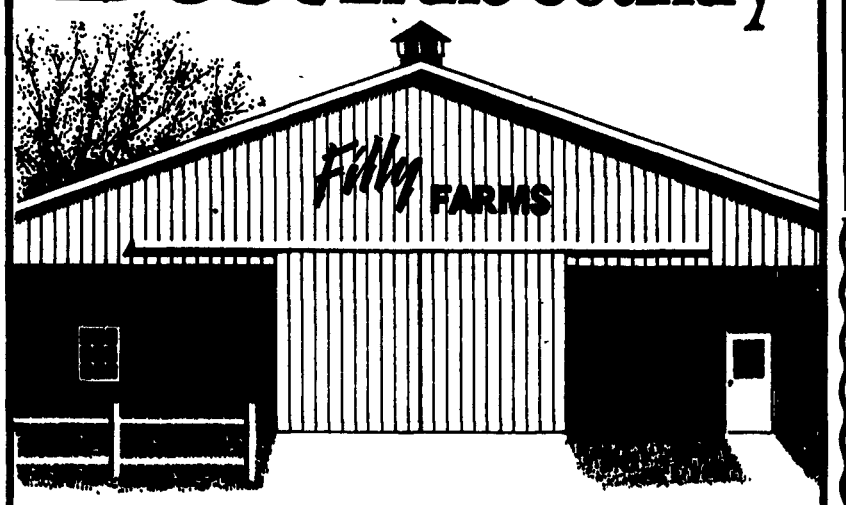
Best in the Country



For rough duty, rougher weather: Rugged, practical, cost-efficient Centurydrain™ roofing and siding.

Centurydrain is the roofing and siding to use for a strong, tight structure that'll carry you through the years of heavy snows, driving rain, and ripping winds.

Wheeling Centurydrain is pure practicality: full-hard, high tensile steel; galvanized for toughness, durability, and rust resistance; and with an exclusive drain channel for a dry, snug interior.

Handsome appearance, too: bold shadow lines and a choice of rich, baked-on colors. The best in the country is right here. Stop by.

BREWEX - For Use In Dairy Feeds
BREWEX is used extensively in complete dairy formulations to contribute utilizable energy. It is a price/performance value when used in dry feeds, liquid feeds and on-farm mixes.
MIX WITH DRY FEEDS: BREWEX is found in commercial pelleted rations for dairy, hogs and poultry as an energy source to replace corn. BREWEX replaces corn on a pound for pound dry basis and provides for improved pellet durability, reduced mineral segregation, dust control and improved palatability in dairy rations.
ON-FARM MIXING
A commercial Jersey dairy farm, having over ten years of experience in feeding BREWEX to partially replace corn finds that
- BREWEX replaced 5% to 10% corn/day
- BREWEX improves butterfat about 0.1%
- BREWEX mixed with forage reduces mortality due to displaced abomasum
- BREWEX helps cattle to stay on feeds

Have you tried toasted grains?

Consider these advantages over traditional roasting methods:

- Consistent by-pass proteins and low moisture levels.
- Improved energy density of your rations.
- Excellent quality control.
- Exchange programs with feed mills.
- Economical storage, rolling and grinding available.
- We also buy corn and soybeans

In grain bodies, aluminum makes Sense.

Eby Aluminum Agri-Dump Bodies pay off in dependable long-term service. Their all-aluminum construction means:

- Greater payload efficiency
- Maintenance-free service
- Substantially higher resale value.

Eby's time-tested design is available in lengths to 24' for grain bodies and 10½' for general purpose dump bodies. A long list of standard features such as tarp rail, built-in steps, aerodynamic uprights and Harsh hoist is complemented by a full range of custom options, including tailgates, Wahpeton tarps and grain chutes.
When you select your next grain body or general purpose dump body, consider the value that aluminum offers. It's a worry-free investment in your future.

CHECK OUT THESE FEATURES/BENEFITS
- Up to 40% lighter than steel, for greater payload
- Designed for long life
- Resale value
- Corrosion resistant, never needs painting
- Appearance to complement any truck
- Complete list of popular options, including tailgates, tarps and sides.

Dreamfield Manor
960 Acre Country Estate
Just 35 Miles from Philadelphia

A rare opportunity to own a beautiful private valley. This one of a kind farm features a traditional English Manor entryway to the main set of buildings passing between the gate house and stone bank barn and over 2 stone bridges to an exquisite stone manor house circa 1703, with 6 bedrooms & 3 huge stone fireplaces. There is also a large Federal brick manor house. In total there are eight farm houses, four of which are stone, and two large stone bank barns. The land consists of gently rolling fields, woodland, and a beautiful stream valley. This farm has excellent potential for equestrian activities such as fox hunting or combined training. Secluded yet close to a PA Turnpike interchange and Interstate 78. (the owner may consider dividing) $6.5 Million.

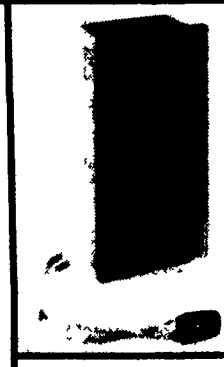
Edstrom INDUSTRIES INC.



QUANTEM SERIES 50

Temperature Modulating Fan Speed Control

Designed to be splash and dust resistant in accordance with NEC Article 547.

The "Vari-Speed" VENTILATING Control is a SOLID STATE, single phase, variable motor speed controller, designed to automatically ventilate industrial, commercial and agricultural facilities. The Series 50 provides ventilation control in proportion to the error sensed between the controller set point and actual space temperature as monitored by the controller's sensor. As temperature changes, voltage to the fan motor is changed porportionately.

PUMP OUT PIT FAN

Many manure storage pits have been constructed without providing for ventilation of the pit, particularly in buildings constructed several years ago when pit storage was first popular.

A non-ventilated pit results in a build-up of harmful, caustic gases, such as carbon dioxide, hydrogen sulfide, methane, ammonia and mercaptans

Hydrogen sulfide and carbon dioxide are heavier than air and, as the level of pit waste rises closer to the slats, the gases are forced closer to the animals

Results of inhaling these gases may be deep, fast breathing from CO^2. Hydrogen sulfide is one of the most toxic gases to animals and humans associated with liquid manure storage. This gas can cause severe irritation to the eyes and respiratory system and sometimes can result in death.

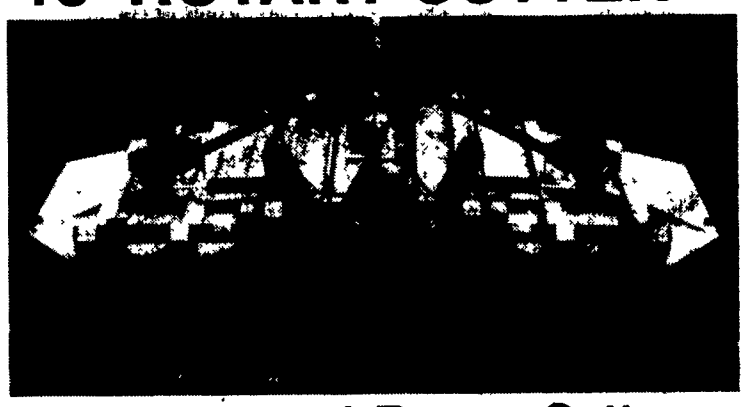
LAND PRIDE

15' ROTARY CUTTER



Land Pride 15' Rotary Cutter offers rugged dependability

Starting with a 10-gauge deck for the center section and wings, we've added effective reinforcement channels to each section for superior strength. With a mowing height ranging from 2" to 14", it can also handle material up to two inches thick. With two self-leveling rods from front to rear, mowing height can easily be maintained, as well as deck-flexing being held to a minimum.

Beef And Sheep Winners At Kutztown

KUTZTOWN (Berks Co.) — Stephanie Bowman of Lenhartsville, PA and Bruce Snyder of Kutztown had a tremendous week at the Kutztown Fair. Snyder and Bowman finished first in the Showmanship and Fitting Contest respectively. Judge Marlyn Stroh of Lafayette Hill, New Jersey, was kept busy, there were eight different breeds exhibited in the breeding stock show plus market lambs in this strictly youth Sheep show.

Champion Ram and Champion Ewe in the Corriedale Breed was shown by Kelly Glaser of Limekiln. Dominating the Dorset classes was Bruce Snyder of Kutztown. Snyder took home all the Champion and Reserve Champion honors for the Dorsets. There were 37 Hampshires exhibited and Theresa Anspach of Shillington had Champion Ram and she also exhibited the Champion Ewe. Hailing from Robesonia, Jason Manwiller showed the Champion Oxford Ewe as well as the Reserve Champion Ewe.

The Rambouillet breed winners were divided between Grand Lazarus of Germansville who swept the Ram classes and Kystal Anspach of Schillington who won the Champion and Reserve Champion Ewe ribbons. In the Shropshire classes Tom Newpher of Fleetwood won both the Champion Ram and Ewe titles, while Victoria Reiser of Mohnton, won Reserve Champion Ram and Megan Perry of Hamburg won Reserve Champion Ewe.

Southdowns were well represented and Lee Gauker of Fleetwood won Champion Ram and Bruce Snyder won both Champion and Reserve Champion Ewe titles. The last breed shown were the Targhees. Samantha Gressley of Fogelsville won all the Champion rosettes for this breed.

The Showmanship and Fitting contest and the Blocking and Grooming Contest judge was Tim Fleener of Robesonia. Snyder and Bowman, both veteran showmen, demonstrated their skills and were victorious in winning the Champion and Reserve Champion fitting and showmanship awards respectively.

BEEF SHOWS

The Gelsinger family of Wernersville, PA and Jason Grim of Mertztown had an excellent day at the Kutztown Fair. Tammy Gelsinger showed the Grand Champion Simmental Heifer, Troy Gelsinger showed the Champion Hereford heifer and the Reserve Grand Champion Simmental Heifer, while Jason Grim showed the Champion Angus heifer.

This was the second year for the Beef Fit Out Contest. Youth exhibiting beef cattle bring their washed, and clipped animal into the ring. They are given 30 minutes to finish fitting their animal in front of the judge. This year, Lee Wagner of Easton served as the judge for the breeding cattle, market steers, and the fit-out contests. The youth compete by age categories.

Chester's 4-H Lamb Sale Another Success

WEST CHESTER (Chester Co.) — The eleventh annual Chester County 4-H Market Lamb Sale held at the Goshen Fairgrounds easily compared to other Chester County sales in past years as the grand champion lamb, shown by senior member Kendra Stoltzfus, Elverson, was bought by Vintage Sales Stable of Paradise for $3.40/pound.

This was Kendra's final year in 4-H and it ended with a champion, a happy ending for many years spent in the 4-H Sheep Club.

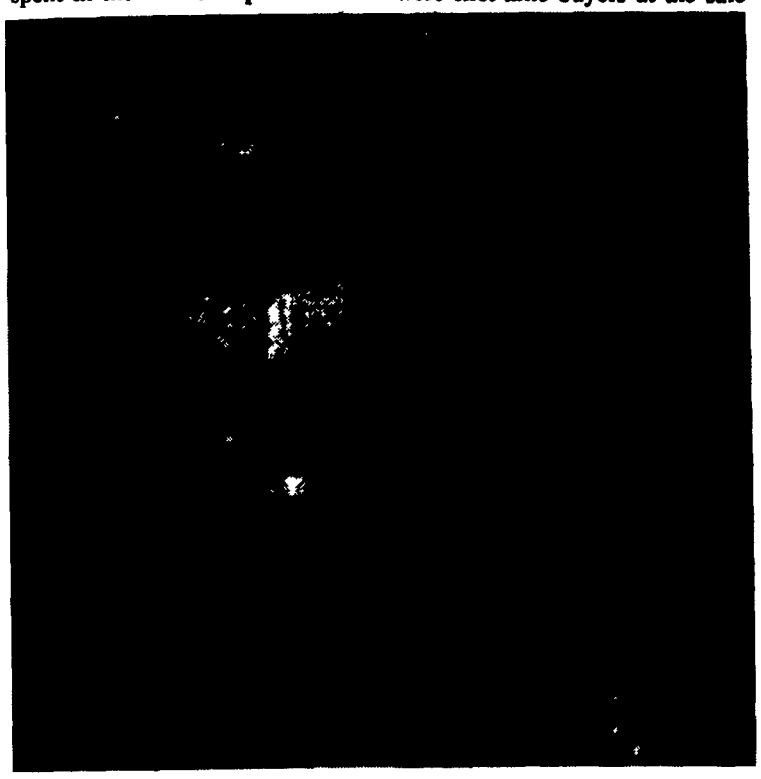
The buyer of the champion, Bob Frame, also purchased the reserve champion light heavyweight shown by Maria Stoltzfus, Kendra's sister, for $1.30/pound and Rachel Smoker of Honey Brook's reserve champion heavyweight lamb for $1.40/pound.

The reserve grand champion lamb was shown by Becky Byrne, Nottingham, and was purchased by Jim Longenecker and Renaissance Nutrition for $4.80/pound. Longenecker and Renaissance were first-time buyers at the sale and their bid broke all past records at the Chester County Market Lamb Sale.

Contending bidder was Vintage Sales Stable. Walter M. Dunlap & Sons, represented by Ken Smoker, purchased the champion medium weight for $2/pound, shown by Leah Mast of Elverson and then donated the lamb to then be resold to benefit the 4-H Center. That lamb then sold for $5.50/pound to the Friends of the 4-H Center, who then resold it to again benefit the Center when it was finally bought by Peg Kauffman for $1.60/pound.

The champion lightweight was purchased by Keystone Farm Credit for $1.70/pound. That lamb was shown by Hans Stoltzfus, brother of Kendra and Maria. The reserve champion medium weight shown by Jesse Coleman and the reserve champion lightweight shown by Katie Coleman were purchased by AGT Graphics, East Rutherford, N.J. for $1.45 and $1.55/a pound respectfully. AGT Graphics was represented by Dan Coleman.

The overall average of the sale was $1.66/pound on all 37 lambs sold, breaking the current market price by almost $1.06 per pound. Aqilante's Meat Market, Berwyn, was the volume buyer of the evening, purchasing 10 lambs.



Kendra Stoltzfus, Elverson, exhibited the grand champion lamb, which was purchased for $3.40/pound by Vintage Sales Stable of Paradise. Bob Frame is pictured with the lamb.

Clearfield 4-H Dairy Roundup Held

CLEARFIELD (Clearfield Co.) — The 39th annual Clearfield County 4-H Dairy Roundup was held at the Clearfield Fairgrounds on July 31.

Thirty-three exhibitors showed a total of 58 animals, one dairy goat and 57 dairy cattle. The judge for this event was Ross Hershberger, Martinsburg. Blue ribbon winner in the dairy goat category was Melissa Civils.

In all-breed champion of the four breeds represented was awarded to Jason Yaple with his senior 2-year-old Holstein. A best cheese cow was selected.

This animal had to have been shown the previous year. A block of cheese representing the equivalent number of pounds of cheese produced from one day milking was awarded to Jason Yaple with a Guernsey 4-year-old as champion. The reserve champion went to Erica Yaple with her dry 2-year-old-and-older Guernsey. This block of cheese was sold at the Junior Livestock Sale on August 7.

Following is a list of show placings.

Friends Help Friends Build A Center

WEST CHESTER (Chester Co.) — Friends helped friends at the eleventh annual Chester County Market Lamb Sale to raise money for the new Chester County 4-H Center to be built in West Brandywine Township along Route 322.

Ken Smoker, representing Walter M. Dunlap & Sons and the Friends of the 4-H Center, and Cheryl Fairbairn, Chester County extension agent, are pictured with Leah Mast of Elverson and her 95-pound lamb that raised $674.50 for the 4-H Center.

In the beginning of the summer, it was decided by a group of 4-H'ers and their leaders to get local breeders to donate a spring lamb that would be fed by a 4-H member and then sold with the entire proceeds going to the center fund.

To start, Walter M. Dunlap & Sons of Lancaster purchased Leah Mast's champion medium-weight lamb weighing 95 pounds for $2/pound and then donated the lamb back to be resold to benefit the 4-H Center.

After the regular sale, the "benefit" lambs were then auctioned off and Leah's lamb was then sold to the Friends of the 4-H Center for a whopping $5.50/pound. They then donated it back to be resold again to support the center and it was finally bought by Peg Kaufman for $1.60/pound. The lamb alone raised $674.50 for the center.

Friends of the 4-H Center included Ken Smoker of Parkesburg, Wayne Weidman of New Holland Sales Stable, A&C Diffenbach Auction Center of New Holland, Lancaster Stockyards, Wayne Craig, Gordon Dey, Omar Smoker of Parkesburg, Brown and Rea, Ration Maker Pre-mixes, Breezeview Farms of Atglen, Herr Angus Farms of Nottingham, and Bill MacCauley of Atglen.

The HSC Group of Malvern purchased Kelly Heim's 175-pound lamb for $1.65/pound and then donated it to be resold for the 4-H Center. It was then purchased by Gerry Williams of Parkerford for $1.40/pound. Thrifty Pallet Company of West Chester purchased a center lamb donated by Breezeview Farms and fed by Becky Byrne of Nottingham for $1.00/pound and then resolt it again to support the Center Fund for $.80 to Bob Hewitt of Spring City.

Other breeders who donated lambs to be fed by 4-H'ers were David Lytle of New London and Ginny Steerly of Phoenixville. Both lambs were fed by Sharon Byrne, a pre-4-H member and Adam Byrne, respectfully.

Not only did breeders donate lambs but 4-H members donated their own lambs that they had raised along with their project lambs. These included Kendra and Maria Stoltzfus of Elverson, Jason Wagner of Spring City, Jesse Holmes of Oxford, and Conrad and Rachel Smoker of Honey Brook.

Jason Wagner's two lambs were donated in memory of Chet Raught and Doris Sickler, Jason's FFA adviser and his 4-H Beef Club leader, who both passed away last year. Those businesses who also purchased lambs included Wiggins Auto Tags of West Chester, Dr. Renkert of Elverson, Cameron's Hardware of Oxford, Susan Yorgey of Spring City, Horace and Anna Wilson of Kimberton, Aquilante's Meat Market of Berwyn, Yoder & Armstrong of East Lansdowne, David Kaplan of Pottstown, and Bob Hewitt of Spring City. On top of that, the open show judge that evening Dr. Robert Herr of Narvon donated his judging fee of $100 to the center fund, making the grand total raised for the Center $2149.75.

Give every one of your cows 100 percent of your attention at feeding time. Impossible? Not for the Commander.

Universal's Commander™, a computer-driven feed management system, has taken the word "impossible" out of a lot of things in dairying.

Feed inside and outside with different rations at the same time. Impossible? Not for the Commander.

No matter which stall she enters, your cow gets the right feed in the right amount for her. Impossible? Not for the Commander.

Like to know more about this breakthrough in feeding dairy cows? Well, one thing is impossible for the Commander: it can't ask your dealer for more information. You'll have to do that yourself... and the sooner the better.

Poole Wins Grand Champion Holstein At Kutztown

CONNIE LEINBACH
Berks Co. Correspondent

KUTZTOWN (Berks Co.) — It took 21 years, but David Poole finally got his grand champion recently at the Kutztown Fair Holstein Show.

Poole, Bernville R.D. 2, whose farm is called Fantasyland Holsteins, savored every minute of it as he watched Nell, a 3-year-old junior cow, gather several prizes. Nell also got best udder and was one of the best three.

Poole was particularly pleased that his cow won this show, because it is one of the most intensely competitive show in the county. Most of the top Holstein herds are represented.

Poole's grand champion has a tremendous dairy frame, noted judge John Howard of Lancaster County. "She's nearly perfect over the top line; wide all the way through from hooks to pins. She also carries that width through the rear.

"Her udder attachment is level on the udder floor and she's correct on her hind legs, viewed from the side and the rear," Howard said.

Besides her strong physical characteristics, Poole said the cow's personality is "awesome."

"She's a baby," he said with a smile.

"He's modest, but his is just an excellently managed herd," Lesher said.

Stacey Geist of Topton won the most honors of the night, including senior champion and grand champion. Several other of her cows won top honors.

Howard praised all the cows in the show, saying the quality was good.

"There are a lot of really close placings," he said.

This year, Lesher noted, the total number of animals, including sheep, steer and hogs at the fair is 749, up from last year's 690 animals.

Following is a list of show placings.

Local Livestock At The Big E

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — Alfred and Katherine Tyler of Weston Farm in Glen Arm, Md., have entered one of Eastern States Exposition's prestigious livestock shows held during The Big E here.

The Tylers have entered 11 Montadale sheep for show and competition in the Montadale Show, which will be held Sunday, September 19, at 9 a.m. in Agriculture Arena 1.

The 72nd edition of "New England's Great State Fair" will take place September 15-26 and is expected to draw one million visitors during this year's 12-day run.

More than 5,000 livestock entries from throughout New England, eastern Canada, and as far away as Ohio and Indiana will compete for ribbons and cash prizes. Livestock from more than 500 farms will be shown in continuous competition and in exhibitions, making The Big E one of the major livestock shows in the East. The Fair's 4-H/FFA Day is Saturday, September 18.

Top name entertainment, thrilling rides, sensational free shows, tasty treats and crafts to treasure add to the memory-making excitement and magic of The Big E. Visitors will discover everything from agriculture to zero gravity at the fair's educational and historic exhibits, including barn tours and the U.S. Space Camp® Expo.

The Big E is easy to reach: Via Rt. I-91 North, take Exit 3 and proceed on Rt. 5 North to Rt. 147 West, or from I-91 North Exit 3, take Rt. 57 West to Rt. 159 North to Rt. 147 East. Via I-91 South, take Exit 13B to Rt. 5 South to Rt. 147 West. Via the Massachusetts Turnpike, take Exit 4 and proceed South on Rt. 5 to Rt. 147 West.

General Admission (ages 14-59) is just $8; admission is $6 for seniors 60 and over and kids age 6 to 13. Tots 5 and under enter free.

Special discounted admission rates apply for entry after 5 p.m., for three-day passes, advance group tickets, and for the first two days of the fair.

Lilly Named Grand Champion Holstein

RONALD CLARK
Susquehanna Co. Correspondent

HARFORD (Susquehanna Co.) — Lantland Lancer Lilly, showed by Michele Pavelski, was named grand champion Holstein at the 4-H Dairy Show held here. Elizabeth Seman's Ayrshire Rose-More May was judged to be the grand champion of the colored breeds.

Pavelski and Semans are members of the North Jackson Ag 4-H Club.

With more than 125 entries, type judge Dale Olver, dairy science instructor at Penn State; Mike Engelbrecht, fitting judge from Sire Power; and Irene Osborne, showmanship judge from Telmark, kept the interest of the crowd as they explained the strength and weaknesses of the entries. Dave Quick announced the events, and County Extension Director Nick Place coordinated the show.

The judges were assisted by the Pennsylvania Ayrshire princess, Samantha Hillyard of Bradford County, and her dairy maid, Elizabeth Seman, Susquehanna County, as well as the Susquehanna County dairy princess, Jennie Ann Shamro. The Susquehanna County dairy maids were also prominent as they helped make awards, as were the dairy ambassadors.

Dairy maids Karen Hubbard, Amanda Hoover, Erica Seman not only helped in the awards, but were participants in showing their dairy animals, as were the ambassadors Mike Kowalewski and Luke Zebrowski.

Color Breed Winners At Kutztown Fair

KUTZTOWN (Berks Co.) — Ayrshire to Milking Shorthorns, all six breeds of dairy cattle had their 15 minutes of fame, parading on the tanbark before judge, Susan Kulp of Villanova, PA at the 122nd Kutztown Fair, in Berks County.

Dominating the Ayrshire Classes was Jed Vail of Myerstown, PA. He was busy sweeping up the rosettes for all three Junior, Senior, and Grand Champions and Reserve Champions. Brown Swiss winners were Randy Balthaser of Northkill Creek Farms with Grand Champion and Amy Richard of Oley had Reserve Grand Champion. Taking Grand Champion honors in the Guernsey breed with a tall and strong senior calf was Suzie Luckenbill of Cor-Phil Farms, Bernville, PA. Reserve Grand Champion Guernsey is owned by Amy Hollenbach of Bernville.

A tremendous Jersey show, culminated with the selection of Scott Youse of Oley, PA winning the Blue Rosette for Grand Champion and Reserve Grand Champion. Jamie Yost of Oley showed the only Milking Shorthorns and took both champion and reserve champion rosette honors.

DPI National Meeting Planned For October

OCEAN CITY, Md. — More than 600 poultry industry personnel from across the country and around the world are expected to attend the 1993 National Meeting on Poultry Health and Processing here on October 21 and 22.

This meeting is sponsored by Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc. (DPI), the trade association working for the continued progress of the Delmarva Peninsula's more than $1 billion-a-year poultry industry.

"An Industry at Risk" is the theme of this year's meeting according to its chairman, Dr. Mark A. Dekich, chairman of DPI's Poultry Health Committee. "There are many challenges that put the poultry industry at risk and we will examine them at the meeting," said Dekich. "Everybody in our industry was threatened by the avian influenza viruses in the live-bird markets early this year and that is why avian influenza will be the subject for the meeting's general session."

The general session will present an overview on avian influenza, a recap of Delmarva's experiences this year, an explanation of how the live-bird marketing system and live-poultry marketing system in the mid-Atlantic area operate, and the history and future of the H5N2 avian influenza virus. Live production, processing allied industry, and all other poultry industry personnel will find the general session of interest and importance.

After the general session on October 21, there will be concurrent live production and processing sessions. In the two-day live production sessions, topics are:

- Wild Birds as a Potential Disease Source for Commercial Poultry
- Infectious Coryza
- Pullorum Disease
- Mycoplasma in Caged Layers
- Mycoplasma Reagents
- National Poultry Improvement Plan Programs
- Marek's Disease Vaccine Efficacy & Testing
- International Perspective on Marek's Disease in Broiler Breeders, Layers, and Caged Layers
- New Developments in In Ovo Vaccination
- Bronchitis Update

The one-day processing session on Thursday, October 21 has topics designed to help processing plant managers and quality control personnel deliver higher quality products while improving their efficiencies. Topics are:

- Improving Plant Yield
- SPC/Computer Application and Feedback
- Ergonomics Update
- Effective Safety Management
- Food Safety Research Efforts of USDA's Agricultural Research Service
- Microbiological Quality of Counterflow Scalded and Reprocessed Broilers
- USDA's Pathogen Reduction Program; Status and Future Plans

Speakers are coming from 14 states and the District of Columbia. They were selected by DPIs Poultry Health Committee and Processing Committee.

For further information about the 28th National Meeting on Poultry Health and Processing, contact DPI at R.D. 6, Box 47, Georgetown, DE 19947-9622, (302) 856-9037.

Heisey Farm Service Hosts Applicators

MOUNT JOY (Lancaster Co.) — More than 70 guests attended a chicken barbecue hosted by John and Linda Heisey, owners of Heisey Farm Service, recently. The event was held at the couple's home located north of Mount Joy.

Invited were self-applicators of anhydrous ammonia, which supplies nitrogen to high producing corn all season long, by way of preplant, sidedress, and manure sparging.

Also invited were employees of Heisey Farm Service and custom silo fillers who help to apply Cold-Flo™ silage treatment. This service is giving farmers lower feed cost, extended bunk life, increased production, and many other benefits.

Huntingdon County Open Show Announces Results

Representing the best of Huntingdon County and Open Show Holsteins is My-Favorite Vanguard Kandi. Owned by Rich and Naomi Speer of Speerette Farm in Blairs Mills, Kandi placed seventh at the State Spring Show in Harrisburg.

John Foster Jr. and wife Alice, far left, of Globe Run Farm earned premier exhibitor and premier breeder awards at the Huntingdon County Open Show held August 17.

HUNTINGDON (Huntingdon Co.) — When the spring calf classes entered the ring to start the 1992 Huntingdon County Open Class Show, two type judges stepped forward to eye the animals in a double-ring show under one roof.

At one end of the large pavilion, Dale Olver, Penn State's Dairy Judging Team coach, placed the Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, and Jersey breeds while at the other end Neal Bowen of Wellsboro placed the Holsteins and Milking Shorthorns.

By mid-afternoon, My Favorite Vanguard Kandi became Judge Bowen's favorite Holistein and walked out of the ring with grand champion honors.

Bowen, a retired Tioga County Holstein breeder, liked Kandi's balance, deepness of the flank, and width of the rear udder. According to owners Naomi and Rich Speer of Blairs Mills, Kandi lived up to her seventh place standing at the State Spring Show in Harrisburg. She was sired by Relay Arise SWD Vanguard.

"We breed for type and production and select for percent protein," said Naomi Speer.

The Speers milk 65 registered Holsteins with a herd average of 23,000 pounds. Grand champion Kandi is an excellent 90 and has an estimated index of 22,526 pounds of milk, 967 fat, and 739 protein. Another Speer cow in the same family is an Excellent 91.

Judge Bowen chose Globe-Run CB Topgun Oslo, a junior 3-year-old as reserve grand champion. Owned by Lory Ann Baker, she was sired by Globe-Run Warden Topgun.

Judge Bowen said it was a very good quality show. He said he always likes coming to the Huntingdon County Fair because of its nice facilities.

Earlier in the Holstein show, Danielle J. Mummah earned junior champion with Mu-Ke Lincoln Millie, a winter calf sired by Hanoverhill Lincoln-ET. John Andrew Foster III won reserve junior champion with Globe-Run Lindy Bubbles, sired by Townson Valiant Lindy-ET. When selecting junior champion for the Open Show for Huntingdon County participants, Foster's cow won junior champion and Jim and Kim Grove won reserve junior Champion with their fall yearling Autumn-View A-Star, sired by Madawaska Aerostar.

The Guernsey Show saw Sniders Homestead Farm taking both grand champion and reserve grand champion. Sniders Telestar Heaven took top honors (sired by Maurana Wis Telestar) while Sniders Laredo Delite (sired by Renwind Fayette Laredo) won the reserve position. Reserve junior champion also went to Snider Homestead Farm with their winter calf, but not before Misty Meadows Farm was selected as junior champion with Liseter Farm Frans Sussie, sired by Spring Walk B.T. Frank.

Jersey grand champion top honors went to J. Craig & Susan E. Wicker who showed Four Springs Silver Spots, sired by Mills Silver-ET. Kendy Gable took reserve grand champion with her senior 3-year-old Snider's Sooners Sweetie, sired by Soldierboy Boomer Sooner OF CTF. During the junior show, Wickers' summer yearling won junior champion. Four Springs Admiral Amber was sired by Bridon Master Admiral-ET, and Jennifer Kellerman won reserve junior champion with Four Springs Admiral Abbey sired by the same.

Horizon Farm took grand champion of the Milking Shorthorn class with Three Springs Ashley. Reserve grand champion went to Mark A. Goshorn and his junior 2-year-old Summit Vista Roscoe Ian Twin, sired by Summit Vista Roscoe. At the junior show, Horizon Farm won both junior champion and reserve junior champoin with winter calf Horizon Royal Shelly - EXP and Horizon Sun Brook - EXP, respectively.

Premier breeder and premier exhibitor awards went to the Foster family at Globe-Run Farm.

Safe - Efficient - Durable
Look at what makes the Mahoning Outdoor Furnace a great purchase...

CLEAN. All dirt, dust, fuel and fire is outside No chance of chimney fire or flue fire ELIMINATES AIR POLLUTION IN THE HOME. Smoke, fuel odors and other causes of allergies are outside the home
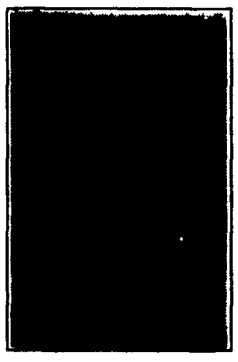
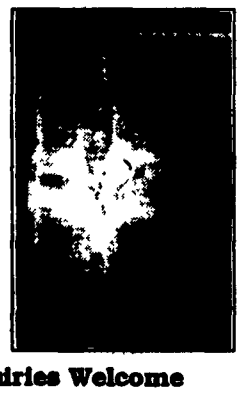
SAFE FOR MOBILE HOMES. Eliminates danger that other furnaces contained in a mobile home can cause.
NO DANGER OF EXPLOSION. This is a zero pressure furnace
ENCLOSED COMPONENTS. The circulation pumps and electrical connections are enclosed in an insulated cabinet on the back of the Mahoning Outdoor Furnace.
ADAPTABLE. Install our furnace in any forced air heating or hot water system

★ The only outdoor furnace made with a Catalytic Combustor. ★

Mahoning Catalytic Combustor Will Help In The Following Ways:
1. Burn one cord of wood which equals 166 gallons of oil.
2. Your fuel source becomes enormous inexhaustable and poses few risks to public safety.
3. Over all efficiency of 85%, which means the heat no longer goes up the chimney!
4. You get more heat from a log compared to the non-cat. furnace.
5. More burn time - less reloading time!
6. Zap 90% of pollutants, made from fire source.
7. Saves you a lot of money!
8. User friendly, emits no smoke!

All Mahoning Units Come Installed with Grates Including An External Shaker Handle





All Mahoning Multi-Fuels Can Burn Coal, Wood, Oil, Propane, Natural Gas

Proudly Built in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania

DEPENDABILITY?

Moving when the grain and weather conditions are fit: that is what CASE IH's Axial Flow Combines do. They are built tough to last– many are running over 4,000 hours. How long will an axial flow last? We don't know yet.

RELIABILITY?

Compared to conventional or other style rotary combines, the Axial Flow puts more premium quality grain in the tank and leaves less grain in the field. Why else do most all the growers of food quality corn own axial flow's?

A GOOD DEALER?

C.B. Hoober & Son, Inc. have specialized in Axial Flow combine service since their introduction in 1977 (5) Hoober servicemen work on combines year-round. Where else can you get that support?

AirDiesel

It can eliminate 40% of all your engine maintenance problems.

A Deutz AirDiesel is a true no-nonsense engine. There are no troublesome components such as hoses, fans and radiators associated with liquid-cooled engines. A Deutz is cooled by air and is engineered to save you up to 20% in fuel over other diesels. Over one million AirDiesels from 5 to 500 HP are working in all fields of application throughout the world.

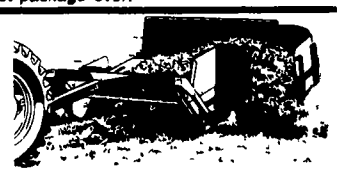
NH 144 Windrow Inverter



LEFTOVER - SPECIAL PRICE!

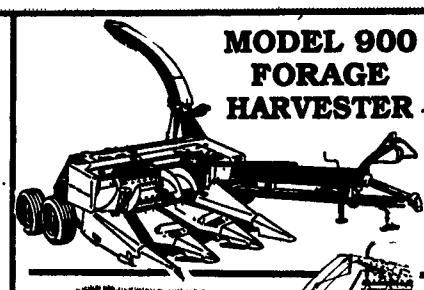
FOB New Holland

The New Holland Model 144 windrow inverter can save your hay crop by turning it over to dry, without losing valuable leaves. Get your hay out of the field sooner, before it rains. Or, if it's been rained on, dry it quickly and gently. Make your hay more valuable with the "144".

MODEL 900 FORAGE HARVESTER



TAKE CONTROL OF YOUR HARVEST

The Model 900 forage harvester puts you in control of your harvest:

- Rugged 21-inch, 12-knife cutterhead for a uniform chop.
- Exclusive flip-up feedrolls provide convenient access to the shearbar and smooth roll scraper.
- Electromagnetic clutches provide instant response in controlling feedroll and attachment drives.
- Optional Metalert® II metal detector protects cutterhead and your valuable animals.

Stop in and let us show you how the Model 900 puts you in control.

HIGH PERFORMANCE LOW HASSLES

The high performance of the Model 790 forage harvester starts with the massive 12-knife cutterhead. It delivers a fine, uniform chop for high quality feed The "790" is built tough to keep chopping season after season And routine maintenance is easy to keep hassles to a minimum. Stop in and see for yourself.

RAIN OR SHINE

The New Holland Model 166 windrow inverter speeds drying time as it gently lifts, fluffs and turns windrows without roughing-up the hay. And keeping more of the protein-rich leaves intact means you'll get high-quality hay into the bale or silo fast!

The Model 166 features.

- 65-inch Super-Sweep™ pickup
- Adjustable pickup wind-guard and discharge chute
- East-to-lift overcenter handle
- Optional hydraulic drive
- Optional hydraulic pickup lift

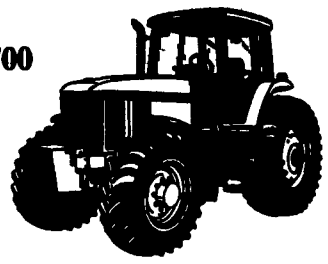
LEASE THE MOST ADVANCED 125 HP TRACTOR EVER BUILT

Model 7700 MFWD Loaded With Options



Each tractor component is designed to deliver greater individual performance and productivity than ever before. So when you put all of this engineering expertise together in one machine...you have a tractor no one else can match.

 60 Month Lease Payment $1,197
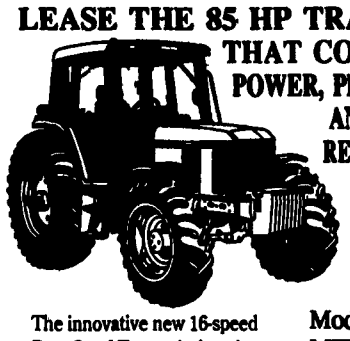
10% Purchase Option

LEASE THE 85 HP TRACTOR THAT COMBINES POWER, PERFORMANCE AND RELIABILITY



The innovative new 16-speed PowrQuad Transmission gives you powershift performance to deliver the right speed choice for any operation.

Shift on-the-go into one of four synchronized ranges. Then powershift up or down as conditions require.

The smooth, clutchless shifting within each range lets you reach specific speeds quickly to achieve a higher work output.

Model 6400 MFWD With Power Quad Transmission & Comfort Gard Cab
 60 Month Lease Payment $765
10% Purchase Option

LEASE THE 66 HP TRACTOR DESIGNED TO BE THE MOST PRODUCTIVE IN THIS HORSEPOWER CLASS

The new modular frame design reduces stress on the engine and powertrain because the frame carries the load. The result is a stronger, lighter tractor with a better weight distribution and a higher payload capacity than conventional tractors. Plus, the "soft" rubber engine mountings dampen vibration and noise.

- Model 6200 2WD w/Comfort Gard Cab
   60 Month Lease Payment $590
  10% Purchase Option
- Model 6200 MFWD Open Station

Get outstanding soil relief — up to 2 feet deep — with a 915 V-Ripper

IN STOCK:
915 5 Shank V-Ripper With Spring Reset Standards

What makes our bales ideal for your operation? Start with the pickup. It reduces chafing because the low profile minimizes hay lift. It's mounted close to the ground so you gain good ground gauging and clean crop retrieval, too. A large feed opening lets you work in a variety of crops and field conditions. At the same time it's tolerant to crop moisture, large bunches of hay, or foreign objects in the windrow.

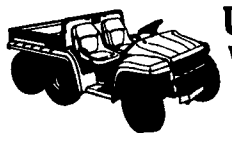
NEW GATOR™ 6X4 UTILITY VEHICLE



STOP IN AND ASK FOR A TEST DRIVE!

There have always been two types of utility vehicles: those gentle enough to operate on-turf, and those with the brawn and muscle to perform in off-road situations. Until now, that is. John Deere introduces the Gator 6x4 and 4x2, two utility vehicles at home off the road or on the turf. And the best at performing in either environment.

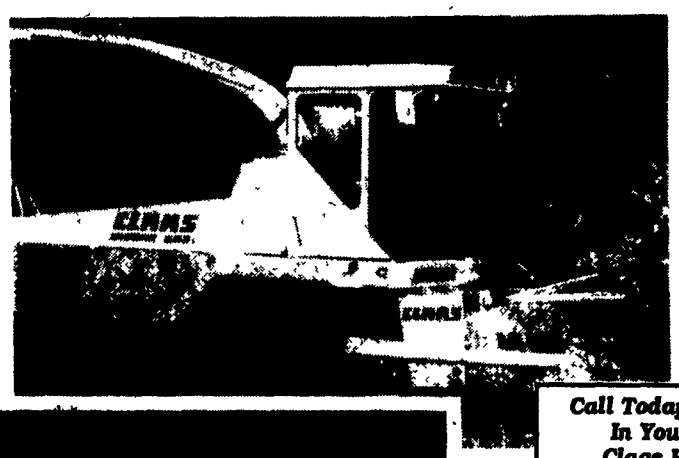
THE CLAAS HARVESTER



MAXIMUM FEED QUALITY

To ensure maximum feed quality from maize it is vital to crack every kernel. Digestion of uncracked maize falls as the maize becomes drier. Independent trials have shown the Claas corn cracker to be close to 100% effective. From the cylinder the corn passes through the two large diameter rollers with saw tooth profiles. The rollers run at different speeds to intensify the grinding effect and open up each kernel. It is a fairly tough process so the latest generation of corn crackers take account of the wear involved on the rollers. Nothing can reduce the wear but Claas have cut the cost of repair by making the outer sleeve replaceable. The shaft, drive pulley and bearings can all be reused which cuts down repair bills dramatically. Adjusting the distance between the two rollers is accomplished by turning two handles, easily accessible behind the cab. In no time at all the degree of cracking can be matched to the ripeness of the crop.

RELIABILITY

The CLAAS Cutterbox is a unique balanced design using 2 knives in a V configuration. This forces the cutting action toward the center instead of the outside. This is the secret of their horsepower requirement and good quality of cut.

WHY SHOULD YOU BUY A NEW MF 399?

12 GOOD REASONS COME RIGHT TO HAND.

The new 12x12 Side Shift transmission puts the shift lever where it belongs — to the right of your seat.

Plus the shuttle lever is on the steering column so you can change directions with your left hand while operating loader controls with your right hand.

The 12x12 Side Shift synchronized shuttle transmission gives you 12 great reasons to come in and test drive a 70-95 hp* MF 390, MF 390T or MF 399 tractor today.

 Manufacturer's rated PTO horsepower.*

If Your Silo Needs New Life...

Try Our Poly Silo Liners

-THE ADVANTAGE OF A POLY LINER-

- Spoilage is reduced around doors.
- Feed is exposed to less oxygen - better fermentation.
- Allows storage of high moisture grains or dry grains in a conventional silo.
- Delays repair or replacement of corroded silos.
- Prevents corrosive acids from contacting silo wall - extends silo life.
- Quick installation.
- Effectively seals silos from air and weather.

The Liners Are Manufactured To Fit Most Standard Diameter Silos.

"IT IS TIME TO ONCE AGAIN GET SERIOUS ABOUT STORING YOUR VALUABLE FEEDS!!!"

The recent "innovations" and temporary methods of storing your grains and forages are just not protecting your feeds like they should, nor are they really efficient.

Research and practical experience has shown that "the tower silo has never been equalled in its ability to protect your forage quality." And remember... "on most dairy farms, forage quality is the single most important factor affecting profit."

Contact us soon to be sure you get on our schedule to have your poured concrete tower silo constructed in time for your corn silage harvest...

No used silos!
No rebuilt silos!
No pre-owned silos!

JEFF & SHIRLEY BURDETTE

Mount Airy, MD

Back - Joe Stowers, Farm Consultant
H.C. Summers, Inc., Jefferson, MD

Jeff and Shirley Burdette along with their daughters Ashley and Brandi, operate Ash-N-Bear dairy near Mt. Airy in Frederick County Maryland. The Burdettes grow corn and alfalfa to provide quality forages for the dairy herd and replacements. In addition soybeans are raised as a cash crop. Everyone is involved in the daily chores at Ash-N-Bear dairy.

Corn silage, alfalfa hay and haylage are combined with Test Cow B22 FF checkers in their TMR ration. Cows producing in excess of 60 pounds of milk are fed Maxi Tech 24 checkers as a topdress. The herds present rolling herd average is 17,984m, 3.58% 643f, 3.17% 571p.

In December 1992, Jeff and Shirley decided to try Purina feeds from H.C. Summers in Jefferson Maryland, since then the results have been very profitable. Feed costs per hundredweight of milk shipped to the dairy has decreased while production is increasing. Body condition of the herd has also improved along with higher peak milk production during the first critical weeks after calving.

H.C. Summers Inc. and Purina Mills wish to thank the Burdette family for their continued patronage and we look forward to the future together.
